Preface

The first version of this book was published in 1898 by Theodore A. Bingham, then a Colonel in the Quartermaster Corps, later brevetted Brigadier General and reactivated during WW I, who stated in his preface that "a few notes regarding his immediate family" had come into his possession some fifteen years earlier, and that he had "endeavored to straighten them out and fill up the gaps". We are still doing this. Publication brought in a mass of further data, and General Theodore, or TAB as later researchers have referred to him, conducted additional investigations. A much expanded manuscript was published during the years 1927 to 1930 by the Bingham Association, a family organization founded for that express purpose.

The Bingham Association began its life with a grand dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City on February 12, 1925. Its first officers were: U.S. Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, President (1.1.9.10.7a.6.2.); General Theodore A. Bingham of New York, Vice-President (1.11b.1a.1a.10.4.1.); Judge Robert W. Bingham of Louisville, Kentucky, Vice-President®99, ®426: 69; F.F. Bingham of Pensacola, Florida, Vice-President (1.1.9.9a.6.8b.5.); Walter Bingham of Ogden, Utah, Vice-President (1.2.8a.1b.1.7a.2b.3.); Professor Eugene C. Bingham of Easton, Pennsylvania, Secretary (1.1.9.9a.3.2a.3a.2.); Frederick C. Bingham of New York City, Treasurer (1.1.9.9a.3.2a.4.4.); and Dr. Anne Bingham of New York City, Recorder (1.2.9.5b.2a.2.1.3.).

The principal goal of the Association was achieved with the gradual sale of the generous printing, and its activity became attenuated over the years. My father, Arthur W. Bingham Jr., was the faithful Treasurer and last surviving officer at his death in 1967. For years thereafter, the Association maintained a custodial role, preserving information offered by interested family members, but remaining always on the lookout for a qualified genealogist who would make it possible to produce a new edition worthy of the effort that had gone before.

In 1977, Donna Bingham Munger, an historian by profession, came forward to meet the considerable challenge presented by such a project. In working out her own line of descent from Deacon Thomas, our first American ancestor, she became interested in pulling together, verifying, perfecting, and adding to the information that which had become available from various additional sources. Originally from Seattle, Donna lived for twenty-seven years in Hershey, Pennsylvania where she was associated with the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission and the Pennsylvania Department of Education. She has authored over thirty books, pamphlets and papers and has been the recipient of a number of prestigious awards and other honors in her profession. She is also the founder of a private genealogical research and consultation service, but her work on the book in your hands has been simply out of love of family.

This book is the result of twenty years of research by Donna Munger. It was completed three years after moving to Hobart, Tasmania, where she has remained closely in touch with the known world by fax and internet communications. She is the general author, compiler, and editor. My own role has been limited to reconstituting the Bingham Association and arranging for publication and distribution. Much of Donna's efforts have been directed towards validating vital records data, correcting, updating and rewriting information. A good deal of her supporting material has come from probate, land, tax, and other records, as the many cited sources reveal. Her computer skills and the use of modern research technology have been important. She has taken a fresh approach and given us completely rewritten biographical sketches. There has been no attempt to identify in print the many errors in the previous edition, but their correction serves to explain the differences one may find in making a comparison.

Donna and I made a basic decision early on in determining the scope of this volume. While the last edition was entitled The Bingham Family in the United States, it was in truth devoted chiefly to the descendants of Thomas Bingham of Connecticut. We believed that it was not practical to undertake a study in one volume of all persons in the United States with the surname Bingham. There are other family organizations today that are devoted to branches of the Irish line, for example, and they have issued their own excellent genealogies. We have therefore limited this book to the direct descendants of Thomas, and have used a title that is intended to convey that limitation. In keeping with most genealogies that run to as many generations, only the male line is followed, although all known children of each person named Bingham are given with the exception, due to space limitations, of certain descendants of Erastus Bingham and Lucinda Gates.

Donna has used a tightly disciplined approach, restricting herself to the provable facts without yielding to speculation or imaginative embellishment. In the essay that follows, on family origins, the points are clearly indicated where a theory is supported only by legend or tradition. I take the responsibility for including such points with the thought that it is better to place in perspective any information, however dubious, where it has gained sufficient currency.

In publishing, our underlying objective has always been to insure that the information we have about the descendants of Thomas Bingham will never be lost. Family associations typically experience periods of activity at the time they publish and then lapse when that effort is expended. It seems that genealogy may be overshadowed in the general public at the moment by competing interests and activities. The returns from a mass mailing about this book, to eight thousand persons with the name Bingham, barely covered our mailing expenses and left nothing for the cost of the books subscribed by family members at a bargain price. The discount, however, was not intended to increase revenue but to widen distribution among those who will hopefully retain these pages for a long time to come. The Association will also distribute this book without charge to a significant number of genealogical societies, historical societies, libraries and other institutions. This has been made possible financially by the small surplus that was left from the publication of the last edition in 1930, which has remained invested since that date.

Several other Bingham researchers have contributed to this volume and they are cited by initials placed immediately after the name of the person researched. A master list of contributors will be found just ahead of the final index. Donna emphasizes that much work remains to be done on the Bingham family and expresses the hope that others will be stimulated to join in it. Those willing to share their information are encouraged to send it to the Association, which will endeavor to preserve and disseminate their heritage to succeeding generations of descendants of Thomas Bingham.

Introduction

Origins of the Bingham Family

The Bingham family has multiple origins in England. They are well documented and show exactly where theory and speculation have parted from the printed source. Although considerable research can still be done, the material presented below puts into perspective some of the bits of information that may have reached the reader.

Thomas Bingham of Connecticut descends from a family that lived in North Nottingham and South Yorkshire, England. Despite exhaustive research, his English ancestry has thus far been documented backwards for only two generations. Parish registers show that his father, Thomas Bingham, was baptized 4 August 1588 at the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul in Sheffield, Yorkshire, and that his grandfather, Thomas Bingham, born about 1555, married Maria Longley 26 January 1577/8 at the same church. Thomas, himself, was baptized there 5 June 1642. The record does not go further back.

The name Bingham comes from a place name. Some believe that a clan or family named Byng migrated to England from what is now the region of Germany called Swabia. A town still exists on the Rhine named Bingen, meaning "where the Bings live". In England, the name was originally spelled, Byng, but was later changed to Bing. A town named Bingham, still exists eleven miles east of Nottingham.

A quiet town, Bingham was once the market center of Bingham Hundred. Under the Danelaw in northern England, a hundred was an administrative unit of a shire called a wapentac (wapentake). The Saxon King, Alfred, extended this organization to southern England. Composed of villages called manors, each wapentac or hundred had its own local court.

After the Norman conquest, the Domesday Survey of 1086 recognized Bingham Hundred as a feudal holding within the shire or county of Nottingham. According to Thoroton, the great Nottingham historian, William the Conqueror granted most of Nottingham, perhaps as many as forty-six manors, to Roger de Busli. A great Norman lord who ranked eighth after the King, de Busli may also have held as many as forty-nine manors in Yorkshire where he lived in the Castle of Tickhill, and other manors in Leicestershire and elsewhere.

Roger de Busli was dead by 1098 and the overlordship of Bingham Hundred and its various manors passed to other families. By 1200, no single individual controlled the entire hundred. Within another generation or two, the heirs of the feudal retainers that de Busli had placed in Bingham Hundred had died out or were dispossessed and ownership reverted to the King. The family name Bingham may have remained with certain natives of Bingham Hundred, however, as the practice was common to take surnames from the land one acquired or where one lived.

In 1266, Henry III granted the Manor of Bingham to Raph (Radulphus) Bugge, an entirely different family than de Busli. He was the son of Radulphus Bugge de Nottingham, a wealthy wool stapler or wool dealer. Raph Bugge began to call himself Sir Raph Bugge de Bingham.

Raph Bugge de Bingham's son, Richard de Bingham, was knighted. Sir Richard married Alicia Bertram and had three sons, William, Richard, and Thomas. William inherited the Town of Bingham or Bingham Manor and other surrounding lands which he passed about 1345 to his son, Sir Richard de Bingham. This Richard had a son named William, but the son died before his father and Bingham passed to his four year old grandson, Robert. Robert died young and his mother, Isabella, married Sir Thomas de Rempston. The lands descended to Sir Thomas' son, also named Thomas Rempston. The younger Thomas Rempston left three female heirs to Bingham Manor and his other lands. One was Margaret, wife of Richard Bingham, but they had no children. Another was Isabel who married Sir Brian Stapleton of Carleton and in whose hands Bingham Manor was vested, thus passing out of the hands of a family with the name Bingham for the second and final time about 1511.

By the sixteenth century, there were a good many Binghams living in Nottinghamshire. As estates were inherited by the eldest son in each generation, younger sons turned to skilled crafts. Apprenticeship became the norm as much as villeinage had been during feudal times. Queen Elizabeth's Statute of Artificers set up a uniform national pattern under which no one could set up as a master or workman without 'seven years' apprenticeship. Many Binghams followed this pattern and drifted away from the family center becoming harder to trace.

There are records of Binghams who had moved south from Nottinghamshire and lived in London, Surrey, Rutland, Essex and other counties. A Bingham of London was a haberdasher who married the daughter of the goldsmith to Henry VIII (1509-1549). He and other Binghams have their pedigrees in the Visitations of Heralds and the same armorial bearings as the Bugge - Binghams of 1266, but they cannot be connected to the family by the precise step-by-step linkage that a genealogist needs to prove descent.

The crests of the Nottinghamshire Binghams rendered in this section all have the description Or, on a fesse gules, three water bougets. The bougets represent yokes for carrying water buckets and are said to indicate that members of the family went to the Holy Land on one or another of the crusades. Burke's Nobility and Gentry of England mentions several families of Binghams and gives their crests and the motto SPES MEA CHRISTUS. However, there appears to be no heraldic right established for the Connecticut Binghams to assume either.

At one time, a Bingham family held the Manor of Sutton in Somerset and the Manor of Melcombe in Dorset. Although some have claimed that Roger de Busli also held these two manors and thus was the progenitor of the Bingham name associated with them, others such as Rose E. McCalmont in her book Memoirs of the Binghams , Spottisforde & Co. 1915, argue cogently against the de Busli ownership.

The earliest connection of a Bingham with Sutton, that has actually been proved, dates from the reign of Henry III (1216-1272) when William de Bingham married Cecelia, daughter of Geoffrey de Mandeville, Lord of Hardington and Coker. Upon the marriage, William received Sutton Manor as a gift from from Geoffrey and, at that time, Edward the III confirmed the land to John de Bingham, cousin and heir of William. Sutton Manor then passed through several generations of de Binghams until it came into the ownership of female heirs and hence out of the family.

In the meanwhile, William's younger brother, Robert de Bingham acquired the Manor of Melcombe in Dorset upon his marriage with Lucy Turberville, daughter of Sir Richard Turberville. Thomas Hardy used this name in his classic story, Tess of the D'Urbervilles, in which we also find a Parson Tringham, said to refer to the Reverend Charles William Bingham.

The Melcombe Binghams have armorial bearings entirely different from those of Nottingham Binghams. The Melcombe line has been traced for almost eight centuries and is still extant today. It has given rise to the Irish Binghams and it has been well chronicled by McCalmont in the volume cited above. The ancient manor house of Melcombe Bingham still stands in Dorset, although only a small portion of it remains from Tudor days.

By the late 1550s, three de Bingham brothers of the Melcombe Bingham line served governorships in Ireland under Elizabeth I. The notorious and bloodthirsty Sir Richard, one of the extraordinary men of his time, was the third son and eldest of the three in military service. He became Governor of Connaught. Sir George, the fourth son, was Governor of Sligo, and Sir John, the sixth son, was Governor of Castlebar, County Mayo. Sir George's line gave rise to the Irish Earls of Lucan and Sir John's line to the Irish Baron's Clanmorris. In 1854 during the Crimean War, Charles George Bingham, the 3rd Earl of Lucan, sent out the Light Brigade in its famous charge, upon the imperfect orders of his commander, Lord Raglan.

Other descendants of the three brothers produced Irish families of their own and some of their progeny eventually migrated to North America. James Barry Bingham has documented such a family in his thorough 1980 study, Descendants of James Bingham of County Down, Northern Ireland as did Josef A. Jackson in John and Margaret Bingham's Family, of County Antrim, Northern Ireland, 1983.

User's Guide

Plan of this book

Deacon Thomas Bingham, our first American ancestor, is the subject of Generation One. Each succeeding generation is given a separate chapter. The eleven children of Deacon Thomas are the subject of Generation Two. The third generation, the grandchildren of Deacon Thomas, are reported in Generation Three, and so on.

System for Numbering Descendants

Each person named in this book is identified by a series of digits that are separated by decimal points. The first digit stands for Deacon Thomas and thus all numbers begin with 1. For every generation, another decimal point is added at the end of the number. The value of the digit following the decimal indicates the order of birth of that person within that generation. Thus 1.9. refers to Samuel, a member of the second generation, who was the ninth child of Thomas. The number 1.9b.5. refers to Deborah, a member of the third generation, who was the fifth child of the second wife of the ninth child of Thomas.

For quick reference, a parenthesis has been added after the name in the heading of the entry for each person, giving the first name of the ancestors of that person in reverse order. Thus 1.1.6.5. Benjamin BINGHAM (Jabez, Thomas, Thomas) was the fifth child of Jabez, who was the sixth child of Thomas, who was the first child of Deacon Thomas.

References

Unless a reference is cited, all undocumented data comes from The Bingham Family in the United States ®1.

Index

The index lists every Bingham, the spouse of every Bingham, and the children of every Bingham. Each name is followed by that person's identification number. The number of decimal places will indicate the generation of an individual. The generation has a chapter numbered for it where you should begin to look for the series of identification numbers of the individual you seek.

Spelling

The spelling of individual names and some place names follows that which was used at the time and has not been modernized. Many parents were intentionally creative in name giving and the user will find a variety of spellings for particular names.

Abbreviations

Standard postal abbreviations have been used for all states and provinces. Dates follow a common computer format and months have been left abbreviated. Other recurring terms such as County are abbreviated throughout and the period not used intentionally.

Dates

Dates before 1752 usually have been changed to reflect the current calendar. For instance, a date falling between January and March and recorded with two years, such as Feb 1712/13, has been changed to read simply Feb 1713.

Children

Name, birth dates, and birth places of children are cited with the parent's entry. If a child died age 16 and under, then the name has a strikeout. If no additional information is known about a child, then in most cases the name/birth date entry is followed by ®NAI.

Children of male Binghams are carried forward to the next generation where they have their own entry.

Uniformity of Entry

Despite a rigorous effort for uniformity of entry, space considerations took precedence at times and decisions had to be made. Thus, wherever it is possible for users to find children of female Binghams in other widely available sources, such as Ancestral File, the names of the children, and in some cases the names of the spouses, have not been given.

Typographical and Factual Errors

Since neither eye sight nor spell check are perfect, typographical and factual errors in the text may be found. User's are welcome to report such errors to the Bingham Association.

GENERATION ONE

1. Thomas BINGHAM of CONNECTICUT
   Born: 5 Jun 1642 Sheffield, Yorkshire, England®417

Thomas Bingham, progenitor of his line of the Bingham family in North America, was born in Sheffield, Yorkshire, England in 1642 and migrated to CT Colony between 1652 and 1659 with his mother, Anne Fenton Bingham. Thus, he was between the ages of ten and seventeen when he became the first male of his Bingham line to settle in North America. Many suppositions, traditions, and fictional accounts have been printed about Thomas, the reason for his and his mother's migration, and his life as a colonist, but none will be repeated herein.®1; ®427 Only the documented facts will be presented.

Thomas's father, Thomas Sr., was a cutler (knife maker) in Sheffield, Yorkshire, England.®420: 2: 96 According to the Cutler's Company third set of ordinances, his own mark, a capital TB written with a common staff to form a merged letter, had been assigned to him by the time he was twenty-six years old in 1614.®420: 2: 93 Baptized 3 Aug 1588 in the Cathedral Church of St. Peter and St. Paul, Sheffield, Thomas Sr. married Elizabeth Woodhouse in the same church 2 May 1618. They had a son, Thomas, in 1619, but the child died in 1621.®417 Thomas Sr. was included again in the list of cutlers prepared in 1624 when the company incorporated, and he was a master cutler, but at no time was he a Master Cutler or president of the company.®420: 2: 96 Thomas Sr.'s wife, Elizabeth, died April 1631 without bearing additional children.

Thomas Sr. married for a second time 6 July 1631, Anne Fenton.®417 In many earlier publications, Anne's maiden name was erroneously given as Stenton. Confusion came from the lack of familiarity with old English writing in which a capital F was made by writing two lower case fs. Thus "ff" should have been read "F" not "St." Evidence independently corroborated by two Bingham researchers strongly suggests that Anne was the oldest daughter of Robert Fenton and Alice Hancock Fenton.®RCB; ®FC The will of Alice Fenton, made on the 23rd of March 1642/43 and probated in September 1644/45 names her eldest daughter, Anne, as wife of Thomas Bingham.®419: Sep 1644-45, LDS film no. 099, 540; ®RCB In regard to the Fenton family, Robert Fenton married Elizabeth Bray on the 30th July 1576 at the Church of St. Peter and St. Paul, Sheffield, and they had six children. Their fourth child, Robert, was christened on the 21st March 1583/84. He married Alice Hancock on the 23rd September 1605 at the same church. Four children have been traced to Robert and Alice, all were christened at the same church. There is a three year gap between the marriage of Robert and Alice and the christening of their oldest child. With Anne being named in the will as Alice's oldest daughter, she was in all probability born in 1606. Although Anne's christening has not been found in the Register of St. Peter and St. Paul, Sheffield, Alice could have returned to the home of her parents to have her first born child, which was a common practice. A search covering the Registers of some twenty neighboring parishes has so far failed to find the baptism entry.®FC

Thomas was the youngest son in a family of eight children; five boys, Abel, Stephen, Edward, Robert and Thomas and three girls, Elizabeth, Ann, and Mary. All children were baptized at St. Peter and St. Paul in Sheffield between 1632 and 1648/49. Mary, the youngest, was baptized after her father was buried.®417

Data indicates, however, that by 1652, Anne Fenton Bingham was a widow with one ten year old son to care for. Each of her three daughters had died by the age of three, the youngest, Mary, was buried 16 June 1651.®417 Son Edward died when he was seven.®417 Abel and Robert moved to Birmingham, England where they had families and later died.®423; ®RCB Stephen may be the Stephen who married Sara Brag in 1652 at Worksop, Nottinghamshire a short distance from Sheffield.®211; ®FC Finally, Anne's husband, Thomas Sr., was buried in Sheffield 12 Feb 1648/49.®417

Based upon this evidence, we know that Thomas and his mother did not leave Sheffield, England before June 1651 when his sister, Mary, was buried. We also know that Thomas and his mother had arrived in CT colony and lived in Saybrook by 1659 for in that year Thomas was assigned a house lot in the new settlement of Norwich, although the list of original proprietors was reconstructed and recorded in 1692, thirty-three years after the fact.®422: 138 Further, Caulkin's relates that Mrs. Anne Bingham married William Backus Sr. before removing to Norwich in 1660 and that they brought her son, Thomas Bingham, to Norwich with them along with William Backus's three daughters and two sons.®11: 158

William Backus (Backhouse in England), Anne Fenton Bingham's second husband was also a cutler from Sheffield, Yorkshire, England.®33 He completed his apprenticeship in 1627 and his name likewise appeared on the list of cutlers prepared at the time of and shortly after the company incorporation in 1624.®420: 2: 96, 116 His mark was a W directly over a B. His wife had died and was buried in Sheffield 19 Feb 1643/4.®417 Left a widower with two sons and three daughters, he migrated to CT Colony and settled in Saybrook. The town then adjoined New London, but Lyme, East Lyme, and Waterford later developed in between. Although town records for Saybrook before 1660 do not exist, a few items of earlier date were entered between subsequent entries. One such entry for a Saybrook town meeting of 1648 recorded William Backus Sr.'s presence among twelve men assigned land across the CT River in the area that later became Lyme.®424 There is no other reference to him in the town records, but his son, William Backus Jr. signed as a witness to a Saybrook will 11 Sep 1659. ®19: Probate Records: 2: 132

Saybrook residents applied for and received from the Connecticut General Court in 1659 approval to establish a new town twenty-five miles up the Thames River. Named Norwich, historians generally accept that the town was settled in the spring of 1660, but the first division lots were not laid out until April 1661 and it was more than thirty years later before a list of original proprietors was reconstructed. At that time, William Backus Sr. and William Backus Jr. were listed among the original proprietors and Thomas Bingham was listed with those having original home lots and all the privileges of first proprietors.®11: 62

William Backus Sr. died shortly thereafter. Although his date of death is unknown, his will was dated 12 June 1661 and he signed it with his mark of a W directly over a B.®425: 1646-1666: 143-4 He provided for both his "loving unto me" and "careful of me" wife, Anne Bingham Backus, and Thomas Bingham as well as his children by his first wife. His home lot in Norwich was never recorded in his name, but rather in the name of his son, Stephen Backus. Furthermore, William Backus Sr.'s name never appeared in records, again, and in 1662 William Backus Jr. was recorded simply as William Backus. The Sr. William Backus inventory, recorded 7 Jun 1664, included cutlers tools and ivory.®19: Probate Records: 3: 175-6

Thomas Bingham lived in Norwich for a little over thirty years. His four acre house lot was located between West Town Street on the north, the Yantic River on the south, Thomas Waterman on the east and John Post on the west.®1 At the most, his land was worth 25 shillings per acre, the value placed on land for the entire colony. Usually one quarter of a person's land was assessed at 20 shillings per acre and the rest at 10 shillings per acre.®19: 1665-1677: 294 In the course of his time in Norwich, Thomas acquired other lands amounting to more than 256 acres.®422: 138 (recorded 1692)

Five years after the first division lots were laid out, Thomas married Mary Rudd 12 Dec 1666.®2: II He was twenty-four years old; she was seventeen. Mary probably was the daughter of Jonathan Rudd and Mary Metcalf, the celebrated "bride of Bride Brook.". In a deed recorded in Norwich, Thomas named Nathaniel Rudd as his brother and in a deed recorded in Saybrook, Nathaniel Rudd named Jonathan Rudd as his father.®11: 164-65 Four years later, in May 1670, Anne Fenton Bingham Backus died.®2: I: 8 With whom she had lived after William Backus Sr's. death is unknown, but he had provided for her in his will, the more so if she lived with his son, Stephen Backus.

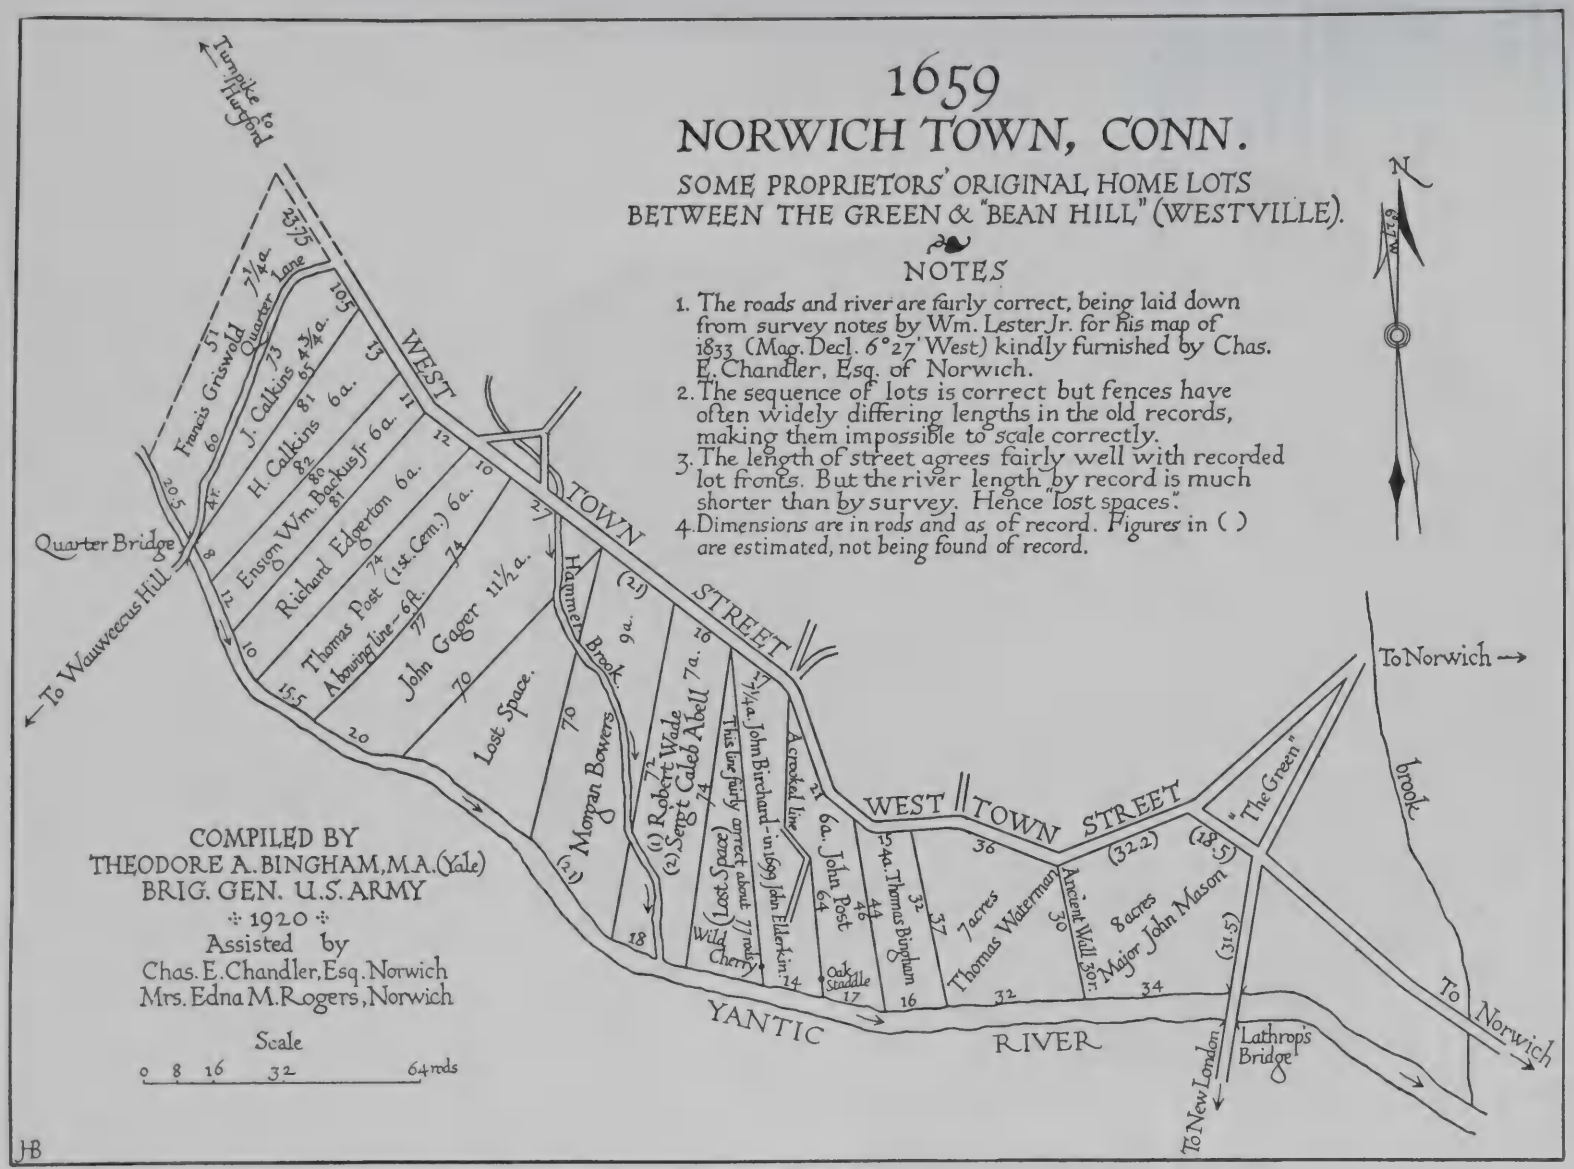
In 1671, age almost thirty, Thomas had sufficient worth to be made a freeman of Norwich entitling him to full voting and office-holding privileges.®33: 1665-1678: 154 His first position was that of townsman or overseer of the west end in 1676 and in 1683 he served a term as constable. Nothing else about his life in Norwich survives documented except his restatement as freeman in 1681.®11: 83, 84, 86 (from Norwich Town Records)

After thirty-three years in Norwich, Thomas Bingham moved his family to the newly forming town of Windham CT. Located fifteen miles north, northwest of Norwich, Windham was destined to become the business center of CT. Willed to a group of Norwich settlers by Joshua, son of Uncas the Mohican chief, the CT General Court upheld the will in 1678. Meeting periodically thereafter, the Norwich legatees decided to settle the area in 1685. They divided the tract into three sections and in 1686 laid out forty-eight shares of 1,000 acres each as follows: Southeast quarter or Hither Place (Windham), fifteen lots; Pond Place (Mansfield), 21 lots; Willimantic, 12 lots. Each lot consisted of a house lot, and lots of meadow, pasture and woodland, but none of the original legatees took up their lots. They were prohibited from doing so by colonial politics until after 1689. About twelve actual settlers then materialized to buy the shares and form a town. They broke land and held their first town meeting in 1692. Ten more families arrived during the winter of 1692-93. Thomas Bingham was among them. The second oldest man in town, he purchased an allotment as a legate 22 Mar 1693. Located next to Capt. John Mason's house lot in the southeast quarter, he paid £14 in current provisions for the lot. The provisions were used to defray the town charges to the Corn Mill and when they were paid in full, 20 April 1693, and a deed drawn, Thomas had legal assurance of his right to all the divisions that went with his house lot.®421: Old: 5; D: 25; I: 27

Thomas Bingham's house lot of about thirty-three acres was located on the west side of the south end of Windham Street and at the corner where the road branched to Norwich or to Scotland and he had nineteen acres of pasture across the road to the east. Town meeting records show that he added three acres to his house lot in 1695 and seven acres to his pasture in 1696.®421

The permanent home he built faced south down a valley. About 100 yards in front of the house, the ground dropped abruptly 30 or 40 feet to a plentiful spring of water that gave rise to a little brook. The cellar was about seven feet deep and walled with heavy flat stone masonry. It had a pit or sub-cellar about 8 feet by 6 feet by 6 feet deep and the chimney foundation had a closet with a large wooden door. Over two hundred years later, Charles Larrabee owned the house lot and the Thomas Bingham cellar sat under a portion of Larrabee's house.®1: I: 174

As a senior member of Windham, Thomas was active in town affairs. His first job, 1693, was to be on the committee that negotiated with Samuel Whiting who became the first minister in Windham. In 1695, Thomas was chosen one of the Selectmen of Windham, in 1696 he took inventory of the estate of Jonathan Fowler, and in 1697 he refused to be an overseer of the estate of John Cates, Windham's first settler. Thomas's main efforts were spent in church organization. He was one of three to petition the General Court in 1699 for church organization and when it was granted in 1700 he was chosen to be one of three deacons, an office and title he held until he died. At the seating of the new meeting house 19 Apr 1703, by reason of his age and office, Deacon Thomas occupied the most honorable position - the seat at the right hand of this wife in the pew.®421



THE FIRST SETTLEMENT OF BINGHAMS IN AMERICA

When he moved to Windham, Thomas's family consisted of all his children but his married son Thomas, and his married daughter, Mary. Son Thomas remained on the family farm in Norwich, but Mary and husband John Backus, son of William Backus Jr., settled in Windham. Son Abel may or may not have moved to Windham as he married the year after the move and lived in Stratford, Fairfield Co for several years before removing to Windham. Children Jonathan, Ann, Abigail, Nathaniel, Deborah, Samuel, Joseph, and Stephen accompanied their parents, Thomas Bingham and Mary Rudd. Abigail returned to Norwich after she married, Nathaniel and Samuel settled in what was to become the Scotland section of Windham, Ann eventually settled in Lebanon with her husband, and Stephen moved to Lebanon and on to Andover. Joseph was left to inherit the Windham property.

Approaching eighty years of age in 1718, Thomas deeded to Joseph all his Windham property in return for a £400 bond guaranteeing that Joseph would care for his parents in their home the rest of their lives. Since marrying, Joseph and his family had lived with his parents. Mary lived another eight years and died in 1726 age seventy-seven. Thomas lived twelve more years and died age eighty-seven in Jan 1730.

As there was no need, Thomas left no will, but by law, his estate was inventoried and the results recorded in the Windham probate records.®9: I: 356 The most significant item remaining in his estate was an £84.14.0 debt due from Josiah Kingsley (1.1.5.) and Jabez Bingham (1.1.6.). Son Jonathan, administrator of the estate, distributed a total of £96.19.08 among the living heirs.®9: I; 442-3

Thomas and Mary were buried in Windham Center.®67 A head stone for Thomas, not paid for from his estate, was erected. On the stone, Thomas's mother was given the first name, Mary, instead of Anne. The stone, however, is notable for a more important reason. Carved by skilled craftsman, Obadiah Wheeler, authorities of gravestone carvings single the stone out as one his most beautiful for its spatial perfection, simplicity, and symmetry of design.®339: 85 & Plate 8 Thomas's stone depicts the customary angel face with well carved wings emanating from each side of the head. The face has fully rounded eyes, an aquiline nose, and a thin, small, sad curved mouth.

In 1859, Norwich CT held a Jubilee to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the founding of the town. Speeches delived at the time were printed in a volume and copies were deposited in most Connecticut libraries. The volume contained the facsimilie of the signature of Thomas Bingham written, apparently, in 1696. We have used a copy of that signature on our cover.

Called Sergeant Thomas, Thomas was the oldest child of Thomas Bingham and Mary Rudd. He was the only child who remained in Norwich when his father moved to Windham 1692-3. A year earlier, 1691, Thomas had married Hannah Backus. She was a younger sister of John Backus who was to marry Thomas's sister, Mary. Thomas inherited the right to some of his father's property in Norwich and he assumed the privileges of his father as a Norwich proprietor. Upon Thomas's death, the Norwich property passed to his oldest son, Thomas (1.1.1.), as recited in Norwich deeds.®6: Original Book of Grants:138-41, 337

Thomas died age forty-two. As Thomas's widow, Hannah refused to administer his estate on 8 July 1712 when inventory was filed, brother Stephen was administrator. Thomas's will was filed 26 Sept 1713; distribution of personal and real property valued at £1401 was to wife and children.

Thomas's early death compared to his siblings has caused much speculation. This genealogy, however, shows a pattern of early male death in selected heirs of Thomas. Cause of death was invariably heart disease, or more specifically, endocarditis. Evidence points in favor of a genetically transmitted rheumatic fever ending in early heart attack for those who survived childhood.®BLMMD

Thomas's wife, Hannah Backus, was the daughter of William Backus, Jr. and Elizabeth Pratt and granddaughter of William Backus, Sr. by his first wife Sarah Charles (second wife was Ann Fenton Bingham, Thomas's grandmother). After Thomas's death, Hannah married, second, on 4 March 1711/12, Daniel Tracy, son of Lt. Thomas Tracy, 1st of Norwich. They had two children: Elizabeth born 10 Feb 1713, died 16 Apr 1715, and Samuel born 12 Mar 1715.®2: I: 32 Daniel Tracy fell from a bridge and died 29 June 1728 age seventy-six.®4 Hannah married, third, Samuel Griswold, 18 Nov 1729. He was the son of Francis Griswold. Samuel had been married first to Susannah Huntington, daughter of Christopher Huntington. Francis, son of Samuel and Susannah, married Abigail Bingham, daughter of Thomas's brother, Abel, as his second wife. Hannah and Samuel had no known children. Samuel died 2 Dec 1740, age seventy-six. Hannah lived to 25 Feb 1752, age seventy-seven.®4

Abel did not move to Windham with his family in 1693, but instead went to Stratford, Fairfield Co CT and married Elizabeth Odell in the spring of 1694. Abel and Elizabeth lived in Stratford, erroneously called Stratfield under Abel's entry in the Windham vital records, where their first six children were born and where Elizabeth's parents, John and Mary Odell, lived.

About 1707, Abel purchased a farm in Windham on the east side of Memeaguage/Maumegauge Hill and the family left Stratford.®10:21 May 1707 Windham formally admitted Abel an inhabitant at its meeting 12 Jan 1708. Abel served terms as Windham selectman and held other town offices and was elected one of the two delegates to the General Court in 1721, 1723 and 1724.®07: 1717-25, 233, 366, 439, 483 The family belonged to Windham First Church. When the Rev. Thomas Clapp became minister in 1726, Abel was chosen one of four deacons.®8: 105

When Abel died, his will included his predeceased wife, Elizabeth, but since Rev. Thomas Clapp, then president of Yale College and one of Abel's original witnesses authenticated the will, the court recorded and executed it as written. Son Abel acted as sole executor and received the greatest portion of the estate. To his daughters in their lifetime, Abel allotted £30. He must have kept careful financial records for he knew exactly how much was due each of them upon his death.®9 The property was distributed as follows: (1) to son John, 16 acres of the family farm closest to the west side of John's property except the barn, yard and appurtenances so long as the barn would last without new building; (2) to son Abel, 16 acres of the family farm adjacent to and south of the portion left to John and all the rest of the farm including house and barn on condition that he maintain his mother, Elizabeth; (3) to son Jonathan, five shillings, since he had always lived with, labored for, and been advanced by his uncle Jonathan, Abel's brother; (4) to son David, twenty pounds, since Abel had already given him the trade of tanner and shoemaker; (5) to daughter Abigail, wife of Francis Griswold, nineteen pounds fourteen shillings since he had already given her ten pounds six shillings; (6) to daughter Mary, wife of John Abbe, nothing, since she had received her portion in full before her death in 1722; (7) to daughter Elizabeth, wife of Samuel Cogswell, four pounds fourteen shillings since she earlier had received twenty-five pounds six shillings; (8) to daughter Ann, wife of Thomas Baldwin, two pounds two shillings since she had received twenty-seven pounds eighteen shillings already; (9) to daughter Jemima, wife of Ebenezer Jennings, twenty-seven pounds ten shillings, she having received already two pounds ten shillings; and (11) to wife Elizabeth, all money, goods and chattels after debts were paid, also one half of the rest of the farm, dwelling house and barn.

Mary Bingham and John Backus were married in Norwich just before her father, Thomas, and family moved to Windham. Mary was almost twenty and John was thirty. He was an older brother of Hannah Backus who had married Mary's oldest brother, Thomas. John's father was Lt. William Backus Jr. and his grandfather was William Backus Sr., the second husband of Mary's grandmother Ann Fenton Bingham. Mary and John also moved to Windham in 1693 when her father did. Shortly before his marriage to Mary, John received a 1,000 acre right in Windham from his father, Lt. William Backus Jr. This included lot No.14 along the road northwest to Willimantic where he built his home. Thus, John was one of the first twenty-two accepted inhabitants of Windham.

Mary and John Backus's female children married quite well. The oldest, Mary, married Joshua Ripley Jr. who for a time was proprietor of the iron works in Willimantic. The second daughter, Lydia, married Col. Thomas Dyer, the 1st of Windham, and became the mother of Col. Eliphalet Dyer. Both Dyers were prominent in Connecticut politics and the Susquehanna Company. After Lydia died, Col. Thomas Dyer married, third, Lydia's first cousin, Sarah, daughter of Nathaniel. Third daughter, Abigail, married Elijah Hurlbut; fourth daughter, Jerusha, married Daniel Stoughton; and fifth daughter, Zerviah, married Hezekiah Lord of Preston.®12: 61

Mary Backus died in 1747, age seventy-five, three years after her husband John who was eighty-two when he died.

After growing up in Norwich, Jonathan moved with his family to Windham in 1693. When he was 23 years old he married Ann Huntington. Ann's sister, Ruth, and Ruth's husband, Ralph Wheelock, were the parents of Eleazer Wheelock and Sarah Wheelock. Sarah Wheelock married Joseph Bingham (1.10.5.).

Jonathan's father gave him a house southeast across the street from his own and deeded him the land on which the house stood four years later®10 : B-177 His father also gave Jonathan a spring lot west of Jonathan's house and near the head of the spring. The deeds show that Jonathan actively acquired other land and may have owned everything on the south side of the road between his home lot and the river to the west.

Jonathan and Ann Huntington had no children, but they "adopted" Jonathan's nephew, Jonathan, son of brother Abel. In return for help on the farm, Jonathan willed nephew, Jonathan, the 150 acres in Windham upon which he already lived.

Windham voted Jonathan an inhabitant on 14 March 1709. Records show that on 2 Aug 1714 the court appointed him guardian of Esther Smith, daughter of Elisha Smith, and that in 1715 he and Ralph Wheelock, guardians for the Smith children, petitioned the Connecticut General Assembly to accept the conveyance of some of the Smith land to Jonathan so that he might pay off the mortgage.®7: 1706-16: 527; 1717-1725: 52 Between 1715 and 1719, Jonathan was also involved in the selection of a new burying ground for Windham. A committee on which he served chose a site which became the old part of the present cemetery. Several bodies from the first cemetery were moved to the newer one. Records also show that Jonathan, along with John Fitch, was chosen to represent Windham in the Connecticut General Assembly on 12 Oct 1727.

In 1745, when sixty-one years old, Jonathan recorded his will and sold his homestead and a large piece of land to his nephew, Jabez Bingham (1.1.6.), son of his deceased brother, Thomas. Jonathan, however, did not die until 28 Feb 1751. He distributed his property as follows: (1) to wife Ann, one quarter of his personal estate, and the rents from the homestead sold to Jabez and twelve cord of wood due annually from Thomas Brown and Hezekiah Follet; (2) to nephew Jonathan, all land on which he then lived, about 150 acres; (3) to the First Church in Windham for building a meeting house, sixty pounds; for a meeting house bell, forty pounds; and ten pounds in bills of credit; (4) to nephew John Tracy, son of deceased sister Deborah, fifty pounds; (5) to friend Ebenezer Wales, fifty pounds on a bond of a larger sum against him; (6) to brother Samuel, all that was anyway between them except one two year old steer which shall go to Samuel's son, Jonathan; (7) to sister Mary, widow of John Backus, one hundred pounds, but if she were deceased, and she had died in 1747, the money was to be divided equally among Mary's living children, but not any of the grandchildren; (8) to the children of deceased sister Ann, one hundred pounds equally divided; (9) to children of deceased sister Abigail, one hundred pounds to be divided equally; (10) to children of sister Deborah, one hundred pounds to be equally divided; (11) to brothers Nathaniel, Samuel, Joseph, Stephen, and the children of deceased brothers, Thomas and Abel, all the rest of the estate to be divided into six equal parts and; (12) everything given to remain in wife Ann's possession and not distributed until after her death. Executors were wife Ann, brother Stephen, and friend Ebenezer Wales.

Ann survived Jonathan by five and a half years. She died 20 Aug 1756. In her will, she gave fifty Spanish milled dollars or an equivalent, to Reverend Eleazer Wheelock for the education of Indian youth or in propagating religion and learning among them, besides numerous other legacies to relatives. Wheelock used the bequest for Moor's Indian Charity School which later formed the nucleus of the funds to establish Dartmouth College.

Ann was born in Norwich in 1677 and moved with her mother and father to Windham in 1693. When she was almost twenty-two, she married Hezekiah Mason. His father, Major General Daniel Mason, led the troops that subdued the Pequot Indian Tribe. Ann and Hezekiah lived in Windham until 1705/1707 when they moved to Lebanon CT where their fifth child, a daughter, was born.

Ann died before 1725 when her widowered husband, Hezekiah, married Sarah Robinson. Hezekiah died the next year and presumably left the minor Mason-Bingham children, Daniel, Jonathan, Lydia, and Abigail to be raised by Sarah Robinson.

She died at age fifty-five in 1734 when her youngest child was fifteen. Her husband, Daniel Huntington, married,second, within the year, Rachel Walcott, as her first marriage. Daniel and Rachel had two more children, Benjamin, and Henry Huntington. Henry later lived at Rome, NY and was president of the Utica bank. Daniel died before 1742 leaving Rachel with two small sons. Rachel soon married Joseph Bingham (1.10.), the brother of husband Daniel's first wife, Abigail, each for a second time.

Nathaniel was about twelve years old when his father, Thomas, moved the family from Norwich to Windham. Twelve years later, Nathaniel married Sarah Lobdell. They lived in Lebanon CT for a few years where their first child, Sarah, was born. By 1709, Nathaniel and family lived in Windham where their second child, Isaac, was born. Two years later, Nathaniel's father, Thomas, gave him an 81 acre farm on the east side of Merrick's Brook. The surrounding area was to be set off for Windham's third church in 1732.

In 1731, Nathaniel and son, Isaac, were among the petitioners for the separate church. Nathaniel took an active role in forming the new church and securing its first minister, Ebenezer Devotion. Called the Scotland Church, eighty-nine members transferred from Windham's First Church when it was officially organized in the fall of 1735. On 19 Nov 1735, Nathaniel was chosen one of the first deacons. He was active in church affairs and in 1740 he and several other prominent members built their own pew at the west end of the pulpit next to the stairs. Nathaniel was also involved in major church controversy over the right of churches to ordain their own ministers and the right of laymen to preach. He served as a committee member to select a minister for the Plainfield CT separate church.®8: 454 Nathaniel died age seventy-three. His inventory valued his property at £132.09.06. Samuel was about six years old when his father, Thomas, moved the family from Norwich to Windham. He was almost twenty-two years old when he married Faith Ripley. She was a grand-daughter of Gov. William Bradford of Plymouth Colony through her mother, Hannah Bradford, hence all descendants of Samuel and Faith are eligible for the Mayflower Society. When Samuel was twenty-six in 1711, his father, Thomas, gave him a farm on Merrick's Brook in the area which the Windham third, or Scotland Church was to encompass. Many sons of Windham's first proprietors settled there. Samuel's brother, Nathaniel, also received land in the same area from their father at the same time.

Samuel and Faith had three girls and two boys, but Faith died the day after her third daughter was born. This daughter, Marah, lived only six years.

Nine months after Faith died, Samuel married, second, Elizabeth Manning. Their first child died two weeks after birth, but they had seven more children and six lived to adulthood.

Samuel served his town in various capacities. He was assessor and, for several years, he was constable. He was also Lieutenant and Captain of the 2nd company, Train Band, hence the abbreviation Capt. on his gravestone.®19: 8: 32

Samuel was a member of the separatist Windham Third Society called the Scotland Church. In 1753, he and several from other churches signed a memorial to the Connecticut General Assembly stating opposition to the law that required taxpayers to contribute to the support of the minister of the regular church despite membership in a separatist church.

Samuel died age seventy-four. His gravestone in the Scotland cemetery is an unusual representation of the work done by the Loomis family carvers.®15: 48: (No. 4, 1983): 147.

Died: 4 Sep 1765 Windham CT; Bur: Windham CT®67; Will: 1768 Windham Co Pbt Crt®3: No. 381

Joseph was only five years old when his father, Thomas, moved the family from Norwich to Windham. At the age of twenty-two he married Abigail Scott of Hatfield MA and she came to live with Joseph in his parents' home where they remained until his parents died. In 1718, when Joseph was thirty and his father, Thomas, seventy-six, his father deeded him all that was left of his homestead in return for a bond of £400.

Joseph and Abigail were members of Windham's First Church when Rev. Thomas Clapp began to keep records in 1726. Joseph was also a member of the committee to receive £53 sterling, or half the price of the settlement when Clapp left Windham First Church in 1740 to become president of Yale College.®8: 285.

After thirty years of marriage, Abigail died 30 Mar 1741. The following year Joseph married, second, Rachel Walcott Huntington, widow of Daniel Huntington, the late husband of Joseph's deceased sister, Abigail (1.6.), and father of her children. Thus, it might be said that Joseph became the step-father of his nieces and nephews. Of course, both Joseph's and Abigail's children were grown by the time this marriage occurred.

Joseph died age seventy-seven. The inscription on his gravestone says that he "fell asleep in Jesus." Joseph's will distributed his property as follows: (1) to wife Rachel, all the furniture she brought with her, the use of the remainder of the furniture, the west half of the house, half of the cellar under the east end of the house, free passage back and forth, carting and laying in wood on the land adjoining the house, one good cow, and use of well, garden, orchard; Elijah, to provide for Rachel as long as she remained a widow; (2) to son Gideon, five shillings; (3) to son Joseph, the west end of the home lot, reserving the improvement of same to son Elijah during wife Rachel's widowhood, all meadow on Beaver Brook and the five acre lot on the old plain; (4) to son Elijah, the use and improvement of all lands on Memeaguage/Maumegauge that belonged to deceased brother Jonathan, during wife Rachel's widowhood; (5) to daughters Lydia and Abigail, all the lands on Memeaguage/Maumegauge to be equally divided after Rachel remarried; (6) to son Elijah, all the rest of the estate. Thus, Elijah inherited Thomas 1.'s Windham home lot and he was executor of Joseph's will. By 1774, after Rachel married Thomas Welch, Elijah had sold the Windham land he was responsible for and moved to Lempster, NH.

Stephen was three years old when his father, Thomas, moved the family from Norwich to Windham. He was twenty-two when he married Mary Kingsbery, but they were married less than two years when she died. Stephen married, second, Rebecca Bishop of Lebanon and they had a long life together. They lived in Windham until after 1726 where the births of two children were recorded and Stephen and Rebecca were members of Windham First Church in 1726.®16

On 23 July 1728, Rebecca's father, Thomas Bishop, deeded land in Lebanon CT to Stephen. In the ensuing years Stephen purchased more land in Lebanon and apparently lived there until at least 1748 when he deeded land to his son Eleazar.®14: 4: 105, 110, 145, 206, 488; 6: 27, 205; 7: 162

Stephen and Rebecca transferred membership from Windham First Church to Lebanon First Church 16 Nov 1735.®7: No. 29: 15 However, they must have attended church in Lebanon before that for in 1732 Stephen signed a memorial from several men of Lebanon to the Connecticut General Assembly requesting that more roads be built to make it easier to get to church.®7: 7: 376.

About 1748, Stephen and Rebecca moved to the northeast part of Hebron, Tolland Co in the area that had become the ecclesiastical society of Andover in 1747 and, later, Andover Town. Mar (1): 5 May 1713 Hannah EDGERTON (Richard EDGERTON, Elizabeth SCUDDER) Norwich ®2: I: 76; Died: Oct 1721-Jan 1724
Mar (2): 23 Apr 1724 Sarah HUNTINGTON (Christopher HUNTINGTON, Sarah ADGATE) Windham®2: I: 76; Born: 5 Jan 1700

Thomas was a 17 year old minor when his father, Thomas, died in 1710. Young Thomas chose Nathaniel Rudd for his guardian and the court made the appointment final 8 July 1712. When Thomas came of age in 1713, his father's will was probated and in March 1715 the deeds transferring the Norwich land to Thomas were recorded. Thomas inherited all of his father's land except a thirteen shilling right to about 9 acres which went to his brother Jabez.®6: I: 38-41, 337

According to the extant records, Thomas took an active role in family, town, and church activities. Being the oldest brother of a fatherless family, Thomas was only twenty-three when he administered his deceased brother, Jeremiah's, estate. He reported the distribution among the siblings on 10 April 1716.®3: New London Pbt Crt: No. 553 In 1718, Thomas submitted a bill of one pound eight pence to the town of Norwich for bounty on snake tails and for drumming. And in 1725, when the Connecticut General Assembly chartered the Norwich Train Band, Thomas became ensign of the 2nd company.

Along with brother Jabez, Thomas inherited what remained of their grandfather Thomas's land in Norwich.®6: 8: 185. In 1732, Thomas bought Jabez's portion from him.®6: 6: 425 Then, in 1735, Thomas became the beneficiary of all lands which might come to his mother, then Hannah Griswold, from her father, William Backus Jr.®6: 7: 236

Thomas had children by two wives. He and Hannah Edgerton had four children and he and Sarah Huntington had four children. The birth dates of Sarah's first three children were recorded in Norwich, but the birth of the youngest, Hezekiah, was not recorded there, nor has it been found. However, Hezekiah's baptism, along with sister Tryphena's, was recorded in the Franklin Church records in the adjoining township.

Several Norwich deeds recited land transactions for Thomas. In 1732 he bought two parcels of land, a 50 acre farm and a 55 acre tract from Richard Edgerton, wife Hannah's father.®6: 6: 423. In 1733 he sold the same land to Gideon Dunham.®6: 6: 543 Several other land transactions for Thomas were recorded through 1744, but after that all land records for him cease and his activities are unknown.

We know that Thomas lived within the Franklin Church area of the town of Norwich in 1735 where the baptisms of daughter Tryphena, 12 Oct 1735, and youngest child and son Hezekiah, 7 Aug 1737, occurred. On 11 Mar 1739, Thomas and Sarah officially transferred church membership from Norwich First Church to Franklin Church.®7 : No. 19: Franklin: 16 Marriages recorded for two of Thomas' children, Sarah, 1748, and Tryphena, 1757, document their residence in Norwich, but we do not have death dates and places for either Thomas or Sarah.

Jeremiah was fifteen years old when his father, Thomas, died in 1710. Since Jeremiah was a minor, the law required that a guardian be appointed for him. Accordingly, when his father's estate was distributed in 1713, the New London Probate Court recorded on 14 July the appointment of Thomas Leffingwell as his guardian.®3: No. 553 Jeremiah, however, lived to be only twenty-one years old. He died, unmarried, and his older brother, Thomas, administered his estate and presented the inventory on 22 Feb 1716.

Born in Norwich, Hannah was the first daughter and third child of Thomas Bingham and Hannah Backus. By the time she was fourteen there were five younger children in the family for her to help take care of and the day after her fourteenth birthday her father, Thomas, died. When Hannah was sixteen, her mother remarried and had two more children.

At the age of twenty-one, Hannah married Joseph Reynolds, also twenty-one. Hannah and Joseph lived in Norwich where their seven children were born. Joseph died age sixty, but a death date for Hannah has not been documented.

Mary grew up in Norwich and was twelve years old in 1710 when her father died. In 1712, when Mary was fourteen, her mother married Daniel Tracy. When her father's will was probated in 1713, Mary was still a minor and by law in need of a guardian, thus she chose her uncle, Jonathan.®3: No. 554

When Mary was twenty years old, she married John Bishop, almost thirteen years her senior. John had been admitted an inhabitant of Norwich in 1710.®11: 258 Mary and John lived in Norwich and had three children. The youngest and only boy died at one month of age and Mary died one month later 17 Nov 1724. Dorothy was the fifth child of Thomas and Hannah Backus Bingham and was ten years old in 1710 when her father, Thomas, died. In 1713, when her father's will was probated, Dorothy was still a minor. Consequently she was in need of a guardian and chose her uncle Abel.®3: 554 On 10 Dec 1718, at age eighteen, Dorothy married Josiah Kingsley of Norwich and Hartford CT.

Died: 30 Aug 1785 Salisbury, Litchfield Co. CT®5: 11; Will: 1786 Salisbury, Sharon Pbt Crt®3: No. 313

Jabez was only eight years old when his father, Thomas, died. His mother married, second, Daniel Tracy when Jabez was ten and the family continued to live in Norwich. Jabez was still a minor in 1713 when his father's will was probated so the court appointed his uncle, Able, guardian.®3: No. 554

When Jabez was nineteen he married Bethiah Wood. They lived in Norwich for several years where the births of their first eight children, 1722-1737, were recorded. However, Jabez and Bethiah belonged to Windham First Church until 11 Mar 1740 when they joined the First Church in Lebanon. They had begun attending church in Lebanon before 1739 and on 25 Nov 1739 their ninth child, Benajah, was baptized in Lebanon. The next two children were also baptized at the Lebanon First Church in 1742 and 1744, but on 28 Nov 1746 Jabez and Bethiah returned to Windham First Church.®7: No. 29, Lebanon: 18, 103, 108, 112; ®16 Martha was born in Windham.

Jabez had lived in Windham since at least 1745 for on 10 Jan that year he bought his uncle Jonathan's (1.4.) homestead of 126 acres located where the main road in Windham branched to South Windham or to Scotland. He also bought a 12 1/2 acre tract on the east side of the road to Memeaguage/Maumegauge. Later in 1745, Jabez bought about 25 acres in Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT.®17: B1: 29 Litchfield Co had been opened to settlement in 1738 when the first lots were sold at auction in Hartford.®18: a Jabez's Salisbury tract may have been the lot upon which sons Jabez, Jr. and Daniel settled about 1749. Jabez sold his remaining property in Lebanon to his daughter, Bethiah, and son-in-law, Jonathan Peck, on 24 May 1753.®14: 8-317 On 24 Dec 1760, Jabez sold his Windham property to Joshua Elderkin and moved to Salisbury.®10: N-12 Joshua Elderkin later sold the house and part of the land to Eliphalet Dyer whose mother was Lydia Backus, daughter of Jabez's aunt Mary Bingham Backus (1.3).®10: N-13

Several of Jabez and Bethia's children went with them to Salisbury. Bethiah lived in Salisbury for nine years before she died; Jabez lived there for twenty-five years before he died. In his will he named his daughter-in-law, Hannah Dow Bingham, wife of deceased son, Jedediah, executrix. His will claimed that he had distributed his property among his children and four grandchildren, the children of Jedidiah and Hannah, before he died.

Joseph was only ten months old when his father, Thomas, died in 1710. His uncle Jonathan (1.4.) was appointed his guardian in 1713 when Joseph's father's will was probated. But his mother, Hannah, had married, second, Daniel Tracy, who became the only father Joseph would have known.

At age twenty-two, Joseph married Ruth Post. They were admitted to the Second Church in Norwich, also called the Franklin Church 4 Jan 1736. Their children Mary, Eunice, Joseph, Stephen, and Esther were also baptized in the Franklin Church.®7: No. 19, Franklin: 15, 52, 54, 55, 56, 58, 61 The family lived in the Franklin section of Norwich for over twenty years.

Joseph fought in the French and Indian War in 1758 as a 2nd Lt, 8th company, 2nd regiment under Capt. John Durkee and Col. Nathan Whiting and in 1759 as 1st Lieutenant, 3rd company, 4th regiment under Major John Durkee.

When Joseph left military service, he moved his family to Charlemont, then Hampshire Co MA, with the first party of settlers.®176: 289 This may have been as early as 1760 or as late as 1764. Children Lucretia, Jeremiah, and Calvin moved to Charlemont, with their parents. Esther and husband, and Lois and husband either went with Joseph and Ruth or joined them later.

About 1773, the two youngest sons, Jeremiah and Calvin, went to Bennington VT where they purchased a partially cleared farm which had an unfinished house..®139: 28 Dec 1855 They soon brought their parents to live with them. Joseph and Jeremiah joined the First Church in Bennington 3 May 1776. Jeremiah and Calvin were voted freemen 10 Sep 1778 and as of 21 Jan 1779 Joseph was a freeman in Bennington.®20: I: 85-6 At the annual town meeting 31 March 1779, the freemen voted to pay Joseph Wilkins £4.04 for keeping Joseph Bingham's wife in 1770 (sic?).

When Joseph was a young man he was described as being six feet two inches tall, not fleshy, with a keen penetrating eye, an indomitable will, and uncommon muscular strength. He was a church member and deacon for many years, his conversation abounded in moral and religious instruction and he was a man of prayer. Thus it was that recovering from a broken hip at age sixty-eight, Joseph had his son Calvin carry him to town and from there called the older men, women, and children to the church and led them in prayer during the Battle of Bennington, Saturday 16 Aug 1777. Joseph's hip healed and he lived for ten more years.

John was seven years old when his father moved the family from Stratford to Windham. He lived in Windham until 1733-1736 when he moved his family to Norwich. This John probably claimed a reward for three rattlesnake tails in Norwich May 1736.®40 John, Mary and family lived in Norwich for about ten years. In 1746, John bought land in the Ellington division of Windsor CT.

John died age forty-seven and letters of administration were granted to son, Ithamar, then twenty-three years old. Ithamar was also appointed guardian of his youngest brother, John, then ten years old. On 8 Oct 1753, Ithamar's sisters, Mary and Lucy, deeded to him their interest in their father's estate.®21: 9: 247

Abel Jr. was three years old when his family moved from Stratford to Windham. He lived in Windham the rest of his life and inherited most of his father's farm in 1745. Abel's first wife, Abigail Moulton, was probably a younger sister of Mary Moulton, wife of Abel's older brother, John. Abel and Abigail had seven living daughters before their first son was born. Abigail died when her youngest living child was nine years old.

Abel married, second, widow Betty Sprague Phelps. After her first husband, Aaron Phelps, died, Eleazar Bingham (1.11b.1.), Abel Jr.'s first cousin, bought his farm in Andover. Eleazar's first wife, Miriam Phelps, was Aaron's sister. The farm was still owned by family descendants in 1927.

Betty's sister, Irena Sprague, married Nathaniel Wright of Coventry CT and had two children Asher and Mercy. Mercy married Maltiah Bingham (1.2.8b.2.), son of Abel Jr's brother, Jonathan. (1.2.8.)

Abel died age sixty-four and letters of administration were granted to his wife, Betty, and son, Abel III.®9: 133, 136 When Betty died, she left her feather bed to Abel III, called son-in-law instead of step-son.®3: No. 361

At the age of twenty-four, Ann married Thomas Baldwin. They lived in Norwich and had eight children whose births were recorded in Norwich vital records.

Jemima was born in Windham after her parents moved from Stratford CT. She was not quite eighteen when she married Ebenezer G(J)ennings as his second wife. Three of their children were baptized in Windham's First Church and on 29 Sept 1731 Jemima was admitted to full membership.®16 She died five years later when only twenty-seven years old. Her gravestone proclaims that she was a "Worthy Vertuos and ingenious Gentel Woman."

Jemima and Ebenezer's daughter, Jemima, married James Flint, a merchant of Windham. Chloe Flint, their eldest daughter, was called the "belle of Windham." A son, Abel Flint, was a popular and eloquent minister in Hartford CT.

Jonathan had two older brothers to work and to inherit the family farm, thus, his father sent him to live with his childless uncle, Jonathan (1.4.) and Ann Huntington Bingham. There, Jonathan was known as Jonathan, Jr. He, later, established his own house on a 150 acre tract owned by his uncle and inherited that tract for "Love and affection."when his uncle died in 1746.®10: H-532 By then, Jonathan had six children of his own.

Jonathan married Mary Abbe when both were twenty-one years old. Mary was one of thirteen children of Ebenezer Abbe and Mary Allen and also had grown up in Windham. Jonathan and Mary had one child before Mary died twelve days later.

Nine months later, Jonathan married, second, widow Sarah Upton Vinton. Barbour's vital records give the month as June, but this is probably a transcription error since Jonathan and Sarah's first child was born 14 Nov 1736. Sarah had one daughter by her previous marriage to Maltiah Vinton. Born 8 Dec 1733 and named Sarah, this child became the oldest in Jonathan and Sarah's new family which expanded to two more boys and two more girls giving them a family of seven children in all. Note that their first girl was named, Mary, for Jonathan's first wife and their first boy was named, Maltiah, for Sarah's first husband.

Jonathan and Sarah lived long lives, both of them through the American Revolution. Jonathan appeared in Windham on the 1790 U.S. census for Connecticut showing 3 males over 16, 1 male under 16, and 5 females.®39: 153 These figures probably indicate that his son, Maltiah, and family lived with him. Maltiah had been active in military affairs from 1757 through the end of the American Revolution, consequently away from home much of the time and did not appear on the U.S. census until 1800, the year of his father's death. Jonathan was eighty-seven when he died. Sarah lived three more years and died age ninety-three.

David, the Norwich records give the name as Daniel, was the ninth and youngest child of Abel and Elizabeth Odell. He was born 12 Sep 1714 in Windham when his father was forty-five years old. Since his two oldest brothers were to inherit the family farm, David's father paid for his education as a tanner and shoemaker.®9: 3: 241-4 David was perhaps a carefree young lad not overly concerned with religion for the Norwich records reveal that in 1738 when he was twenty-four, he was arrested and fined for convening and meeting with others on the sabbath at the house of William Waterman.

He was a few days shy of twenty-eight before he married Hannah Bingham, his second cousin. David's father, Abel, and Hannah's grandfather, Thomas, were brothers.

David and Hannah had seven children. Their births and deaths were recorded in the family bible; a copy is in the Bingham collection at the Connecticut State Library. Their births were also recorded in the Norwich vital records while their deaths were recorded in the Bozrah records. Only one child died in infancy, but two others died in their early twenties. Their mother, Hannah, lived to be seventy-one. She died 15 Mar 1782.

David appeared in the 1790 federal census for New London Co. He would have been seventy-five or seventy-six at the time and living with him were two males under sixteen and two females. The two females were undoubtedly his daughters, Elizabeth and Martha, since neither married. It is also doubtful that son, Adonijah, married for no records have been found to indicate that he did.

David died 31 Mar 1794 age seventy-nine, six years after Hannah.

Sarah was born 16 Dec 1707 at Lebanon CT, the first child of Nathaniel Bingham and Sarah Lobdell. During most of her childhood, she lived in Windham on her father's farm in the Third or Scotland Church area of the town of Windham. She married Joseph Walden of Windham when she was sixteen. They were married for thirty-one years before he died in 1755. Children are unknown.

Sarah married, second, Col. Thomas Dyer, the husband of her deceased first cousin Lydia Backus, daughter of Mary Bingham (1.3.) and John Backus. She was forty-seven. Dyer's marriage to Sarah was a third marriage for him. As second wife he had married Mehitable Gardner in 1752, but she lived only one year after their marriage.®23: 393

Sarah married, third, Jacob Dresser when she was fifty-nine years old. Her death date is unknown.

Isaac was born in Windham 1 Jul 1709, but grew up on the farm in Scotland which his grandfather, Thomas, had given to his father, Nathaniel about two years after Isaac was born. When he was twenty-three, Isaac married Sarah Backus of Norwich. Of their ten children, the last two were twin girls, the first incidence of twins among the descendants of Thomas Bingham.

Isaac and Sarah did not have a particularly happy time raising their sons, however. Adonijah at age eight and Gamaliel at age six died within months of each other in 1745. Isaac and Sarah's fifth child and fourth son, Silvanus, also died. He served as a soldier in the war against the French and Indians and succumbed when he was twenty or twenty-one years old.

Isaac, with his father, Nathaniel, was among the group of Windham First Church members who petitioned in 1731 for a separate church society for the rapidly growing area of Scotland.®8: 274 Isaac's two oldest children were baptized in the Windham church, but he and his family were formally dismissed on 9 Feb 1735 in order to become part of the new Scotland congregation.®16: 13

Isaac appeared on the 1790 U.S. census for Windham CT with a household consisting of himself and four females, undoubtedly including Sarah his wife, and daughters Eunice and Temperance who did not marry.®39: 153

Jeremiah was the fourth and youngest child of Nathaniel. He grew up on the family farm in Scotland and when he was twenty-four years old married Mary Brewster, three years his senior. She had been married to Reuben Lillie, but widowed 28 May 1737 at age twenty-four. Mary was the daughter of Jonathan Brewster and Mary Partridge and traced descent from William Brewster of the Mayflower through Love and Wrestling Brewster.®24:249 Jeremiah's children, all of whom were by Mary Brewster, thus are Mayflower descendants.

Jeremiah and Mary lived within the Scotland Church society. In 1758, Jeremiah was appointed a member of a committee to divide the society into proper school districts.®8: 554

Mary died 9 Aug 1768 age fifty-five. Her youngest child, Huldah, was ten years old. A little over a year later Jeremiah married, second, Mehitable Craft 12 Oct 1769. She was forty, he was fifty-two. Jerusha was the oldest child of Samuel Bingham and Faith Ripley. Her birth was recorded in Windham, but she grew up on the farm in Scotland which her grandfather, Thomas, had given her father, Samuel in 1711. When she was twenty-one, Jerusha married Benjamin Robinson. Shortly after she was married and as was common at the time, Jerusha was admitted to membership in Windham's First Church 24 Aug 1729. Her husband, Benjamin, was admitted 25 Jul 1734 and their first two children, Eunice and Irene, were baptized at Windham's First Church, Eunice 21 Nov 1731 and Irene 11 Nov 1733.®16 Although the births of their next three children were recorded in Windham, the children were not baptized in Windham. The births of their last two children were recorded in Lebanon. Before their death, Benjamin and Jerusha moved to Willington CT.

Abisha, the second child of Samuel, probably was born at Scotland where his father had a farm. When he was twenty-one he married Mary Tubbs of Lyme CT, also twenty-one. Their first two children, Jerusha and Abner, were baptized in Windham's First Church. Abisha and Mary, themselves, owned their own baptismal covenant 25 Feb 1733.®16 But, when Scotland Church was formed in 1735, Abisha and Mary became members of that congregation and their last three children were baptized in the Scotland Church. Thus, we know that Abisha and Mary lived in Scotland.

Abisha's death date is unknown, but probably before 1790 as he did not appear on the 1790 federal census.

Died: 3 Nov 1788 Windham CT®5: 33; Bur: Scotland CT®67; Will: 25 May 1789 Windham Pbt Crt®3: No. 382

Lemuel was Samuel Bingham and Faith Ripley's third child. He grew up on his father's farm in Scotland and remained in the same town all his life. When he was twenty-three, he married Hannah Perkins. During their fifty-three years of marriage they had eight children, although Windham vital records show the birth dates for only seven. Seven lived to adulthood.

As a farmer, Lemuel carefully recorded his earmark for animals in the Windham land records: a half "penn" under the right side of the right ear and a square U taken out of the same ear.®12 : Proprietor's Book C: 31

Lemuel became a religious dissenter during the first Great Awakening and in 1746 supported the formation of a separatist church within the Scotland Church jurisdiction.®8: 461-2 Among other issues was the Saybrook Platform that gave ministers the focus of power in the church and permitted people to become members without publicly stating their religious experience. Although the separatist church was organized under the name Brunswick Church and attracted many influential members, it was not treated favorably by the Scotland or regular church members and was forced to pay tax for the Scotland congregation. Thirty years later, the separatist church members petitioned the Connecticut general court against paying for a new Scotland meeting house. The colonial government finally recognized the separatist church in 1774.

Lemuel lived through the American Revolution and died age seventy-five. Hannah, his widow, died age seventy-six.

Note: This Lemuel did not serve in the American Revolution and the Battle of Bunker Hill as some of his descendants claim. This Lemuel was 62 years old in 1775 and would not have served in the continental army at that age. The Lemuel who did serve was Lemuel 1.1.8.6. (Nathaniel, Thomas,Thomas).

She is the Ann without the "e" in Windham vital records who married Samuel Fullsom of Windham and Stratford CT and had eight children. Samuel Jr. was the second of his father's children by his second wife, Elizabeth Manning, but he was the fifth surviving child born into a family of four half siblings who ranged in age from seven to fifteen years. Samuel Jr. grew up in Scotland on his father's farm and, when old enough, enlisted as a soldier in the war against the French and Indians. Larned says he served in 1766 under Col. Israel Putnam as an ensign of the 3rd company 5th regiment and that in 1768 he was a captain in the 5th regiment. By the time of his second marriage in 1769, Samuel Jr. was called Captain as his father before him. This Samuel would be the Samuel who is listed in the published Connecticut Archives Revolutionary War Index as Capt., 5th regiment, alarm list petition, 1778, and as from Windham selling a blanket to the army in 1777, and a saltpeter account, 1777.®63: 10: 252; 11: 102a, 61g It would have been his son, Samuel, who was the corporal in 1775.

Samuel Jr. married Lydia Mudge when she was twenty years old and he was twenty-five. Their marriage was another instance in the third generation of second cousins marrying. Lydia Mudge was granddaughter of Anne Bingham Mason (1.5.) who was also her husband Samuel Jr.'s great aunt, and she was niece of Samuel Jr.'s father, Samuel. Note also that Lydia's sister, Rachel Mason, was the first wife of Jonathan Bingham (1.2.8a.1.). Samuel Jr. and Lydia had four children between 1749 and 1755. One died in infancy and one did not marry. Lydia died 15 Jan 1768 age thirty-nine. Her children were grown. Samuel continued to have a close relationship with Lydia's father, Charles Mudge, and upon the latter's death 11 Feb 1778, Samuel served as executor of his estate. Samuel's children received a one-third interest in a tract of land. In addition, the boys received wearing apparel and the girls received furniture.®9

Samuel Jr. married, second, Ann Carey Ripley widow of Nathaniel Ripley. She was about forty-three years old. Samuel and Ann continued to live in Scotland. Apparently Samuel Jr.'s only son, Samuel III and family, lived with them. On the 1790 federal census for Windham only one Samuel was listed, but from what is known of the two families, the reported size indicates a merger of the two - 2 males over 16, 2 males under 16, and 5 females. In addition, the reported Samuel lived next to his recently deceased brother Lemuel's only surviving son, Jedediah (1.9a.3.5.).

Ann died 6 September 1792 age sixty-six, but Capt. Samuel Jr. lived to be eighty-one and died 25 July 1805.

Thomas was the first Bingham child to be baptized at Windham's First Church by Reverend Thomas Clapp. The date was 30 Jul 1727.®16: 13 Thomas was Samuel's ninth child, but the fourth by his second wife, Elizabeth Manning, and the second to live beyond infancy. He grew up on the family farm in Scotland CT. Thomas did not marry until he was thirty-eight years old. His wife, Amy Smith, was about eleven years younger than Thomas.

Thomas may have served as a lieutenant in the Connecticut militia in 1776 when he was forty-nine years old, but he was not the Thomas Bingham who served as a lieutenant in the Continental Line during the American Revolution. That was Thomas 1.10.2.4., the son of Gideon.

Thomas appeared on the 1790 U.S. census for Windham living two dwellings away from wife Amy's father, Josiah Smith. Thomas and Amy were enumerated with 2 males over 16, 2 males under 16, and 2 females.®39: 153

Thomas died age seventy-nine. His will has not been located. Amy lived to be eighty-eight or eighty-nine.

Deborah was the third surviving child of Samuel and his second wife, Elizabeth Manning, but she was Samuel's tenth child. She was baptized in Windham's First Church 11 May 1729 and her name was recorded as Dorothy either then or as an error in transcription.

If we are to believe the records, Deborah did not marry until she was fifty years old when she married as his second wife, Joshua Ripley III 25 Nov 1779. This marriage was another instance of third generation members marrying second cousins. Joshua Ripley III's grandmother, Mary Bingham Backus (1.3.), and his uncle, Samuel (1.9.), Deborah's father, were brother and sister.

He was baptized five days after he was born 24 Mar 1734.®16: 13 The twelfth child of Samuel, and the fifth surviving child of his mother, Elizabeth Manning, his father was forty-eight when Jonathan was born. Jonathan did not appear on any U.S. census for Connecticut and we do not know with whom he resided, but he lived for ninety years and was the longest surviving male and the last male of the third generation to die.

Little is known of Abigail other then the vital records above. She was Samuel's thirteenth and last child and although he was fifty years old when she was born, she was twenty-three years old when he died. Her mother lived for twenty years after her father died, so Abigail and her next older brother, Jonathan, may have continued to live at home with their mother after their father died. Abigail did not marry. She died age seventy-seven. No will has been found.

Lydia and Elias Frink's first child, Nathan, was baptized in Windham First Church 24 Jun 1733 and their second child, Elijah, was baptized 1 Jun 1735. No other baptisms of Frink-Bingham children were recorded at Windham First Church, but in 1794 a Lydia Frink was on the communicants list.®16: 37

Gideon was born in Windham CT, the second child and oldest son of Joseph and Abigail Scott Bingham. Gideon lived with his parents and grandparents on the original family homestead in Windham which his grandfather, Thomas (1.), had deeded to Gideon's father, Joseph. Grandfather Thomas lived until Gideon was fifteen so the two would have known each other well.

When Gideon was twenty years old he married Mary Carey. Her father was a deacon in Windham's First Church. Mary was about sixteen when she married. Gideon and Mary's first child, Gideon, was born 5 Dec 1735 in Windham and baptized 7 Dec in Windham's First Church. After the birth of his second child, Gideon, himself, was admitted to membership in First Church 14 May 1738. The births of the rest of their twelve children were recorded in Windham, except for Mary, born 1746. Her birth was recorded in Canterbury. Only the baptism of their first child was recorded in Windham, however.

Gideon was active in Windham town affairs. He served as fence viewer and surveyor in 1739 and as constable in 1743, but then became a separatist and one of the founders of the Scotland Separate Church.®327: 234 He sold several pieces of property in Windham in 1744 and it was at this time, at the height of the first Great Awakening, that he may have moved to the Canterbury-Plainfield area. Canterbury's New Lights created a dissenting separate or strict congregational church in 1745 and in 1760 this congregation petitioned for recognition as a poll parish. This created a distinct society within the First Society that was exempt from supporting the First Church. Gideon's name was on that petition.®30: 699-700 The petitioners indicated that they had already gathered under the Cambridge Platform, built a meeting house and settled a minister. Becoming separatists could have alienated Gideon and Mary from their families and accounted for his lack of inheritance and interest in cheap land.®19: 11: 461

Gideon and Mary's last two children were twin boys. They died within two days of their birth and Mary died two weeks later age forty-two. Their oldest child was twenty-three, their youngest, three. Only one child, William, was married.

Gideon married, second, three years later, Abigail Baker of Canterbury. She was twenty-six years old, he was forty-seven. Gideon and Abigail lived in Canterbury and had five more children. The youngest was born when Gideon was sixty-four. In all, Gideon fathered seventeen children, twelve of whom lived into adulthood. Nine were males to carry on the Bingham family name.

Since Gideon, the oldest son, had not inherited the original family homestead, but instead received five shillings, he explored ways to increase his land holdings long before his family was complete. In 1753, when the Susquehanna Land Company was formed in Windham, he purchased a $2 share or right.®26: I: 30 The right entitled him to become a proprietor of a township along the northeast branch of the Susquehanna River in the colony of Pennsylvania on land which the Company had purchased from the Indians. Several other Binghams and husbands of Binghams were involved in the Susquehanna Company, including his two brothers, Elijah and Joseph Jr. Actual settlement began in 1770 when the Company surveyed five townships. Gideon was not an official landholder in any of them, but we know that he was there in 1771 and 1772 as his name appeared on the list of settlers.®27; ®23: 2: 732-3; ®26: 5: 42 The settlers went back and forth between Connecticut and Pennsylvania each spring and fall to plant and harvest. Gideon may have been there 3 Jul 1778 when the British and Indians attacked the Connecticut settlers in the Battle of Wyoming sometimes called the Wyoming Massacre. No printed record indicates that Gideon was there, but his grandson, Joseph (1.10.2b.2.2), relayed the story of Gideon's escape back to Connecticut to an early Bingham researcher and spent much of his own time trying to claim Gideon's Pennsylvania property. Gideon did not return to the Susquehanna Valley. He was a resident of Canterbury CT on the 1790 U.S. census. The record shows one male over 16, one male under 16 and 2 females.®39: 142

Gideon died about age eighty before January 1795 when his son and heir, John, deeded Gideon's share in the Susquehanna Company to Benjamin Dorrance of Kingston, Luzerne Co PA for £5.®28 : Liber C: 559

Gideon's will was written in 1790 and accepted 10 Feb 1796. In it he left all furniture and one good cow to his wife, Abigail, and divided the rest of his estate in five equal parts for his five children by Abigail. Abigail and son Johnson were joint executors and had several of Gideon's debts to settle. Abigail lived to be about eighty-six.

Elijah lived with his parents and paternal grandparents on the family homestead established by his grandfather, Thomas (1.). in Windham. Elijah was ten and a half years old when his grandfather died. At the age of sixteen, Elijah was admitted a member of Windham's First Church 1 Feb 1736, a very unusual situation for a young, unmarried male.®30 Elijah eventually became a deacon in the church and retained his membership in Windham even after he had moved to Lempster NH.®17

At the age of twenty, Elijah married Theodosia (spelled Theodra in NH records) Crane. She was seventeen. They lived on a farm of nearly 100 acres across the Shetucket River from Windham on the north side of Obwebetuck Hill. Theodosia became a member of Windham's First Church 28 June 1741 after her first child was born and was customary at the time.®16 Elijah and Theodosia had three children before she died age thirty-one. Her children were eleven, eight, and four years old.

One or two years later - 19 July 1752 in Windham records, 1753 in Lempster records - Elijah married, second, widow Sarah Jackson.®5: 31; ®29 Although their first child, Roswell, died age seven months ten days, they went on to have twelve more children. Three died in infancy, but nine lived into adulthood and eight married and had children.®5: 29 In all, Elijah fathered sixteen children seven of whom were males who had children to carry on the Bingham family name.

With such a large family to provide for, Elijah joined his brother Gideon in 1754 and purchased a share in the Susquehanna Land Company.®28: Liber B: 177 Elijah hoped to find inexpensive and suitable farm land in northeastern Pennsylvania. When settlement began in earnest in 1769, Elijah sent his son, Silas, as one of the original forty settlers.®26: 3: 91, 184, 214 Silas was actively involved in Susquehanna Company activities in and around Kingston PA for a year or more, including being arrested and jailed at Easton, but he eventually returned to Connecticut.®3: 87 In 1774, Silas sold Elijah's one share in the Susquehanna Company and moved to New Hampshire with his father and the rest of the family.®28: Liber B: 141

In the meantime, Elijah's father, Joseph, had died in 1765 and Elijah had inherited the original Bingham homestead in Windham. The following year, in 1766, Elijah sold part of his farm on Shetucket River to Jedidiah Elderkin and in 1768 he sold another part of the farm to John Allen. In 1773, he sold the remainder of the farm to Jedidiah Elderkin and moved to Lempster, Cheshire Co NH. The Town Book of Lempster recorded Elijah as the ninth settler in Lempster 7 Feb 1774. All of his children by his second wife went with him as well as Silas and his family. The following year, Elijah sold, 5 Sept 1775, what remained of the old Bingham homestead property in Windham to his nephew, Edmund Badger, the oldest son of his sister, Abigail (1.10a.3.).

Elijah and wife, Sarah, lived in Lempster NH for twenty-four years. He appeared on the 1790 U.S. census for Lempster with 2 males over 16 and four females. His son, James, and his grandson, Roswell, son of Elijah Jr. lived next to him. Both were also on the 1790 census for Lempster.®39: 19 Elijah died age seventy-eight. Joseph Jr., was the fifth and youngest child of Joseph Bingham and Abigail Scott. He lived with his parents and grandparents on the family homestead in Windham and was eight years old when his grandfather, Thomas (1.), died. When Joseph Jr. was twenty-one, he married seventeen year old Sarah Wheelock, his second cousin by marriage. She was the sister of Eleazar Wheelock, founder of Moor's Indian School and Dartmouth College, and the half sister of Mary Wheelock Bingham, wife of Jabez Jr. (1.1.6.2.).

Joseph and Sarah had nine children we can account for. They were all born in Windham and lived to have families of their own. The Windham records cite a tenth child, Stephen, born on the same day as Tryphena.®5: 35

During the French and Indian War, Joseph Jr. served as a lieutenant in several different capacities. In May 1757 he was quartermaster of the troop of horse in the 5th Connecticut regiment. In May 1758 he served as a second lieutenant in Capt. John Durkee's 9th company of the 3rd Connecticut regiment commanded by Col. Eliphalet Dyer, his second cousin. In this regiment he may have been involved in the efforts to take Fort Ticonderoga. He did receive £4 pay and was promoted to first lieutenant, 3rd company, where he served in March, 1759. Joseph Jr. continued his military service as cornet of the troop of horse, 5th Connecticut regiment, Oct 1761, that is, he served as the officer who carried the colors, and as lieutenant in Oct 1764.®19: 11: 17, 53, 98, 228, 580; 12: 302

Before the war, Joseph Jr. had purchased a share in the Susquehanna Land Company as had his brothers, Gideon and Elijah.®26: I: 43 This company, formed by prominent Windham citizens, purchased land in northeastern Pennsylvania from the Indians. Shareholders hoped to provide their heirs with inexpensive and fertile farm land no longer available in Connecticut. After the French and Indian War was over and settlement began, Joseph Jr. gave one half of his share to sons Chester and Ozias, jointly, and one half to son Augustus Wheelock.®28: Liber C: 601 Chester and Ozias both settled in northeastern Pennsylvania and Chester became very active in Susquehanna Company land speculation.®28 Augustus Wheelock eventually sold his share.®35: I: 54

Joseph Jr. may have been a tavern keeper in Windham. Records indicate that he asked his brother-in-law, Eleazar Wheelock, to buy rum for him for a tavern and that Wheelock made it clear that Joseph was to provide the money by the time the rum was delivered. Joseph Jr. also rented a farm in Windham belonging to Eleazar Wheelock.®36: 770.900.1

Joseph appeared on the 1790 U.S. census for Windham with 2 males over 16 and one female. Living next to him was his son, Ralph, and his nephew, Gideon.®39: 152 Joseph died age seventy. No will has been found.

Eleazar lived with his parents in Windham until he was about nine years old when the family moved to a farm in Lebanon, New London Co. His maternal grandfather, Thomas Bishop, had deeded the farm to Eleazar's father.®14: 4-110 Although Eleazar grew up a farmer, he suffered from asthma and studied enough medicine to be called a physician.

When he was nineteen and she was twenty, Eleazar married Miriam Phelps of Mansfield CT. If the recorded dates are accurate, the marriage ceremony took place on Eleazar's nineteenth birthday 13 Jul 1738. Between 1740 and 1758, Eleazar and Miram had eight children. All were born in Lebanon CT, but the Lebanon vital records variously listed their father as Eleazar or William. Lebanon Church records give the baptismal dates of the first six children.®7: No.19, 105,110, 114, 120, 124, 126 On 8 Mar 1741, Eleazar and Miriam, themselves, joined the First Church of Lebanon.®7: No.19: 229

In 1748, when Eleazar's father, Stephen, moved from Lebanon to the Andover district of Hebron, Tolland Co, Eleazar bought his farm in Lebanon.®14: 7-162 As the deed records indicate, Eleazar also bought and sold additional land in Lebanon between 1749 and 1765.®14: 8: 225, 10: 459 In April 1752, Eleazar bought the Andover farm of his recently deceased brother-in-law, Aaron Phelps. Phelps's widow, Betty Sprague Phelps, married Abel Jr. (1.2.5.), Eleazar's first cousin. Eleazar sent his aging parents and son, Stephen, to live on the Phelps's farm in Andover. After Eleazar's wife, Miriam, died 13 Dec 1766 age forty-eight, Eleazar sold his Lebanon land to his then two married sons, Stephen and Eleazar Jr., and moved with his five youngest children to Andover to live with his widowed father while son Stephen returned to Lebanon.®14: 11: 172, 36

After moving to Andover, Eleazar married, second, Hannah Dagget. She was twelve to thirteen years younger than he. Their marriage date is unknown, but calculating from her age at death she would have been at least thirty-five when they married. Eleazar and Hannah had no children. Hannah was well educated and served as Andover town librarian for part of her life. Although Eleazar died 28 Mar 1783 age sixty-four, Hannah continued to live in their Andover house until her death 20 Mar 1815 age eighty-three.

Jeremiah was the fourth child and first son of Thomas Bingham and Hannah Edgerton. His mother died when he was under three years of age and his father married, second, Sarah Huntington. Jeremiah was, thus, mainly raised by his step mother. At twenty-one years of age, he joined the Franklin Church by profession of faith.®7: No.19: 20 A year later, he married Sarah White of Lisbon CT. They had one child, Asa.

Shortly after Jeremiah and Sarah married, they purchased seven acres on the hill to the west of the house that had belonged to Sarah's deceased father, Daniel White.®6: 8: 475 Several Norwich deeds between Jeremiah and Sarah as one party, and Sarah's sister and mother sorted out the property they inherited from Daniel White.®6: 10: 86; 11: 65; 12: 80, 85, 115, 120, 334-5 Jeremiah bought two other pieces of property in 1752, but sold them soon after.®6: 11: 315, 335, 341

Jeremiah died at the age of thirty-four shortly before 6 January 1757 when letters of administration on his estate were granted to Jonathan Burley, second husband of Jeremiah's mother-in-law. The inventory consisted of personal effects, but no property. His only son, Asa, was twelve.

Hezekiah was the youngest child of Thomas Bingham and Sarah Huntington and the only child to leave Connecticut. Born in Norwich, he was baptized at the Franklin Church 7 Aug 1737.®7: No. 19: 55 At the age of twenty-one during the French and Indian War, Hezekiah served in Capt. Barber's 11th company of Col. Nathan Whiting's 2nd regiment. On the muster roll of 5 May 1758, he was listed as of Lebanon.

When he was almost twenty-five years old, Hezekiah married Phebe Boynton, age nineteen, of Coventry. They lived in Norwich where Hezekiah worked as a carpenter and joiner and where their first five children were born between 1764 and 1771.

Caught up in the promise of cheap land in northeastern Pennsylvania, Hezekiah became a shareholder in the Delaware Land Company and by 1773 had moved his family to Parkbury in the Lackaway District on the Wallenpaupack River in northeastern Pennsylvania. As one of the first settlers, in May 1773 he drew lot 29.®46 In March 1774, Hezekiah was chosen the representative from the Lackaway district for the grand jury of the town of Westmoreland, the name given to the entire Connecticut settlement in Pennsylvania.®26: 6: 144 Considered to be intruders by the Pennsylvania authorities, Hezekiah and other Connecticut settlers were arrested in December, 1775 and then released.®26: 6: 397, 411-13 Hezekiah remained in Lackaway and his name appeared on the tax lists for Westmoreland 1776-1778.®47 Hezekiah and Phoebe lived at Parkbury until July 1778. Other children were undoubtedly born during this period.

In 1778, during the American Revolution, Hezekiah, Phebe and family were forced to flee in the face of advancing British and Indian troops. The event was called the Wyoming Massacre. The family may have gone only as far as Orange County NY, the east side of the Delaware River where many families set up temporary homes.

After the American Revolution was over, the family returned to their farm on the Wallenpaupack River. Son Rodolphus was born in Milford PA in 1784.®151: 382-4 From the mid 1780s until his death in 1811, Hezekiah lived safely on Wallenpaupack Manor, a tract of land that had been set aside as manor land by the heirs of William Penn. Hezekiah appeared on the 1790, 1800, and 1810 U.S. census and the 1798 Pennsylvania Direct Tax for Wayne County.®39: 181; ®90: 45; ®136: 125 The family lived in a three windowed, one story log house valued at $45 on 298 acres valued at $298 and had one stable. Hezekiah willed his original 215 acres in Wallenpaupack Manor to his sons, Solomon and Rodolphus. By deed in 1817, Solomon gave his share to Rodolphus who was able to obtain a clear Pennsylvania title by purchasing the tract from Samuel Sitgreaves, lawyer for the Wallenpaupack settlers.®154: B2: 247, 319

On 24 Feb 1808, Phebe died age sixty-four. Although Hezekiah was then seventy-one, he married, second, the following year 9 Oct 1809, widow Elsie Hall of Abington PA. They began to build a new home, but lived together for just two years before Hezekiah died.

By his will, Hezekiah left to Elsie the east front room in his new house to improve for herself and $10 a year as long as she remained a widow. To son, Rodolphus, he left all of his landed property and buildings except for 100 acres along the Wallenpaupack River which he left to Solomon. To his other children and grandchildren, he left the usual monetary award. Elsie remained a widow until 1817 when she married James Stone of Abington.®49 The original farm is now covered by Lake Wallenpaupack, but the Paupack Cemetery where Hezekiah was buried is intact.

Bethiah and Jonathan probably lived in the Franklin area of New London Co CT. They had nine children whose births were recorded in the Norwich records between 1743 and 1760. Only one child died in infancy. An 1753 deed recorded Bethia's and Jonathan's purchase of twenty acres in Lebanon from Bethiah's father, Jabez.®14: 8: 317

Died: 1784

Jabez Jr. grew up in the Lebanon area of New London Co, and joined the Windham Church 28 Nov 1746 when his parents rejoined. This was one month before he married Mary Wheelock, grand daughter of Miles Standish of the Mayflower.®407: 124 Mary was also the half sister of Sarah Wheelock, wife of Joseph Bingham Jr. (1.10.5.)

In the summer of 1749, after their first child was born, Jabez Jr. and Mary moved west to Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT and settled on a tract which his father had bought in 1745. Their seven other children were born in Salisbury between 1751 and 1767.

As a frontier resident during the French and Indian War, Jabez Jr. served 14 days from 9-10 August 1757 when the colonials were called upon to reinforce Fort William Henry. He was a corporal in Capt. Uriah Stevens's company of Col. Eben Marsh's regiment.

The family lived in Salisbury until at least 1783 as indicated in son Alvan's application for a Revolutionary War pension.®181 It is possible that Jabez moved to South Hadley MA in 1783 to live with son Jabez as a deed between him and son Alvan for land in Tinmouth VT is dated South Hadley 28 Jun 1783. Jabez apparently died in 1784, age sixty, but no will or definite place of death has been identified. Mary, his wife, accompanied her sons to Ohio and lived near Athens until she died 29 Jan 1809 age eighty.

Died: Dec 1780 Stockbridge MA; Will: 13 Dec 1780 Pittsfield, Berkshire Co MA®51: No. 1046

Silas, the third child of Jabez and Bethia Wood Bingham, was born and grew up in Norwich CT. About 1749, he moved to Salisbury CT. After living in Salisbury for several years, Silas moved to Great Barrington MA, but returned to Salisbury CT to marry Anna Orton 28 Feb 1773. Silas was forty-six, Anna about eighteen. Anna may have been a widow who had an infant daughter, Electa, but Electa also went by the last name, Bingham.

In 1776, Silas and Anna moved to Stockbridge, Berkshire Co MA and purchased a lot.®50 :Bk 13:156 Four years later, at the age of fifty-four, Silas died. He divided his whole estate equally between his wife and his daughter. His inventory indicated that at the time of his death he owned a house and barn on three acres located near the old meeting house in Stockbridge. The property was valued at £125 and his total debts were calculated at £107.16. One of his main creditors was his brother, Benjamin, who had given him a £56 note in 1766. Other debts came from as far back as 1757 and 1762. Since Anna relinquished her right in the estate, presumably Silas's daughter, Electa, received about £9. Anna retained her dower rights and she and Henry W. Dwight became joint guardians of Electa.®51: No. 1210

Anna and Electa stayed on in Stockbridge. In 1781, before Silas's will had completed probate, Anna purchased another lot in Stockbridge.®50: Bk 17: 583 This was probably the site of the tavern which she ran for many years and which later gave its name to the Widow Bingham's Tavern in the Red Lion Inn, Stockbridge. By 1788, Anne was investing in real estate and collecting real estate debt, probably in return for tavern bills.®52 :Bk 11: 46, 60, 490; Bk 6: 512, 513; Bk 32: 77, 81 By 1789, she was in business with Silas Pepoon who may have been the original owner of the Red Lion Inn.®52 :Bk 11: 301 Pepoon talked Anna into speculating in New York land; she was one of the 72 partners in the Boston Purchase. She held title to a tract in Barton, Tioga Co NY. The 1790 U.S. census recorded Anna as the head of a household of four males over sixteen, two males under sixteen, three females, and two others, presumably free black. This may have been the total count of the Inn.®39: Berkshire Co 36

The temptations of tavern business were too much for Anna to handle, however. In 1796, she was brought before the probate court as "a person who by exceptional drinking doth so spend, waste or ... her Estate as to expose herself to want." The court assigned her a guardian for two years.®51: No 1802

Anna probably remained in Stockbridge until close to 1813 when she was cited in deeds as living in Northampton, Hampshire Co

MA. She had sold some of her land to Silas Pepoon, but had to go to court to claim her pay. By that time Pepoon was bankrupt, mainly caused by speculation in western lands and the sheriff had to seize and appraise the tracts.®52: Bk 50: 248, 405

Daniel, the fourth child of Jabez and Bethiah Wood Bingham, lived in Norwich and Lebanon as a child, but moved with his parents to Windham in 1745. On 28 Nov 1746, he joined the Windham Church along with his parents and brother, Jabez Jr. A little over a year later, at the age of nineteen and a half, Daniel married Hannah Conant. Hannah was a year or two older than Daniel.

The following year, 1749, Daniel and family, with brother Jabez Jr. and family, moved to Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT and settled upon land which their father, Jabez, had purchased. Eight of Daniel and Hannah's nine children were born in Salisbury.

While living in Salisbury during the French and Indian War, Daniel served in the relief of Fort William Henry in August 1757. He was credited with fourteen days service in Capt. Uriah Stevens's company of Col. Eben Marsh's regiment.

During the Revolutionary War, Daniel may have been scouting with his brother, Benajah (1.1.6.9.), and nephew, Jabez (1.1.1.6.2.), when the later two were captured by the British. Daniel escaped, but Benajah and Jabez died prisoners.

Daniel appeared on both the 1790 and 1800 U.S. census for Litchfield Co.®39:1028; ®90: 69 He owned a 100 acre farm near what is now called Twin Lakes. Son, Caleb, eventually became the owner.

In 1804, at the age of seventy-seven, Daniel's wife, Hannah, died. One year later, Daniel died age seventy-six.

Benjamin was born and lived in the Lebanon church section of Norwich until he was fifteen. His father, Jabez, then moved the family to Windham to live in the home which had belonged to Benjamin's great uncle Jonathan (1.4.).

At the age of twenty-four, Benjamin married Sarah Stewart of Norwich. She was twenty. Until 1761, they lived in Windham where their first four children were born. After the birth of the first two children, and as was common at the time, Benjamin joined the First Church in Windham 16 Dec 1758.®16

As a resident of Windham during the French and Indian War, Benjamin answered the alarm for the relief of Fort William Henry in August 1757 and served in Capt. Jonathan Rudd's militia company. His patrol was in charge of the return of the pack horses.

After moving to Salisbury CT in 1761, Benjamin and Sarah had five more children confirmed by records, and possibly one or two more. After twelve years in Salisbury, Sarah died 5 Dec 1773 age thirty-nine. Benjamin was then forty-three years old.

Three and a half years later, 28 May 1777, Benjamin married, second, Lois Boyden Dunbar of Walpole, widow of Seth Dunbar. Benjamin and Lois settled at Upton, Worcester Co MA where they had three children between 1778 and the early 1780s.

Benjamin served in the militia again during the American Revolution. He enlisted in various companies for a few months at a time from June 1778 through April 1783.®219: 6035; ®220 He died before 1790 and his wife appeared as a widow on the 1790 U.S. census for MA living in Walpole, Norfolk Co.®39: 209 She married for a third time 16 Sep 1792, John Foster of Boston, but continued to live in Walpole where she died 7 Dec 1834.

Ebenezer was born in Norwich Ct and lived there until his family moved to Windham when he was about twelve years old. He was twenty-three in 1756 when he joined Col. Shubal Conant's militia regiment as a private in the Crown Point expedition during the French and Indian War.

Rather than farm, Ebenezer became a tavern proprietor. He was granted his tavern license in 1760, one of twelve in Windham at the time.®8: I: 48. In the same year, he served a term as highway surveyor for Windham.®143: 266

The following year, when he was twenty-eight, Ebenezer married Amey Wood, age twenty-two. The ceremony took place in Norwich's Second Church 15 April 1761, but Amey joined Windham's First Church where Ebenezer was already a member.®16 Between 1762 and 1784, Ebenezer and Amey had eight children. Only one died in infancy. Their children were among the few Bingham's remaining with the Windham Church as it took on decidedly Baptist leanings.

During the American Revolution, Ebenezer served from November 1776 to January 1777 in the militia as an ensign in Capt. Payne Converse Jr.'s company in Col. John Ely's fourth battalion under Generals Spencer and Wooster®63; ®64: 424. He left active service to supply the commissary department.®63

Ebenezer was enumerated on the Windham Co 1790 U.S. census with his extant family accounted for and, again in 1800 and 1810.®39: 125; ®90: 696; ®136: 572 He died 31 January 1811 one day after his seventy-eighth birthday.®67 Amey lived for eleven more years. She died 3 March 1822 age eighty-three.®67

Mar: 4 Jun 1761 Rachel MOORE Salisbury CT®5: 12; Born: 28 Dec 1741 Salisbury CT; Died: Cumberland, Guernsey Co OH

Died: Cumberland, Spencer Twp, Guernsey Co OH

Solomon was eight years old when he moved from Norwich to Windham with his family to live on his great uncle Jonathan's farm which his father, Jabez, purchased. Solomon moved again before 1760 to Salisbury in western Litchfield Co CT. He and his father were listed as taxpayers in Salisbury in 1760.®76: 124 Solomon was then twenty-three years old and a blacksmith by trade.

In the spring after arriving in Salisbury, Solomon married 4 Jun 1761 Rachel Moore, also of Salisbury. Their first five children were born in Salisbury where they lived until 1773. In 1773 they moved to Tinmouth, Rutland Co VT, then claimed by NY.®77 Four more children were born in Tinmouth between 1774 and 1787. Solomon represented Tinmouth in the VT legislature, 1779-1780.

Solomon and Rachel remained in VT until after 1800. Solomon appeared on both the 1790 (Salmon) and 1800 U.S. census for Tinmouth, Rutland Co.®39: 45; ®90:127 Rutland Co land records show that Solomon was involved in buying and selling lands in Tinmouth from 1771 to 1782.

In 1807, after son Eli married Sally Hurd in Tinmouth, Solomon and Rachel sold their farm and left for Ohio either with, or to be with, sons Eli and David.®78; ®81 Solomon was then seventy years old. Nephews Jabez, Alvin, and Silas, sons of brother Jabez, Jr., had made the same trek earlier as part of the Ohio Company. Several Chandler and Hurd in-laws also moved to Ohio about the same time. Solomon, Eli and David probably first settled on Ohio Company lands in Watertown, Washington Co OH northwest of Marietta where son David remained. By 1813, son Eli had settled in what was then Cumberland, Spencer Township, Guernsey Co OH. With whom Solomon and Rachel lived in Ohio, how long they survived after moving, and their dates of death are unknown.

Born: 20 Nov 1739 Lebanon CT®2: 256
Mar: 1763 Dorothy/Dolly COBB; Born: 1739; Died: 2 Oct 1829 Sunderland, Bennington Co VT®59; Bur: Ira Allen Cemetery Sunderland, Bennington Co VT®59
Died: 1777-1783

Benajah's birth was recorded at Lebanon CT and he was baptized in the Lebanon Church 25 Nov 1739 shortly before his parents transferred their membership from Windham Church.®7: No. 29: 103 Benajah lived with his family in Lebanon until they moved to Windham in 1745 when he was six years old. As a young man of sixteen, he answered the call for troops for the relief of Fort William Henry in 1757 during the French and Indian War and joined Capt. Jonathan Rudd's 1st militia company of the 5th Connecticut regiment. He served fifteen days.

Benajah moved to Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT with his parents in 1760. In 1763, he married Dorothy Cobb. Between 1764 and 1777, they had eight children including twins. The twins, Dolley and John, and probably two daughters, Sibyl (Abel in Salisbury Vital Records) and Eunice, died when very young leaving four children to grow to adulthood and marry.

During the American Revolution, Benajah, his brother, Daniel, and his nephew, Jabez, son of brother, Ebenezer, served as scouts. While gathering chestnuts on one expedition near the town of Hudson NY, the British surprised the three and captured Benajah and Jabez. Imprisoned on the notorious prison ship, Jersey, in NY harbor, Benajah and Jabez died.

Dolly and family continued to live in Salisbury where her daughters married. She later moved to Sunderland, Bennington Co VT where she died in 1829, age ninety and was buried in the Ira Allen cemetery.®59

Jedediah was born and baptized in Lebanon, New London Co CT in 1742.®7: No. 29: 108 Possibly, his full name was Frederic Jedediah, for his marriage record gives his name as Frederic. When he was three years old, his family moved to Windham where Jedediah spent his youth. He then moved to Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT in 1760 with his parents when he was eighteen.

When twenty-seven years old, Jedediah married Hannah Dow. The Salisbury records did not record the births of any of their four children so they may have moved to Sunderland, Bennington Co VT, but Sunderland has no vital records for Binghams.®STC

Jedediah died after 1782 when he appeared on the tax list for Sunderland VT and before August, 1785 when his father bequeathed to his four grandchildren by his deceased son, Jedediah and assigned Jedediah's widow, Hannah, his executrix.®144: Grand list, 1782

Hannah continued to live in Sunderland VT and her mother-in-law, Dolley, came to live with her. Hannah's name appeared in place of Jedediah's on the tax list for 1789 and she was shown on the 1790 U.S. census with one male over sixteen and three females.®39: 22 She did not appear on the 1800 U.S. census or thereafter. Mother-in-law, Dolley, died in 1829 and was buried in the Ira Allen Cemetery in Sunderland.

CHILDREN OF NATHANIEL (Thomas, Thomas)

1.1.8a.1. Nathaniel BINGHAM (Nathaniel, Thomas, Thomas)

Born: 16 May 1725 Norwich, New London Co CT®2: 214

Mar: 19 Apr 1748 Joanna READ Norwich, New London Co CT®2: 268; Born: 1730 Norwich, New London Co CT; Died: 11 Aug 1810 Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NH®61: 227; ®233: 89

Died: 26 Apr 1802 Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NH®61: 2:27; ®140: No. 130; ®233: 63, 89; Bur: Center Cemetery, Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NH®233: 63, 89; Adm & Inv: 1802 Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NH®140: No. 130

Nathaniel lived in Norwich for the first forty-two years of his life. He married Joanna Read when he was nearly twenty-three. Their first seven or nine children were born in Norwich, although at least two, Lydia and Chester, were baptized in the Lisbon church.

As a young man in his late twenties, Nathaniel began to look west for better, less expensive land. He became involved in the Susquehanna and Delaware land companies which promised to open northeastern Pennsylvania to Connecticut settlers. His name appeared as a signee on both the First and Second Delaware Company deeds with the Indians and on a petition of Windham residents to form the Susquehanna Company.®26: I: 43, 196, 260

Nathaniel turned his attention to Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NH, however, and about 1767 he purchased two lots of fifty acres each, number nine and ten, in the tenth range from Josiah Willard.®61: 226-7 Chesterfield had 365 inhabitants at the time.®61: 38 In the deed, Nathaniel called himself a cooper, but he had a farm on Wetherbee Hill a half mile north of the village center on the road to Westmoreland. Later in his life, from 1794 on, he was licensed to manage Bingham's Tavern which he built on the same road.

After moving to Chesterfield, Nathaniel and Joanna had two to four more children. The birth records for the time are sketchy.

Nathaniel was very active in Chesterfield town life. Several times he was a selectman and among other positions served as a sealer of weights and measures, a tithingman, a highway surveyor, a sealer of leather, and a juror at the Superior Court in Keene.®62: passim

During the American Revolution, Nathaniel and his three sons, Elisha, Theodorus and Gustavus enlisted. Nathaniel served as a private under Lt. Robertson in Col. Ashley's militia regiment which set out for Ticonderoga 29 June 1771.®61: 94

In 1781, as the war was winding down, Nathaniel became embroiled in the bitter controversy over territorial jurisdiction between New Hampshire and Vermont. At a meeting held at his home to nominate justices of the peace under New Hampshire jurisdiction for Chesterfield, a representative of Vermont attempted to serve a writ upon an attendee. Nathaniel and another person were arrested for obstruction of justice after resisting the Vermonter's attempt. Nathaniel refused bail and spent about seventeen days in jail in Charlestown NH.®61: 72

Nathaniel lived until 1802, thus he appeared on both the 1790 and 1800 U.S. census for New Hampshire. In his 1790 household he had three males over 16, one male under 16 and five females.®39: 12 Since his son, Elisha, had died and Theodorus, Gustavus and Chester all had their own households, the large size of Nathaniel's family may mean that Elisha's family was living with him. In 1800, Nathaniel still accounted for a household of six members.®90: Cheshire Co.

Nathaniel died nearly seventy-seven years old and was probably buried in the Center Cemetery, but in 1980 his headstone was positioned in the doorstep of Stone Farm near the Bingham Burying-Ground on Poocham Road.®233: 63, 89 His widow, Joanna, lived until 11 Aug 1810, age eighty. She also died in Chesterfield NH and was buried in Center Cemetery.®233: 89

John, the second son of Nathaniel and Mary Safford was born in Norwich CT and at age twenty-three, he married Susannah Burnham, also of Norwich. They lived in Hanover which, in 1786, became part of Lisbon, now Sprague, New London County CT. At one time John may have run a grist mill at the falls at Bingham Brook near Windham and lived in the house opposite built by Amos Dodge.®8 He may be the John in the 1790 U.S. census living in Windham, Windham Co with one male over 16, one male under 16 and three females.®39: 152 But both he and his son, John Jr., appeared on the 1800 U.S. census for New London Co. By then, Susannah, John's wife, was dead. She died 15 Apr 1795, age nearly sixty-four, but a female between 26 and 45 was reported living with him.®90: 776 This may have been Hannah, his unmarried daughter. John lived until 20 Dec 1804. 1.1.8a.3. Jeremiah BINGHAM (Nathaniel, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 14 Feb 1733 Norwich CT®2: 214

Jeremiah was named in his father's 1756 will so presumably Jeremiah was then alive. He would have been twenty-three years old. However, this Jeremiah is not accounted for in other records and the CT vital records do not not support his marriage, children, or death. Yet, the 1790 U.S. census for Windham is either in error or lists one too many Jeremiahs. More research needs to be done.

1.1.8a.4. Simeon BINGHAM (Nathaniel, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 28 Sep 1735 Norwich CT®2: 214

Little is known about Simeon. He was born in the Lisbon section of Norwich and his birth was recorded in Norwich records. As a twenty year old, he served between 23 Apr and 8 Dec 1755 in the French and Indian War. In 1777, at the age of forty-two, he was involved between 28 Aug and 23 Oct in the Battle of Saratoga. He served in Capt. Ebenezer Lathrop's company of Col. Jonathan Latimer's militia regiment under General Gates. In August 1781, Simeon joined Capt. Charles Miel's company in Gen. David Waterbury's brigade for the defense of the coast.®63: 188;®64: 507, 570; ®219: 6096-98

In 1790, Simeon still lived in Lisbon, formed into its own town in 1786. He appeared on the U.S. census as one male over 16 and one female.®39: 131 Marriage, children, and death records are unknown, and he did not appear on the 1800 U.S. census.

1.1.8a.5. Lemuel BINGHAM (Nathaniel, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 30 Oct 1738 Norwich CT®2: 214
Mar: 1758-1760 Anna
Died: 2 Mar 1776 Lisbon, New London Co CT; Inv & Adm: 1776 Norwich Pbt Crt®03: No.1116

Lemuel was a young child when his mother, Margaret, died. The fifth child and fifth son of Nathaniel, he grew up in the Lisbon section of Norwich, New London Co CT. When only seventeen, he enlisted in Capt. Billings's company formed in Preston and served as drummer 27 Aug to 6 Dec 1755 during the French and Indian War. Twice more during the war, he served in the militia. The first time in 1756 as a private in the second company of Lt. Col. William Whiting's 2nd regiment, and the second time in 1758 as a drummer in the ninth company of the 3rd Connecticut regiment.

After the war, when Lemuel was about twenty-three years old, he married Anna, but no record of the marriage date or Anna's last name survives. However, since Lemuel and Anna's first five children were baptized in Lisbon, we know the family lived in that area. Lisbon was not officially formed until 1786 and did not keep town records until 1787.

Lemuel and Anna either moved their home and/or their church affiliation about 1767 as their last three children were baptized in Griswold, but recorded in the Preston records since Griswold was not set off from Preston until 1815.

Soldiering claimed Lemuel again when the American Revolution began. At the age of thirty-six, leaving a family of eight children between one and thirteen years of age, Lemuel enlisted as ensign in Capt. Jedediah Huntington's 3rd company of the 3rd Connecticut regiment under Col. Israel Putnam. Lemuel saw action 16 June 1775 at the Battle of Bunker Hill and continued to serve in the same company under Capt. John Durkee until 10 Dec 1775.®219: 6069 Lemuel died shortly thereafter on 2 Mar 1776 age thirty-seven.

Died: after 19 Jun 1824

Hannah's husband, Nathan Caswell, came to Norwich from Massachusetts Bay Colony as a young man. He was twenty-one and she was eighteen when they married. Nathan had served as a soldier from Norwich in the French and Indian War before their marriage. Following their marriage, they lived first in Hebron CT where their first two children were born. The family then moved to Orford NH in 1765 with a group of early settlers. In April 1770, they built a cabin on the Ammonoosuc River and became the first settlers of what would become the town of Littletown, Grafton Co NH. While in Littleton, Nathan ran the ferry across the Connecticut River, was a town clerk and selectman 1788-1791, and town moderator in 1790 and 1791. During the American Revolution, Nathan was a captain.

After more than thirty years in Littleton, Hannah and Nathan followed some of their children to Lower Canada where they resided the rest of their lives. The newspaper account of Nathan's death stated that he left "an aged wife" with whom he had lived for sixty-three years, twelve living children, 133 grand children, and 52 great grand children.®406 George F. Sanborn Jr., F.A.S.G., a noted genealogist, is one of Hannah's descendants and contributed to this volume.

Mar: 21 Feb 1751 Ebenezer FALES Norwich CT®138: I: 204; Mar (2): Esther BINGHAM (1.1.9.6.)

Died: 22 May 1756 Norwich®2:125

Ruth, the first child of Joseph and Ruth Post Bingham, was the oldest of ten children. She grew up in Norwich and married Ebenezer Fales/Failes when she was eighteen years old. Ruth and Ebenezer lived in Norwich where their three children were born. Thirteen days after the third child was born, Ruth died age twenty-three. The child probably died also as she was not included with the record of the children of Ebenezer's second marriage as the other two were.

Ebenezer married, second, Ruth's younger sister, Esther (1.1.9.6.). Esther, Ebenezer and family moved to Charlemont MA with her parents about 1760, soon after the end of the French and Indian War.

Joseph's birth on 14 Apr 1738 was recorded in the Norwich records, but he was baptized on 16 Apr in the Franklin Church.®7: No 19 He grew up in the Franklin section of Norwich and may have served in the militia during the French and Indian War. When he was twenty-one he married Rachel Ween 5 Jul 1759. In 1760, their first child was born and the birth recorded in the Norwich records under the name James. Joseph's other children's births were not recorded in Norwich and other records have not been found to document Joseph's life after 1760. Neither are there records for James. However, it is known that Joseph's parents moved to Charlemont MA in 1760 and to Bennington VT between 1773 and 1779 and that Joseph's son, Jeremiah 2nd, was an apprentice in Bennington in 1777.

The date of Esther and Ebenezer's marriage is not known, nor are the birth dates of most of their children. They lived in Charlemont MA when it was still part of Hampshire Co. Either Ebenezer went to Charlemont alone and encouraged his father-in-law, Joseph, to move there, or Esther and Ebenezer moved to Charlemont at the same time her parents did, but neither could have moved until 1760 or later when hostilities associated with the French and Indian War were over.

Lois's father, Joseph, was second in command of William Hutchins's militia company in 1759 during the French and Indian War. After Lois and William married, they and their young daughter, Prudence, moved with her parents and the rest of her family to Charlemont, then Hampshire Co MA, in 1764-1765. Lois and William remained in Charlemont until after 1771.®292: 444-45 About 1773, they moved to Bennington VT, then part of the disputed territory known as the Hampshire Grants. Lois's younger brothers, Calvin and Jeremiah, went to Bennington about the same time. Their parents followed shortly.®69: 6 Sep 1774.

William Hutchins commanded a militia company during the American Revolution and saw active duty for several months of each year of the war. Part of the time, son William served in the same company.

After the American Revolution, it is difficult to document the family movements. Although we have proof that William and Lois were in Bennington in 1793 and in 1796, William did not appear on the 1790 U.S. census. Information concerning the deaths of Lois and William is conflicting, but they died about 1800 in Springfield, Otsego Co NY where sons William and Samuel lived.

Jeremiah was the ninth child of Joseph and Ruth Post Bingham. He was born in Norwich 26 June 1748 and lived there until he moved to Charlemont MA with his family in 1761 when he was about thirteen years old. As a young man he may have been a school teacher in several different towns.®68: 28 When in Burlington VT in 1771, he married Abigail Hawkes Perry, widow of James Perry. He was then twenty-two or twenty-three and she was about twenty-six or twenty-seven. Jeremiah and Abigail might have settled first in Charlemont MA, as Jeremiah remembered that he moved to Bennington in the fall of 1774.®181: 12213 The 1779 deed that recorded his purchase of 100 acres in Bennington Vt stated that Jeremiah was of Charlemont.®69: Bk 3: 27 His younger brother, Calvin, and his parents came to live with him in Bennington.

While in Bennington, Jeremiah served in a militia company that fought in the American Revolution. He was involved in the area around Fort Ticonderoga in 1776 and 1777, and in the Battle of Bennington in 1777. His next service was in 1781 as a 1st sergeant guarding the frontier against the British, Tories and Indians. In all, he served seven months and in 1836 received his due pension under the act of 1832.®181: 12,213 Jeremiah was also involved in Bennington town affairs. In 1780, on June 7, he was chosen town clerk for the day and for later in the year. In 1781, he was chosen for other offices and committees and in 1782 he was selectman.®20:

At the end of the revolutionary war, he left Bennington and moved to Cornwall VT. He had bought his first lot of 100 acres in Cornwall from Nathan Foote 3 August 1783. He built a cabin and moved his family to Cornwall in 1784. Later he built a fine home on this site, now called North Bingham Street, and willed the property to his son, Asahel.®265: 59-60 Jeremiah made many of the original land surveys in the Cornwall area. He invested in land, buying at estate sales and at auction, lots which original proprietors had failed to pay for. The early Cornwall land records contain many of Jeremiah's deeds. Jeremiah was prominent in Cornwall town affairs. When the town was first organized, he was chosen moderator of the first meeting. He was also chosen first moderator and register of the Congregational church when it was organized.®264: 115-18

Jeremiah and Abigail had two more children soon after they moved to Cornwall, making eight children in all. Sons Jeremiah Jr. and Asahel lived with him until his death.®74: 71 Obituaries were in the Norwich Courier 9 Mar 1842: 286; Hartford Courant 12 Mar 1842: 1011; American Sentinel 16 Mar 1842: 185.®67 In his later life he boasted that he had fifty grandchildren and only two had died in infancy. Several letters he wrote to his grandchildren between 1819 and 1840 survive.®73 They show his great concern for family, thoughts on religious subjects, and a gift of poetic composition.

Abigail Hawkes Perry Bingham, his first wife, had died 17 May 1817 age seventy-two. A second wife, widow Anna Smith of West Haven, Rutland Co Vt survived Jeremiah. After his death, she lived with the Ira Allen family in Fairhaven and died in 1852 age ninety-two.®92: 243

Jeremiah's estate was slow to be settled. He provided for all of his grandchildren, but left a considerable amount to various religious groups including the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. Although his will was filled 16 March 1842 and sons Jeremiah Jr, and Asahel were executors, it was twenty years before the estate was completely settled. By then both sons were dead.

Calvin, the tenth and last child of Joseph and Ruth Post Bingham, was born in Norwich CT. When he was eleven years old, his family moved to Charlemont, then Hampshire Co MA. Calvin lived in Charlemont until about 1773. Shortly before the beginning of the American Revolution, he moved to Bennington with his older brother, Jeremiah. They bought a farm and improved the house, then brought their parents from Charlemont to live with them. The first recorded deed indicating that Calvin and his brother, Jeremiah, lived in Bennington was dated 1779. It was for 100 acres of land, the southwest part of lot number 58.®69: Bk 3: 27.

A few years after settling in Bennington, Calvin married Lydia Denton of Amenia, Dutchess Co NY. He was twenty-seven, she was twenty. Their thirteen children were born in Bennington between 1778 and 1802. The 1790 U.S. census for Bennington Co VT indicates twelve people in his household accounting for his children born to that date and his parents.®39: 17

Calvin was a farmer and did not take an active roll in town life, although he did serve as surveyor of highways in 1784.®20: 142 But Calvin did deal in land and both the Bennington and Shaftsbury deed books record many of his land transactions.

From 1813 until he died in 1831, Calvin was a deacon of the old First Church in Bennington. He died age eighty. Calvin's only son to remain in Bennington, Stephen, was executor of the will. Both Calvin and Lydia were buried in what is now called the Old Bennington part of the Bennington cemetery.

Died: 26 Apr 1791 Ellington, Tolland Co CT®5: 2; Will: 21 Apr 1791 East Windsor Pbt Dist®03: No 501

Ithamar was born just six days before his year old sister, Mary died. He thus became the oldest child of John and Mary Moulton Bingham. He lived in Windham until he was about ten years old when the family moved to Norwich. In 1746, when Ithamar was about twenty-two, he moved again with his family, this time to Goshen (Ellington, 1786) CT, then a division of East Windsor, Hartford County. There he met and married Sarah Kellogg, date yet to be located, but before his father-in-law, Nathaniel Kellogg, died, for Ithamar served as administrator for the estate. Ithamar had also served as administrator for his father, John's, estate in 1747 when he became the legal guardian of this youngest brother, John.

During the French and Indian War, Ithamar enlisted 4 April 1755 and served until 6 Dec 1755 as company clerk of the 1st company of the 1st Connecticut militia regiment. He signed up again in March, 1756 to be commissary of the hospital that was part of the expedition against Crown Point. Pay for the position was £4.®19 (1751-57): 483 He "distinguished himself for bravery and in the efficient and energetic discharge of his duties in furnishing supplies to the expedition."®1: 193

During the American Revolution, Ithamar again served as an assistant commissary issuing supplies to Connecticut troops. After adjusting his accounts with the pay table, he claimed that he was due £267.13.9 and petitioned the Connecticut legislature for depreciated notes similar to those issued to officers and soldiers of the Continental Line. His petition was denied.®63: 187

Ithamar died 26 Apr 1791 age sixty-six. His will, filed in the East Windsor Probate Court was administered by his son, Ithamar.

Named for his father, John was the youngest child of John and Mary Moulton Bingham. According to the Norwich vital records, he was born 11 Dec 1737. For his first nine years he lived in Norwich, but when he was ten in 1746, John moved to Goshen (Ellington, 1786), part of East Windsor Twp, then Hartford Co CT where his father had purchased a farm. The next year, 1747, John's father died and oldest brother, Ithamar, became John's guardian.

How John spent his next twenty years is unknown, but he had married Sybil Wright of Windham and was living in Mansfield CT by 1767 when their first child, Sybil, was born. By July 1770, John and family had moved to Montague, then Hampshire Co MA. Five more children were born in Montague, including female twins who lived to marry and have children of their own.

During the American Revolution, John enlisted in Capt. Vine Elderkin's company from Windham. He served as a sergeant for three years from 6 Apr 1777 to 6 Apr 1780. The company formed part of Col. Heman Swift's 7th regiment of the the Connecticut Line and saw action at Germantown, Valley Forge, and Stoney Point.®64: 218

When John returned home he moved his family to Gilsum, Cheshire Co NH. His last four children were born in Gilsum between 1780 and 1787. Thus, John and Sybil had ten children all of whom lived to adulthood, married, and had families. As reported in the 1790 U.S. census for Gilsum, John's five oldest daughters had either married or were away from home working by 1790. The four sons and youngest daughter were still at home.®39: 17 The 1800 U.S census reveals that there were still four males in the household other than John, and the number of females in addition to Sybil, had increased by two. John and Sybil lived in Gilsum until their deaths just seven days apart in 1815. John was seventy-eight years old.

Mar (2): 12 Apr 1764 Elizabeth WARNER Mansfield, Windham Co CT®60: 214, 417
Mar (3): 1774 AMES Lebanon, Grafton Co NH
Died: 1810 Cornish, Cheshire Co NH

Jonathan was born in Windham 20 Feb 1735, nine months after his parents married and baptized 22 February. His mother, Mary Abbe, died twelve days after he was born.®16 A year later, his father married widow Sarah Upton Vinton. Jonathan not only had a new mother, but also a new sister, and he became the second oldest in the family.

Jonathan grew up on his father's farm in Windham and at the age of twenty-five married Rachel Mudge. Rachel was the sister of Lydia Mudge who had married Jonathan's uncle, Samuel Bingham (1.9b.2.). Jonathan and Rachel's first born were twins, but Rachel and one twin died. Rachel's sister, Lydia, and her husband, Samuel Bingham (1.9b.2.), adopted the other twin.

Jonathan married, second, Elizabeth Warner. Their marriage took place in Mansfield's First Church 12 Apr 1764. They had two sons whose births were recorded in Mansfield before Elizabeth died.

Jonathan married for a third time, perhaps in 1774, a woman from Canaan, Grafton Co NH. Her last name was Ames. Her first name is not known. They had two children who can be accounted for and probably a third. The first child may have been been born in Scotland CT in 1774. But by 1776, Jonathan lived in Lebanon, Grafton Co NH.®89: 12 By then his children from his second marriage would have been nine and eleven, but records do not indicate if they were living with him or not.

By 1790, Jonathan lived in Cornish, Cheshire Co NH where the U.S. census recorded him with one male under sixteen and one female over sixteen. Jonathan's three oldest children would have been on their own by 1790. The 1800 U.S. census for Cornish showed Jonathan and wife over forty-five with one male over sixteen, one female over sixteen, and one female under sixteen. From this data, we can deduce that son Frederick was the child born in 1774, and that daughter Amy died after 1800. If Amy died after 1800 and she was seventeen at the time, as previously reported, then she was born 1784 or after and was the youngest female.®1

Jonathan was active in Cornish town affairs serving as surveyor of highways, fence viewer and tithingman before he became deacon in 1804.®149 He appeared on the U.S. census for the last time in 1810 as he died in that year age seventy-five.

Died: 10 Mar 1814 Windham CT®67; Bur: Windham CT®67

Maltiah was the second child of Jonathan and his second wife, Sarah Upton Vinton, but the fourth child in the family. He grew up on his father's farm in Windham.

Maltiah's military career began during the French and Indian War and lasted through the American Revolution. He was first involved at the age of nineteen when he joined the colonial forces sent to reinforce Fort William Henry in August 1757. He served fifteen days in either or both Capt. Jonathan Rudd's 1st company and Capt. Durkee's 5th company of the 5th Connecticut regiment. The following year, 1758, Maltiah was on the payroll of Col. Fitch's 3rd Connecticut regiment. After the war, Maltiah remained active in military affairs and in 1770 was a captain of militia for Windham.

He married Mercy Wright 14 February 1771 in Windham. Records indicate they lived on the Windham farm with his parents. They had two sons before Maltiah joined the American revolutionary forces. Serving as a commanding lieutenant of militia, he answered the Lexington alarm in 1775 and served about three weeks before returning home to get fresh troops and return to Boston. His was one of four companies from Windham. From 1 May to 7 December 1775, he was posted as second lieutenant in Capt. Ebenezer Mosely's 9th company composed of Windham men and attached to Col. Israel Putnam's 3rd Connecticut regiment of militia.

In August 1776, he was called out again with his company to go to NY in Col. Storrs regiment. He returned in December and was home for only a few days before receiving orders to march immediately to Providence RI. He was there for two months. His last service was a week in New London when the British burned that town. For his service, Maltiah received a pension.®181: W21, 667 His wife, Mercy, appeared on the pension roll of 1835 living in Windham with her daughter, Betsey Bingham Lincoln.®91: 57

Maltiah first appeared on the U.S. census in 1800. Windham's enumeration showed his household with one male 10-16, one female 16-26 and two females 45 and over, plus himself.®90: 704 The 1810 U.S. census for Windham also included Maltiah.®136: 579

Maltiah died, intestate, in 1814 age seventy five. He was buried in Windham.®67 His inventory and administration were handled in Windham Probate Court.®9: 7-8: 64, 117 His two daughters, Betsey Lincoln and Irene Stowell were administrators. Wife, Mercy, lived to be ninety-six years ears old. From 1774 until her death in 1841, she was on Windham's First Church communicants list.®16.

Died: 21 Dec 1821 Wheatville, Genesee Co NY

Also known as William, Elisha was Jonathan and Sarah Upton Vinton's third child. He grew up on his father's farm in Windham, but before he was thirty moved to the Lebanon-Enfiled area of Grafton Co NH where his older half brother, Jonathan (1.2.8a.1.) lived.

Elisha married Hannah Slapp 12 Apr 1770.®TAR Her father had a grist mill in the Lebanon area. The births of their first three children, 1771-74, were recorded in Lebanon, but the Lebanon Town Book claims that Elias, their second child, was the first child born in Enfield. The rest of their eleven children were born in Enfield between 1776 and 1792.

As the area developed, Enfield became a town in its own right. In 1775, Elisha was an Enfield selectman whose task was to take a census of men able to bear arms. After the Revolutionary War began, Elisha enlisted 23 Jul 1777 and served until 18 September as a corporal in Capt. Hendee's company of Col. David Hobart's New Hampshire militia regiment. When the war was over, Elisha served a term as Enfield town clerk in 1786.

In 1790, Elisha and family were enumerated on the U.S. census for Enfield. The family consisted of three males over sixteen, 4 males under sixteen and four females.®39: 31 This accounts for the entire family born to that date. The last child, a daughter named Mary, was born 29 Mar 1792. Elisha's wife Hannah died three months later 14 Jun 1792. In 1797, the family broke up. Baby Mary/Polly was raised by her mother's sister, Mehitable Slapp Hough.

Elisha moved to Jay, Essex Co NY and Elias, Edward and Abel joined him.®309: 214 Both Elisha and son, Elias, appeared in Jay on the 1800 U.S. census and Elias, Edward and Abel were listed on the 1810 census.®90: 323: 2; ®136: 17 Oldest son, Alfrad, stayed with the farm in Enfield through 1804 as shown on the property tax rolls.®TAR He then may have moved to NY state and was the Alfred enumerated in Lisle, Broome Co in 1820.®113: 4 While in Jay, Elisha served as Fife Major in Sanford's unregimented militia battalion during the War of 1812.®310

Elisha died in Wheatville, Genesee Co NY in 1821 at his son, Abel's home.®TAR Elisha was eighty-one years old when he died.

Adonijah, the first son and oldest child of David and Hannah Bingham probably did not marry. Born at Bozrah 16 Jun 1743, where his parents lived, he remained there all his life. During the American Revolution, he was a private in a provisional regiment company under Capt. Nehemiah Waterman and was liable for service only when called. The Elizabeth that an earlier researcher reported he married was, instead, his sister as the birth and death dates were the same as those recorded for sister, Elizabeth, in the family bible.®22; ®1 Since there is no record of Elizabeth's marriage, nor death dates for spouses, it is probable that Adonijah and Elizabeth lived together in their parents' house after their parents died. Adonijah did not appear on the U.S. census for Bozrah until 1800 when he was fifty-seven years old.®90: 764 By then his father, David, had died. Adonijah was again on the 1810 U.S. census for Bozrah.®136: 220 Elizabeth did not appear as the head of household on the U.S. census at any time. Adonijah died a month short of his sixty-ninth birthday.

Nathan was the only child of David and Hannah Bingham's seven children to marry and have children of his own. His parents were second cousins. Nathan was born in Bozrah 24 March 1752 and lived there all his life.

He married Susannah Stark when he was twenty-five years old. They were married in Lebanon where she attended the Goshen Church. They had three children before she died age twenty-six, three weeks after the last child was born. While they were married, Nathan served in the American Revolution and was on the payroll of 9 July 1779 in the 20th militia regiment under Col. Samuel Abbott. In 1782, he served as a sergeant in Capt. Nehemiah Waterman Jr.'s company of Col. Benjamin Leffingwell's provisional regiment of militia.

Nathan married, second, Zerviah Sabin, 29 Jan 1784. She and Nathan had six children in their first ten years of marriage and all lived. Zerviah's father, Isaac Sabin, was a minor land speculator and had purchased a share in the Susquehanna Company's operations in northeastern Pennsylvania. After he died, Zerviah and Nathan sold their right in the share.®28: Liber I: 174-5 Nathan was also active in other land transactions in the Lebanon area. Ezra died as a result of his service in the American Revolutionary War. Born 17 Jun 1754 in Bozrah, he was almost twenty-one when he served in the Lexington alarm of 19-20 April 1775. He returned home to enlist in the militia 9 May 1775 and served as a private in Capt. Mott's 7th company of Col. Parson's 6th Connecticut regiment of militia, but only for two months. Ezra died 13 July 1775, perhaps as a result of wounds received at the Battle of Bunker Hill, the only battle to have occurred during the time he served, or of dysentery or other camp fever.®63: 187; ®64: 19, 76 Ezra's death date is verified by his parents' entry in their family bible.®22

The youngest child of David and Hannah Bingham, Martha remained at home and did not marry. Born 14 Aug 1756, she lived to be sixty-five years old and died 11 March 1822 in Bozrah. She was the one who completed the family bible records and left accurate dates and ages for each sibling's death. She was the last sibling to die. It is not known with whom she lived or who entered the record of her death. She does not appear as head of household on the U.S. census.

Died: 1817 Windham CT; Will: 1817 Windham CT, Windham Pbt Crt®3: No 391

Nathaniel, the oldest child of Isaac and Sarah Backus Bingham was born in the Scotland section of Windham. Although he was baptized in Windham's First Church 24 June 1733, Nathaniel and his parents became part of the newly formed Scotland congregation in 1735. At the age of twenty-three, he married Martha Baker. Their child, Alexander, was born 11 June 1757.

In 1790, Nathaniel appeared on the 1790 U.S. census for Windham with 2 males over 16, one male under 16 and 3 females.®39: 153. He lived next to his father, Isaac. On the 1800 U.S. census for Windham, he was recorded with 3 males and 5 females. Both of these accountings provide evidence that son, Alexander, and his three children lived with Nathaniel. Further, Nathaniel's will provided the privilege for his granddaughters, Lucy and Sally to live in his house, and he made grandson, John, executor of his estate.

Born: 25 May 1735 Windham CT®5: 31
Died: 5 Jan 1816 Scotland, Windham Co CT; Will: 1816 Windham Pbt Crt®3: No. 362

Eunice grew up in the Scotland Church area of Windham. Although little is known of her life, a church record does survive. At the age of seventeen, on 7 Nov 1752, she and six other young women of Scotland church had "liberty to build in the sete behind the front sete in the women's gallery. Provided they build within a year and raise the pue no higher than the sete is on the mens' side. Never ye less," says the chronicle, "ye above said have built said pue higher than ye order and if they do not lower ye same within one month from this time, the society committee shall take said pue away."®8: 553

Eunice did not marry, but lived with her younger sister, Temperance, who also did not marry. Together, they appeared on the 1790 U.S. census for Windham as two females over the age of 45.®39: 75 Eunice died 5 Jan 1816, eighty years of age. Sister, Temperance was her executor and lived until 1828.

1.7.2.5. Silvanus BINGHAM (Isaac, Nathaniel, Thomas)
Born: 7 May 1741 Windham CT®5: 35
Died: 19 Nov 1762 Windham CT®5: 35; Will: 17 Dec 1762 Windham Pbt Crt®9: 3: 316

Silvanus was the fifth child and fourth son of Isaac and Sarah Backus Bingham. He escaped the disease that killed his two older brothers when they were six and seven and he was only four, and grew to manhood in the Scotland Church sector of Windham CT.

When a young man of nineteen, the war against the French and Indians was well under way and Silvanus enlisted in Col. Fitch's company, Connecticut provincial regiment. He must have seen action for he was recorded as being in His Majesty's Hospital at Albany between June 13 and Oct 31, 1760. Later, beginning 19 Mar 1762, Silvanus was on the payroll of Capt. Durkee's third company, Gen. Phineas Lyman's 1st regiment, as sergeant, but on 19 November, 1762 he was recorded, dead. Thus, at age twenty-one, he was the third son of Isaac to die. His oldest brother, Nathaniel, was the only one left to carry on the line.

1.7.2.7. Temperance BINGHAM (Isaac, Nathaniel, Thomas)
Born: 26 Jan 1746 Windham CT®5: 35
Died: 22 Oct 1828 Scotland, Windham Co CT®67; Bur: Scotland CT®67

Temperance was the seventh child and third daughter of Isaac and Sarah Backus Bingham. However, by the time she was born two brothers and a sister had already died, thus Temperance was the fourth child to survive. She lived in the Scotland Church area of Windham and apparently remained at home as an adult, unmarried. After her parents were both dead, she and her unmarried sister, Eunice, lived together.®90: 75 Temperance outlived her sister by sixteen years, but died at nearly the same age. She was eighty-two.

Jeremiah Jr. was the first son and fourth child of Jeremiah and Mary Brewster Bingham. He was born and grew up in the Scotland section of Windham CT. At the age of twenty-two, Jeremiah married Esther Palmer, daughter of a separatist minister.

During the American Revolution, Jeremiah served four terms, was credited with nine months service, and received a pension under the law of 1832. His first term was for two months beginning 1 February 1776 and he was sent to Cambridge and Roxbury MA. His second term was for a month and a half. He entered from Windham, but served at Providence RI in Capt. Jonathan Rudd's company, Col. Brown's regiment. His third term was for four months. He joined the company at New London 1 August 1777 and was appointed sergeant 12 September. His fourth term was for two months from August to October 1779 when he served around Groton CT.®64: 657; ®181: 12, 211

Jeremiah and his family were enumerated on the 1790 U.S. census for Windham living close to brother, Uriah, and sister, Mary, and her husband, Asa White.®39: 153 Esther, Jeremiah's wife, lived to be seventy-eight years old. Jeremiah lived to age eighty-six.

DESCENDANTS OF SAMUEL

CHILDREN OF ABISHA (Samuel, Thomas)

1.9a.2.2. Abisha BINGHAM (Abisha, Samuel, Thomas)

Bapt: 26 May 1734 Windham CT®16

Mar: Feb 1755 Ann SAWYER (Elijah SAWYER, Hannah TERRIL) Windham CT®55: 29; Born: 28 Feb 1735; Died: 29 Oct 1813 Windham CT; Bur: Windham CT®67

Abisha was the second child and first son of Abisha and Mary Tubbs Bingham. He was probably born in the Scotland area of Windham Co CT before the church there was organized and thus was baptized in the Windham church. At the age of twenty, he married Ann Sawyer at Windham, but they lived in the Scotland area.

The same year, Abisha served as a private in the French and Indian War campaign of 1755. He was in Capt. John Terry's company of the 1st Connecticut regiment. Abisha also served fifteen days in Capt. Jonathan Rudd's 1st company in the 5th regiment in August 1757 as part of the contingent drafted to relieve Fort William Henry. Another record credited Abisha with fifteen days in Capt. John Fitch's 1st company.

Between the French and Indian War and the Revolutionary War, Abisha and Ann had eight children. One died young, one did not marry, and one died a prisoner, but five lived to adulthood and had children. After their first six children were born, Ann became a member of Windham's First Church.®16

During the summer of 1769, Abisha may have ventured to northeastern Pennsylvania with the Susquehanna Company settlers, but he was definitely there in the summer of 1770 as his name was added to the general roll on 11 June.®23: 497; ®31: 87 Abisha did not remain in Pennsylvania, although his daughter, Sarah, and her husband, Adrial Simmons, did move to Pennsylvania in 1785.

Instead, when the American Revolution began, Abisha enlisted in a Dutchess Co NY regiment in 1775. He served as a private and corporal.®219: 6021; ®218: I: 26 In 1776, Abisha returned to Connecticut and enlisted as a sergeant in Col. Seth Warner's Connecticut Line, the regiment which was raised at large from Connecticut, New Hampshire, and Massachusetts. The regiment was federalized giving Abisha the benefit of being a continental soldier for three years from 1 Jan 1777 to 1 Jan 1781 and thus eligible for depreciated wages. The regiment saw action at Bennington, Saratoga, and Fort George where it was overwhelmed and nearly all the men were captured or killed.®64: 258 If Abisha was captured, he managed to escape. On his enlistment record, Abisha reported himself as from Hartland, Litchfield Co CT. His daughter, Lucretia, however, was of Windham when she married in 1784.

When and where Abisha died is unknown, but his wife was buried in Windham and at least three of his children, Elias, Asahel, and Anne, lived in Hartford, Windsor Co VT before 1800.

Mar: about 1758 Sarah CLARK Scotland CT; Died: 1799 Marlow, Cheshire Co NH; Will: 6 Dec 1799 Cheshire Co NH
Died: 1774 Walpole, Cheshire Co NH®140: No.9

Abner, the second child of Abisha and Mary Tubbs Bingham, was baptized in 1735 at the Scotland Church in Windham CT, the year the congregation was formed. Presumably, Abner lived in Scotland during his childhood, and there he married Sarah Clark and had three children.

By the time he was thirty-two years old in 1767, Abner and family lived in Marlow, Cheshire Co NH along with his mother's relatives, Joseph and Abisha Tubbs. On 12 Sep 1767, Abner received title to ninety acres next to Solomon Gee, his sister Martha's husband, in the right of Elisha Ely. On 30 Sep 1768, sixty more acres in Marlow were surveyed for Abner, this in the second division in the right in Elisha Ely. In 1770 and 1771, Abner was chosen by the town meeting to overlook highways.®87: I: 47, 53-5, 64-5, 299, 347-8 And on 7 Jan 1772, Abner appeared on a list of "Heads of Families in Marlow" and he was referred to in the records as a cordwainer, or shoemaker, and yeoman.®88: 9: 546

Abner's life was cut short as he died at Walpole, near Marlow, in 1774 age thirty-nine or forty. His brother-in-law, Solomon Gee, was assigned administrator of his estate and guardian of his three children, Ripley, John Clark, and Faith.®140: No. 10 Administration of his estate passed to his widow, Sarah, 31 Oct 1780 when she also became the guardian of John Clark.®140: No.35 It was not until 1784 that Faith's guardian was changed to Benjamin Baxter and he receipted at Marlow for Faith's full portion of the estate, £20.04.

Sarah died in 1799. On 25 June, son, John Clark was appointed administrator of her estate, on 28 June he submitted the estate inventory, and on 10 Dec 1799, he rendered his final account.®140: No.113

1.9a.2.4. Reuben BINGHAM (Abisha, Samuel, Thomas)

Born: Bapt 9 Apr 1738 Scotland CT
Mar: Mary
Died: after 1821 Grand Manan, Charlotte Co NB

Reuben fought in the French and Indian War and the American Revolution, then settled in Grand Manon NB. His military experience began in Scotland CT just before his sixteenth birthday when he was mustered in 6 April 1756 and assigned to 1st Lt. James Tracy's 2nd company in Col. Payson's 1st regiment. He remained with the second company to 2 Dec 1756. The following year in 1757, he served the fifteen days draft for the relief of Fort William Henry in Capt. Jonathan Rudd's company of the 5th regiment. In 1758 he served as private from 27 May to 20 Nov in Capt. Fitch's 1st company of the 3rd regiment, and near the end of the war in 1762 he was again on the payroll, 5 April to 6 December, of Capt. Fitch's 10th company of the second regiment.

After the French and Indian War, Reuben moved to Lempster, Sullivan Co NH where he appeared on the 1776 census.®89: 12 On 23 January 1776 he was chosen to be one of four men men to lay out the third division of the town.®32: 2: 829; 4: 73

With the outbreak of the American Revolution, Reuben joined the militia company that marched from Cheshire Co NH in 1776 for the relief of Fort Ticonderoga. Then, in 1777 he returned to Ticonderoga in Col. Bellow's NH militia regiment. In 1777 he may also have been in Col. Hobart's regiment of Stark's brigade. However, records do not show that Reuben was in the continental service.

About 1777, Reuben undoubtedly moved from Lempster to nearby Bellow's Falls VT where he was on the Freeman's roll of 1781. In 1781, the Lempster town meeting also discussed whether it would count Reuben's son, Abner, a representative of Lempster for his service in the American Revolution since Abner lived near Charlestown when he enlisted. Further, although Reuben was assessed taxes in Lempster in 1783, he was on the non-resident's list.®32: I: 290

Reuben kept moving, for in 1787 he was recorded as belonging to the Church of England in Rockingham VT, a few miles north of Bellows Falls. By 1790, he had moved a few miles north to Wethersfield, Windsor Co where he appeared on the U.S. census for 1790 and 1800, both in the over forty-five age bracket with one female.®39: 65 ®90: 175

Evidence then shows that Reuben and sons, Abner and Samuel, moved to Grand Manan Island NB. They were listed among emigrants from the United States taking the Oath of Allegiance to his Majesty in 1804 and among those whose lots were surveyed in 1805.®341: No 11: 19; No 22: 14 It would be difficult to believe that two men who had fought against the British would settle in Loyalist territory were in not for son, Abner's, pension application papers. They clearly show that the Abner and Reuben in Grand Manan were the Abner and Reuben in Bellows' Falls and Charlestown. We have no further information about Samuel. We include Mary and Thomas as possible children due to their residency in Rockingham and Wethersfield at appropriate times.

Reuben and Mary were enumerated on the 1821 Grand Manan census, northern district. They died before the next census in 1831.

In 1766 or 1767, Martha and her husband, Solomon, moved to Marlow, Cheshire Co NH, probably with her brother Abner and his wife, Sarah. government officially recognized the Brunswick group in 1774.®8: 57

At the age of thirty-one, Jedediah married Elizabeth Webb. Elizabeth was the sister of Eunice Webb who in 1781 married Uriah Bingham (1.7.4.5). Elias was the seventh child of Lemuel and Hannah Perkins Bingham. Born in Scotland CT, he married Vashti Elderkin in 1776 when he was twenty-three. The births of their first three children, all boys, were recorded in the Windham records.

During the American Revolution, this Elias probably served nineteen days during the Lexington alarm in April 1775, but his main service was as sergeant in Capt. Nathaniel Wales's company of Col. Jonathan Latimer's militia regiment, Aug 24-Nov 6 1777 engaged in the battles at Saratoga.®219: 6043 This Elias is not the Elias who served three years in the Continental Line and was on the 1818 pension list. For that Elias see 1.9a.2.2.1.

At the end of the Revolutionary War, Elias moved his family to Cornish, then Cheshire Co NH. Six more children were born in Cornish 1784 -1796. All ten of Elias and Vashti's children survived childhood; only one, Lydia, did not not marry. The 1790 U.S. census for Cornish showed Elias with his six sons and one daughter and the 1800 census showed Elias with five sons and three daughters. The two oldest boys, Luther and Elias, had left home by 1800.®39: 14; ®90

Elias' wife, Vashti, died 3 Sep 1804 aged fifty-one. They had been married twenty-seven years. By then Elias had become a deacon in his church as her death record indicated. It is interesting to note that Vashti's name appeared on a list of original owners of a township on the Simeon DeWitt location in NY state 18 Oct 1785. The Elderkin family was active in land speculation.

In 1805, Elias married second, Hannah Tomlinson, of Cornish. He was fifty-two, she was forty-one. Their only child was born 27 March 1806. At least seven children from Elias's first marriage would also have been at home. Elias and Hannah were married for twenty-two years. Hannah died age sixty-three. Elias died a year and a half later age seventy-five. He was buried in Cornish NH.

Gideon, the oldest child of Gideon and his first wife, Mary Carey Bingham, was born in Windham CT and baptized two days later 7 Dec 1735 in Windham's First Church.®16 He grew up in Windham and married Ruth Warner when he was twenty-five and and she was about twenty-eight. Ruth Warner's father, Ichabod Warner, owned a grist mill and malt house in Windham and Gideon eventually purchased a half ownership in the business.

Gideon and Ruth had nine children. Their first born, a son, died the day he was born, and their first daughter died when she was eleven. The other seven children lived to adulthood, but only three had children of their own. The 1790 U.S. census for Windham showed Gideon with five daughters and one son living at home.®39: 152

Gideon was fifty-five years old when he died. His five daughters and one son were still living at home. He left all his interest in the mill, malt house, and his dwelling and 50 acres, plus 4 acres of mowing, and 1 1/2 acres at the "nak" to his wife, Ruth. After 1810, his two sons, Oliver and Roger, divided the estate.®3:Windham Pbt Crt :No 366 Roger took the mill on Bingham's Brook, known as Bingham's Mill. Oliver, also a miller, lived close by in Mansfield. In 1895, Roger's descendants, the Waldo Bingham's, still lived in Windham.

William lived in Canterbury all his life. During the war with the French and Indians, William, age nineteen, served fifteen days in the militia from 9-10 Aug 1757 for the relief of Fort William Henry. He was in Capt. Coit's company.

The next year, at the age of twenty, he married Mary Lathrop Nevins, widow of David Nevins. She was nine years older than William. Their first and fifth children died, but they had five other children who lived to adulthood. All the children were baptized in the First Congregational Church in Canterbury, where William was a chorister, although William and Mary lived in Black Hill.®88: 2: 45; ®93 In 1773, the Connecticut general assembly added Black Hill, where ten other families lived, to the Canterbury church. Vital records name a sixth child, Lucy, who lived to the age of eight, as daughter of William and Mary, although she did not appear in the Canterbury church baptismal records.

During the American Revolution, William enlisted as cornet in Major Elisha Sheldon's 5th regiment of Connecticut light horse. In 1777, he was cornet in the 4th company of the 4th regiment of light horse. After that, William contributed to the war effort as a supplier. An invoice he signed dated 27 April 1781, indicated that in return for certificates which were redeemable in hard money, he supplied forage and stable room for forty-nine "German Gentln" and their horses. On the same invoice he apologized for any misunderstanding between himself and the Germans as "...they Understand nothing but what they have a mind to..."®94

William died in 1790 age fifty-two. Mary lived another twenty-six years and died age eighty-six.

Died: 2 May 1816 Canterbury CT; Bur: Plainfield CT

Eliphalet, the third son of Gideon and Mary Carey Bingham was born in Windham. As a young boy of four or five he moved to Canterbury with his parents. At the age of twenty-one, he married Sarah Underwood of East Greenwich RI. She was nineteen years old. Eliphalet and Sarah lived in Plainfield where their first nine children were born, but they were members of the old Canterbury separate church that his father helped form in 1746. When the old church voted to rebuild, Eliphalet joined the Canterbury Congregational Church.®95: 35, 48 Eliphalet's motives may have been mainly financial as he had sold his farm in 1780 in return for depreciated Continental currency and taken quite a loss.

The family moved to Canterbury and the youngest child, Elijah, was baptized in the Congregational Church in 1785.®95: 90 The baptisms of the other children, all done at home, were recorded by the Congregational Church.®95: 88 Eliphalet attended church infrequently. In 1792, the church invited him to present his reasons for not attending and he reached an amiable settlement in the matter, but in 1793, the church committee again expressed concern about his non attendance.®95: 114-6

Eliphalet lived another twenty-three years. He died in Canterbury two days short of his seventy-sixth birthday and was buried in Plainfield. His wife, Sarah, died on Christmas day the same year at her son Elijah Alonzo's home in East Haddam.

Thomas was about three years old when his family moved from Windham to Canterbury. He was a young man of sixteen when his mother died in 1758. Shortly thereafter, he may have served in the war with the French and Indians.

Thomas married Marcia House of Lebanon CT in 1766 when he was twenty-four and she was nineteen. They had twelve children. The first seven were certainly born in Connecticut, probably Lebanon, but their birth dates and locations have yet to be verified.

During the American Revolution, Thomas served one year. He was thirty-four in 1777 when he was commissioned first lieutenant in Capt. Paul Brigham's company of Col. John Chandler's 8th militia regiment, Connecticut Line. He stated in his pension application that he served until March 1778 and was then honorably discharged by Gen. Washington. ®181: S38,550 In exactly which battles Thomas fought, needs to be researched.

Within a few years after his service, Thomas moved his family to Royalton VT. His name appeared on a Royalton petition for a new township dated Jan 1778.®57: 1 Certainly by the close of the war, Thomas and family lived in Royalton. By 1790, the family consisted of 3 males over 16, 5 males under 16, and 5 females.®39: 63 Daughter, Mary, had married in 1785 and son Gideon was not yet born. The third male over 16 is not accounted for. On the 1800 U.S. census, Thomas still had a family of eleven living at home.®90: 172 In 1807, Thomas became guardian for David Bingham, son of his younger half-brother, Samuel (1.10a.2b.1.).®96

Thomas's wife, Marcia, died in 1812. She was sixty-five years old and she and Thomas had been married for forty-six years.

According to his probate records, Thomas married second, Louvisa, perhaps his first wife's sister. He died September 1823, age 81. His son, Harry, was executor of his will. For a poem composed by Thomas see ®1: 405-06.

John was Gideon and Mary Carey Bingham's tenth child and fifth son to survive. Born 26 Nov 1755, he was only three years old when his mother died. His father, Gideon, remarried when John was six and John became the older brother of five more children.

When John was twenty-one he married Eunice Warner, twenty, and then went off to fight in the revolutionary war. He served as an orderly sergeant in the 7th regiment, federalized Connecticut militia, for three years and was allowed pay in depreciated wages when he was mustered out in 1780.®63: 187; ®219: 6066

John and Eunice's first child was born in 1781 after he returned home. They had five more children.

The family lived in the old Bingham house on the hill in Willimantic and tended the grist mill at the "State." John appeared on the 1790 and 1800 U.S. census reports for Windham Co with the entire family accounted for each time.®39: 152; ®90

John and Eunice attended the First Church in Windham, although they probably were not full members since their names did not appear on the communicant's list. Samuel was the first child born to Gideon in his marriage to Abigail Baker, but he was Gideon's thirteenth child and sixth living son. Samuel grew up in Canterbury CT and about the age of twenty-six married Clarissa Huntington of Columbia CT.

In 1790, Samuel and Clarissa lived in Lebanon, Grafton Co NH where their first child was born.®39: 34 By 1800, they had moved to Hanover where they ran a boarding house for Dartmouth College students.®90

Both Samuel and Clarissa had poor health, however, and after Samuel died Clarissa asked the court to appoint John Bush guardian for her two sons 13 Jun 1803. Four years later, 4 Aug 1807, second son, David, was appointed a ward of Samuel's brother, Thomas, who lived in Royalton VT.®96 However, David died age eighteen 5 Feb 1810.®59

Samuel's wife, Clarissa, returned to Columbia CT with her daughter, Clarissa, who later married there.

Johnson was Gideon's fourteenth child and seventh son to live. He was a young lad of twelve in 1776 when he joined the American revolutionary cause and drove an ox team during the removal of the continental stores from Boston to Horwick Landing.®366 When he was sixteen, in 1780, he enlisted 9 April in Capt. Bottom's company from Plainfield in Col. Wells' regiment of the Connecticut militia. His regiment spent its time on guard and patrol duty in the Connecticut-New York border area. In the fall of 1780, after seven months of service, he came down with typhoid fever. He survived and spent the next two years at home recuperating. For his service, Johnson was awarded a pension of $23.30 per year under the Revolutionary Claims Act of 1832.®181: W18,593; ®111: E-11-116

After the war, Johnson became a school teacher. By the age of twenty-six, he was teaching and farming in Shaftsbury VT where he took the Freeman's oath on 7 September 1790.®107 A year and a half later, on 22 Dec 1791, he married Anna Johnson in Canterbury CT. Anna was the daughter of Ebenezer Johnson and Lydia Brewster. Lydia Brewster was descended from William Brewster of the Mayflower through Love, William, Benjamin, and Simon, thus descendants of Johnson and Anna Johnson Bingham are Mayflower descendants.®109

The couple settled in Shaftsbury where their first child, Johnson, was born in early 1793. In January 1794, the military tract in New York was opened for sale and Johnson bought 550 acres, all of section 62 except the state's portion, for $1.25 per acre. The tract was located in Solon township, then part of newly formed Onondaga Co. Anna and son, Johnson, remained in Shaftsbury, while Johnson built a cabin in Solon. In the summer of 1794, Johnson returned to get his family and four cows. They were one of the first seven families in what is now Cortland Co. Like Johnny Appleseed, Johnson planted an apple orchard, and in 1805 he built a sawmill. In 1808, he built his framed house. He also served as Justice of the Peace from January 1801 until he became Associate Judge in 1808 when Cortland Co was formed.®108

Johnson and Anna had nine children. The second child, Joseph, was probably also born in Shaftsbury VT when Anna returned to obtain their money from the sale of their property to Capt. Obadiah Johnson. Eight of the nine children lived to marry and have children. As their inheritance, Johnson provided his four oldest sons with land in Solon when they were in their twenties.®97; ®131: P-201, H-114, O-30, P-239 Youngest son, Samuel, remained at home and inherited the family farm. Johnson appeared on the U.S. census for Onondaga Co in 1800 and for Cortland Co in 1820, 1830, and 1840.®90: 186; ®113: 580; ®115: 2; ®150: 29 The 1810 U.S. census for Cortland Co is missing.

Johnson was seventy-nine years old when he died. Anna, who resided with son, Samuel, after Johnson's death, lived to be so old no one knew exactly how old she was and her date of death and age were confused when a family headstone was erected much later. Both Johnson and Anna were buried in the cemetery behind the Old Baptist Church which they helped to found in Solon.®102

Alice was Gideon and Abigail Baker Bingham's first daughter. Her father was fifty-three at the time of her birth, although her mother was only thirty-one. She had two older brothers by the same mother and at least four older half brothers and sisters living at home. She developed a close relationship with her next older brother, Johnson, and named her first son after him.

Alice grew up in Canterbury and married Richard Cady when she was twenty years old. They continued to live in Canterbury where their seven children were born between 1789 and 1807.

Joseph was Gideon's eleventh living child and the fourth by his second wife, Abigail Baker Bingham. He was born in Canterbury CT where he grew up. By the time he was thirty-two years old, he lived in Greenborough, Orleans Co VT, but he married Sally Stevens in Shaftsbury, Bennington Co VT.®59

Shortly after their marriage, Joseph and Sally purchased land in Preble Twp, then Onondaga Co NY, near his next older brother, Johnson. Preble town records show that Joseph was Justice of the Peace for Preble for the years 1805-1810. He appeared on the Cortland Co and U.S. census records from 1820 through 1835.®131: C-180; ®113: 560; ®115: 135 Joseph was active in town affairs serving as sealer of weights and measures, commissioner of public lands, town clerk, and many other positions between 1808 and 1833.®146 He lived in Preble until 1837. While there, he bought and sold several tracts of land recorded in the Cortland Co deeds. He and Sallie had five children, but she died before 1825. Her grave has not been located.

Joseph married second, Sarah Segar, about 1825, probably in Preble. They had four children between August 1826 and August 1833.

At the age of sixty-six, Joseph sold his farm in Preble.®131: Bk 1: 32 He moved his family to Gilead, then Marion County OH where he appeared on the 1840 U.S. census.®150: 144 By 1850, Gilead was part of Morrow Co and Joseph was enumerated there. Sons Joseph and Dewitt C. and daughter, Lydia, were at home.®92: 501 In 1857, at the age of eighty-five, Joseph died.

Elisha was the fifth and last child of Gideon and his second wife, Abigail Baker Bingham, but he was Gideon's seventeenth child. Elisha grew up in Canterbury and was baptized in the Canterbury church 23 Nov 1783 when he was five years old. Eventually, he became a Baptist minister.

When twenty-eight years old he married in Canterbury, Tryphena Olney. She was twenty years old. They lived in Canterbury from 1806 to about 1813 and their first three children were born there. A fourth child was born in 1814, but his birth was not recorded in the Canterbury records.

Between 1813 and 1817, Elisha and Tryphena moved to Gibson Township, Susquehanna Co PA where Elisha was a minister and a farmer. His last two children were born there in 1817 and 1820.®113: 18

By 1830, Elisha and family had moved to Cortland Co NY where his brothers, Johnson and Joseph lived.®115: 3 Elisha may have served as minister for the Baptist church in McGrawville where he was later buried.

By 1850, Elisha's children were grown, married and gone and only Elisha and wife, Tryphena, were at home.®92: 171 Elisha died age seventy-six. He left one dollar to each of his six children and the rest of his estate to his wife. Died: 26 Aug 1798 New London CT®67; Bur: New London CT®67; Will: 1798 New London, New London Pbt Crt®19: No. 552

Elijah Jr., the first child of Elijah and Theodosia Crane Bingham was born in Windham CT. His mother died when he was twelve and his father remarried when Elijah Jr. was about fourteen. As a young man of eighteen, Elijah served fifteen days in Capt. Jonathan Rudd's 1st company of the 5th regiment drafted August 9-10 for the relief of Fort William Henry during the French and Indian War. He also served fifteen days in Capt. John Fitch's company and was one of the men who attended to the return of the pack horses.

When Elijah was twenty-one, he married Mary Banning Brockway who was five years older than he and had been widowed. He and Mary moved to Lyme CT; they did not move to NH with his father and the rest of the family. During their thirty years in Lyme, Elijah and Mary had eleven children, but only four children had families of their own.

Being close to events when the American Revolution was about to begin, Elijah became captain of the 5th company of the Lyme Train Band in 1774. In June, 1776 when the army was being formed, Elijah became captain of the 7th company of the 4th battalion in Col. Samuel Seldon's regiment of General Jeremiah Wadsworth's Continental Army brigade.®116; ®63 He fought on Long Island and other parts of New York before he was captured 15 Sep 1776. He escaped and returned home.

Before 1790, Elijah moved his family of three boys, and two girls to New London CT where he took over the operation of the Union Coffee House.®39: 122 The yellow fever epidemic of 1798 hit New London and Elijah's family particularly hard. According to contemporary accounts, the first alarm of the epidemic was the death of Elijah on 26 August after an illness of only two or three days. Nineteen days later, on 15 September, Elijah's wife, Mary, daughter Polly, and son, Sluman, died. They were all buried in the New London cemetery.®67

Silas, the second son of Elijah, was eight years old when his mother, Theodosia, died. A year or two later, his father married, second, Sarah Jackson. At the age of twenty-three, Silas married Eunice Hibbard in Windham. They lived in Windham where their six children were born. According to Windham records, three died in infancy. Two more were unaccounted for. Marriage records exist for Lora only, the sole child named in Silas's will.

Silas was an adventurer in the quest for land in his own and his father's name. As early as 5 Jan 1767, Silas's name appeared among the list of original grantees of Lempster NH where he was voted the 28th lot of the first division.®32: 4: 42 However, he did not move to Lempster then. Instead, in February 1769, Silas was one of the original forty who set off for the Wyoming Valley of Pennsylvania on behalf of the Susquehanna Land Company. The men, including Silas, were arrested and arraigned at Easton PA, then freed on bail and scheduled to appear for trial.®26: 3: 91, 214 Silas remained in Pennsylvania awaiting trial.®117: 1: Doc. 14, a-d

At the September trial the men were convicted and fined. Those who could not pay, including Silas, were jailed. But, within a few days they escaped.®26: 3: 184 Some returned to Wyoming, others went back to Connecticut. We know that Silas returned to Connecticut by December as his fourth child was born nine months later.

Silas returned to the Wyoming Valley again in the summer of 1770 when he worked on the road between Wilkes Barre and Kingston.®31: 87 Although Silas drew lots in Kingston by virtue of his father, Elijah's share in the company, Silas sold the share in 1774 and moved to Lempster NH with his father.®28: Liber B-141 Silas was on the list of first voters in Lempster in 1774.

During the American Revolution, Silas served in the Connecticut militia. From 20 June 1776 to 11 Jan 1777 he was in Capt. Benjamin Mills's company of Col. Philip Burr Bradley's regiment in Gen. Jeremiah Wadsworth's brigade. He fought in New York and New Jersey.®118: 251

Silas died in Lempster NH age forty-four. The only child he mentioned in his will was daughter, Lora, to whom he left one hundred acres, a heifer, and three sheep from his own farm. Lora was nineteen at the time. The rest of his estate, including the improvement of the portion he left to Lora, he left to his wife, Eunice, who was sole executor.®140: Bk.1: Vol.1: 94 Since Silas did not mention his son, Asa, born in 1772 and who would have been fifteen when his father died, Asa may have predeceased Silas.

James, Elijah's seventh child, was the fourth child by Sarah Jackson Bingham. Born in Windham CT, James was about sixteen when his family moved to Lempster, Cheshire Co NH. When he was twenty-two, he married Lima Hebard in Lempster, but she died the following year, six months after their only child, James Hervey, was born. James did not remarry for six years.

When he was twenty-nine, he married second, Mary Willey, also of Lempster. James and Mary had eight children, but only five lived to adulthood. Sally died when she was nine, Mary when she was three, and Silas at age eighteen.

James was prominent in Lempster town affairs. He represented Lempster in the state legislature, 1791 to 1798, and again from 1800 to 1806. He also served as selectman for Lempster in 1813 and was a deacon of the First Congregational Church.®32: 3: 410 James also built the most expensive home in town.®380: 186 He was a wealthy wool and flax grower and had a large farm. The family was noted for its musical ability, both instrumental and vocal. They had a particular interest in classical music and had a considerable reputation in Lempster and vicinity. James and family were enumerated on the U.S. census for 1790 through 1820.

Calvin, the tenth child of Elijah and the seventh by Elijah's second wife, Sarah, Jackson, was nine or ten years old when his family moved to Lempster, then Cheshire Co NH as one of the first ten families. Calvin was thirty-two years old when he married Rebekah Glidden of Unity NH. She was only sixteen. They lived just a few miles north of Lempster on a farm in Goshen where they appeared on the U.S. census for 1800 through 1830. Calvin and Rebekah had ten children; three girls died in infancy, but two daughters and five sons lived and had families. Rebekah died when she was fifty-seven. Calvin was then seventy-three so he sold his farm and moved to Acworth to live with his daughter Eunice and family. He died age seventy-seven.

Died: 17 Aug 1846 Claremont, Sullivan Co NH

Lucy, the thirteenth child of Elijah, was a child of six when her father moved the family from Windham CT to Lempster NH. The tenth child of her father's second marriage, she was only fifteen years old when she married Jabez Brainard. They had three children; a daughter died in infancy, but two children lived to marry. The older, Nathan, married his first cousin, Fanny Bingham (1.10a.4b.4b.2.), daughter of his uncle James.

Lucy lived to be seventy-nine years old. She died 17 Aug 1846 in Claremont NH. After she died, her husband, Jabez, moved to Cleveland OH to live with his son and daughter-in-law, Nathan and Fanny Bingham Brainard. Jabez died in 1852 age age ninety-four.

Daughter Harriet married Dr. Ozias Mather. Their descendant, F.G. Mather, contributed extensively to the 1927-1930 version of The Bingham Family in the United States .®1

Died: 23 Jan 1788 Stockbridge MA®102

Jerusha was the wife of one of the most influential missionaries to the Iroquois Nation and the mother of a president of Harvard College. Her parentage, as given herein, has been well established and earlier confusion must not be perpetuated.®390; ®EAK

After she married Samuel Kirkland (he changed the spelling of his surname from Kirtland to Kirkland), she moved to their sixteen square foot hut with attached bedroom in the Oneida village of Kanowarohare, located near present-day Vernon NY.®391 Her first children, twin sons, were born in Gen. Herkimer's house near Little Falls N.Y. The Norwich clerk recorded the place as Canajoharie. Jerusha lived in her wilderness home for two years, but as war approached and Indian allegiances were uncertain, Jerusha returned to Windham CT in 1772. She received £50 sterling from the Society in Scotland for Propagating Christian Knowledge, to purchase a comfortable home. Deciding on Stockbridge MA as the best location since it was the nearest settlement to the Oneida village, she and Samuel purchased a house and farm. Jerusha lived at Stockbridge the rest of her life and although Samuel was away from home much of the time, he was obviously back and forth enough to father nine or ten children. Jerusha died in childbirth in her forty-fifth year; her baby was buried with her in Stockbridge.®EAK Five children survived to adulthood. Her son, John Thornton, president of Harvard College, 1810-1828, credited his mother for her great influence upon his success.®214: 10: 431; ®145; ®392

Jerusha's husband, Samuel, was an important colonial figure in his own right and his work was not restricted to teaching among the Oneida. Although a student of Eleazar Wheelock, who was Jerusha's uncle, Samuel broke his association with Wheelock and shifted his allegiance to a different charitable board. He served as chaplain in the Continental Army during the American Revolution, hired out as an agent for land speculators, and founded the forerunner of Hamilton College in Clinton NY.

Chester was a business man and land speculator particularly in northeastern Pennsylvania. As the oldest son of Joseph Jr., he pursued his father's investment in the Susquehanna Land Company and eventually became a company commissioner.

Born in Windham CT, Chester had two older living sisters. His mother was Sarah Wheelock, sister of Rev. Eleazar Wheelock, founder of Moor's Indian School, the precursor of Dartmouth College. As a young man with lame feet, according to the will of his great aunt, Ann Huntington Bingham (1.4.), Chester was permitted to live and study at the school. Rev. Wheelock also secured for him his small inheritance from her estate. In 1769, when he was not quite twenty-one, Chester broke all connections with his father and went to Albany and Schenectady NY intending to engage in business. However, the situation was not to his liking, and by 1772 he had settled in Sheffield, Berkshire Co MA from where he wrote to his Uncle Eleazar on 28 September. The letter involved controversy over Chester's receipt of his full inheritance. Chester remained in the Sheffield area, working as a leather dresser and as an agent buying and selling property.

About this time, Chester married Martha, last name unknown. According to the 1790 U.S. census, their oldest child was a son born before 1774 and he was alive in 1790.®39: 147 Jerusha, born 28 Oct 1774, was probably their second child. Certainly by 1779, wife Martha was signing her name to deeds recorded at Great Barrington, Berkshire Co MA.®52: 6-372

Shortly after the American Revolution began, Chester enlisted June, 1775 in a company commanded by Capt. Elijah Babcock, Col. Easton's regiment of the Massachusetts Line and joined them at Crown Point. He was at the siege and capture of St. Johns and the action along the St. Lawrence River when the Americans captured Gen. Prescott. He served for nine months. He reenlisted in Mar 1776 as a private in Capt. Titus Watson's 8th company of Col. Charles Burrell's regiment and served until March 1777. For this service, Chester collected a modest pension under the Pension Laws of 1818 and 1821.®181: $37,765 In 1780, Chester probably served four days, Oct 15-18, in Capt Noble's company of Ashley's regiment raised in the Berkshires and sworn in Sheffield as it marched with Brig. Gen. Fellows when the British captured Fort Anne and Fort George.

After his period of military service, Chester joined with nine others in 1779, including Ira and Ethan Allen, and petitioned the Vermont government for a gore of land due east of Fort Ticonderoga®57: 5: 109 With no response forthcoming and the revolutionary war drawing to a close, Chester turned his attention his father's share in the Susquehanna Company's settlement in northeastern Pennsylvania. He sold his house in Sheffield in 1782 and moved to Wilkes-Barre PA.®52: Bk 14: 73 The next year, 1783, the family moved north to Wysox PA and by 1786 had settled in the Susquehanna Company township of Ulster.®28: I: 25 Chester's cousin, Sarah Bingham (1.9a.2.2.2.), and husband, Adriel Simmons, were fellow settlers in Ulster and lived on the adjoining farm.®132: Luzerne Co He also encouraged his brother, Ozias, to move to the area.

Chester and Martha probably had at least two other children by the time they settled in Ulster: Augustus and Joseph. Three more children were born in Ulster. The 1790 U.S. census, credited Chester with two males over sixteen, three males under sixteen and four females. By 1800, he had two sons and one daughter at home.®90: PA: Luzerne Co: 45

Chester became active in the affairs of the Susquehanna Company. He served as agent for many Connecticut shareholders and encouraged them to set out townships and survey their claims despite court action prohibiting Connecticut jurisdiction in the area. In 1794, when the company moved its offices from Wilkes-Barre to Athens PA, Chester became a company commissioner. He traveled widely, selling new shares and laying out new townships.®28: passim His business brought him relative wealth. In 1798, his dwelling was a one and a half story wood home, 20 x 22 feet with five paned windows, and he had a 30 x 40 foot barn on 700 acres.®132: Luzerne Co

Laws prohibited Chester from securing Pennsylvania title to his land in Ulster and personal misfortune took its toll.®335 In 1802, two sons, Chester and Joseph, died in a smallpox epidemic as did his cousin, Sarah Bingham Simmons, and one of her daughters.®121: 7 Aug 1802 Then, in 1809 his wife, Martha died.®121: 20 Jan 1809 Discouraged, Chester sold his property and moved to Lebanon CT, near his sister, Tryphena Bingham Huntington. He married Lydia Ticknor, widow of James Ticknor. In 1816, Chester and Lydia leased a portion of their farm in Lebanon to Job Cook.®14: Vol 22, 88, 150, 196 Chester remained in Lebanon and was enumerated on the 1820 U.S. census for Windham Co.®113: 574 He died 22 Oct 1823 age seventy-five.®67 Lydia died 25 March 1831 age eighty-two.®119

Ozias, fifth child of Joseph and Sarah Wheelock Bingham, grew up in Windham and left home by the time he was twenty-one since his parents rented a farm and had no land for heirs. He made his way to Norfolk, Litchfield Co CT where he married Sarah Phelps and worked as a skin dresser. In 1774, Ozias and Sarah may have moved to Litchfield Twp where the rest of their children were born.

At the outbreak of the American Revolution, Ozias joined the Connecticut militia and served as a private in Capt. John Watson's 9th company of Col. Heman's regiment. He was discharged 23 Sep 1775. The next year, Ozias served from Feb to May 1776 in the New York militia as a sergeant in Capt. Austin's company and saw action in Canada. In January 1778, Ozias joined the Continental Army and received a commission as captain with permission to raise a company of teamsters.®135 He was attached to Gen. Washington's army at White Marsh, PA and fought in the battle of Germantown and wintered at Valley Forge. Ozias was also responsible for driving the artillery captured from Gen. Burgoyne from Saratoga to White Marsh. Illness then forced Ozias to take a leave of absence. Failing to recover, he was mustered out of the army in 1779. For his service, Ozias later received a pension.®181: S22,120

By 1790, the family had moved to Rutland VT where the U.S. census recorded Ozias, his wife, and one other female.®39: 43 If the enumeration was accurate, the data given below for his children by Sarah Phelps may not be accurate.

Between 1790 and 1795, Ozias joined his brother, Chester, in northeastern Pennsylvania. Ozias purchased a farm in Wysox Twp from Moses Coolbaugh, built a house and married, second, Martha Rutty.®132: Luzerne Co; ®124: 72-3 He and first wife Sarah had divorced.®433 Ozias and Martha's two sons were born before 1800 as both children were enumerated on the 1800 U.S. census for Luzerne Co PA.®90: 90 Ozias continued his trade as skin dresser while he improved his farm. In 1826, Martha died age sixty-two and by 1831 both of Ozias's sons by Martha were also dead. Thus, Ozias deeded his farm to grandson John K. , son of George, and went to live with his daughter-in-law, Hannah, George's widow who had married second, Cornelius Coolbaugh.®134; Bk 23-444

At age eighty-nine, Ozias was listed on the 1840 census of military pensioners, one of four living descendants of Thomas Bingham who had fought in the American Revolution.®74: 126 He lived to be ninety-four years old. A family stone marks his grave in Riverside Cemetery, Towanda, Bradford Co PA.®125 In his will, Ozias left bequests to his sister, Celinda, daughters, Tryphena and Sarah, and the children of his deceased sons, John and George.

Ralph, the sixth child of Joseph and Sarah Wheelock Bingham, was named for his grandfather, Ralph Wheelock. Born in Windham, CT, he lived there until he enlisted in the militia at age twenty. He served in the Lexington alarm in April 1775 and as a sergeant of artillery at the Battle of Bunker Hill 17 June 1775.®128: 628 During the campaign, he overexerted and ruined his health. He was honorably discharged and, under the Pension Law of 1789, his state pension was picked up by the federal government.®63: 188; ®399: 17

After his return home, Ralph married Hannah Shattuck. Their first two children died, but their last two children lived. Ralph, Hannah and family continued to live in Windham where they appeared on the 1790 U.S. census.®39: 152 Before 1800, they moved to Hartford CT where they appeared on the 1800 U.S. census.®90 The next year, in 1801, Ralph died aged forty-five. Celinda, Joseph and Sarah Wheelock Bingham's eighth child married, first, a man whose surname was Taylor and probably went with him to Pennsylvania where her older sister, Sarah, and brothers, Chester and Ozias, lived.

In 1798, when Celinda was thirty-six, she married, second, Ebenezer Gregory, at Sheshequin, Luzerne Co PA.®122:5 He was from Tyringham MA and had purchased a quarter share in the Susquehanna Company in 1795.®28: Liber E, 762-3 They lived in a double log house in Towanda which they operated as an inn. About 1810 or 1811, Celinda opened a boarding school, or academy, for girls and attracted students from the surrounding area. She was known as a strict and exacting Presbyterian teacher. The academy was short lived, however, as Celinda and Ebenezer were unable to secure Pennsylvania title to their land purchased from the Susquehanna Company. Consequently, they sold their land and buildings and moved to Owego NY in 1817. Celinda organized another academy; Ebenezer was unsuccessful at his work and died on charity.®122: 288

Augustus Wheelock, commonly called, Wheelock, was the ninth and last child of Joseph and Sarah Wheelock Bingham. Born in Windham, he lived there until he married when he was seventeen, Betsey Huntington, at Franklin CT. Their son, Wheelock, was born in 1784 in CT.®92: NY: Chenango: 264 Other children are unknown.

Augustus and Betsey moved to Hamilton, then Herkimer Co NY by 1796. It is certain that on 17 June 1796 they lived in Hamilton as Augustus gave Hamilton as his residence on a deed for the sale of his half share in the Susquehanna Company which father, Joseph, had given him.®35: I: 54 In 1798, Hamilton became part of Chenango Co and Augustus was enumerated there in 1800.®90: 868 By 1820, Augustus had moved west to Onondaga Twp, Onondaga Co.®113: 105 He was also there in 1830, but not thereafter.®115: 162 Thus, his death date was probably 25 August 1838. An 1838 date would have made him seventy-four when he died.

Died: 19 Feb 1835 Andover, Hebron, Tolland Co CT®67; Bur: Andover CT®67; Inv & Adm: 1835 Hebron, Andover CT Pbt Crt®3: No. 221

Stephen was the oldest of Eleazar and Miriam Phelps Bingham's eight children. He was born at Lebanon CT and baptized 8 Mar 1741 at Lebanon First Church.®127: No. 29: 105 Stephen lived in Lebanon, New London Co until he was twelve years old. He then went to the Andover section of Hebron to live with his grandparents, Stephen and Rebecca Bingham, and to help on their farm. His father, Eleazar, had bought the farm from the estate of Aaron Phelps, Stephen's mother's brother. Stephen worked on the farm for sixteen years. During that time he met and married Sarah Long of Coventry when he was twenty-two and she was about nineteen. Their first three children were born in Andover.

In 1768, Stephen and his family moved to his father's farm in Lebanon while his widower father, Eleazar, and his youngest brothers and sisters moved to the Phelp's farm in Andover. Stephen bought the north half of the Lebanon farm and his brother, Eleazar, bought the south half.®14: 11: 172 Stephen and Sarah had three more children while they lived in Lebanon. They transferred their church membership to Lebanon 20 May 1768 and the three children born in Lebanon were baptized there.®77: 235, 152, 156

When the American Revolution began, Stephen enlisted in the CT militia as an ensign in the 1st company, 12th regiment. The regiment was attached to the 9th brigade under Brig. Gen. Eliphalet Dyer and later under Brig. Gen. Saltonstall when it served in the New York area.®63: 188; ®128: 428, 436, 446, 450 Stephen was discharged or resigned from the militia in April, 1777 and moved his family from Lebanon back to Andover. In 1784, the Connecticut military records called him a miller in Hebron and he appeared on the U. S. census for Hebron for the years 1790, 1800, 1810 and 1830.®63

Stephen and Sarah had four more children in Andover making ten children total. All survived to adulthood although two of the seven boys did not marry. Sarah died when her youngest child was ten, she was fifty-six and Stephen was fifty-nine.

Stephen married, second, Jerusha Sprague of Coventry when she was about forty-two years old. They bought a grist mill in Andover in 1805 and operated it for several years until they sold it to Stephen's sons, Harvey and Cyrus.®TAB: Family records and deeds; ®129: 894-5

Stephen and Jerusha lived long lives and died within less than a month of each other. She was eighty-seven; he was ninety-four. The two of them and first wife, Sarah, were buried in the the old cemetery in Andover, Tolland Co CT.®67

Neither Lebanon nor Norwich vital records give the births of their children.

Born: 7 Jul 1745 Lebanon CT®5: 17
Mar: 25 Dec 1766 Esther LOOMIS Lebanon CT®127; Born: 1748; Died: 1819 Coventry CT®405: 273
Died: 8 Feb 1828 Coventry, Tolland Co CT

Eleazar Jr. grew up on his father's farm in Lebanon and at the age of seven became the oldest son at home when his older brother, Stephen, went to Andover to live with their grandparents. At the age of twenty or twenty-one he married Esther Loomis. The Lebanon First Church records give the date as 25 Dec 1766, but a birth date of 28 Feb 1766 was recorded for his first child.®127 The couple lived with Eleazar's parents on their farm for about two years. During that time, his mother died 13 Dec 1766.

In 1768, his widowed father and five youngest children moved to Andover CT. Eleazar Jr. bought the south half of the Lebanon farm and Eleazar's older brother, Stephen, returned from Andover to buy the north half.®14: Vol 11: 360

Eleazar Jr. and Esther had six children before the American Revolution began. The children were born in Lebanon, but their births were not recorded in the Lebanon vital records or in church records.

When the war began, Eleazar enlisted in the militia and was assigned to Major Ebenezer Backus's 4th Connecticut regiment of Light Horse. The regiment was activated 21 Sept to 2 Nov 1776 and aided Washington's troops after the Battle of Long Island.®13: Vol 57 (Jul 1981): 154-6

Eleazar Jr. and Esther had three more children after his term of military duty. The family of four males and five females was enumerated in Mansfield Township, Windham Co in the 1790 U.S. census.®39: 147 Daughter Parthena had already married. By 1800, their jurisdictional area had changed to Tolland Co.®90 In 1810, Eleazar was enumerated under Coventry, Tolland Co.

Esther died in Coventry in 1819 age seventy-one. Eleazar lived another nine years and died 8 Feb 1828 age eighty-two. He did not appear on the 1820 U.S. census.

Sarah, the fifth child of Eleazar and Miriam Phelps spent her childhood in Lebanon, but at the age of fifteen, after her mother died, she moved to the Andover section of Hebron, Tolland Co with her father and her four youngest siblings. Two years later, when she was seventeen, she married her cousin, Whiting Backus, of Windham. He was twenty-one. Their grandparents, Mary Bingham (1.3.) and Stephen Bingham (1.11.) were brother and sister. Whiting's father was John Jr., son of John and Mary Bingham Backus. Sarah and Whiting had four children whose births were recorded in the Windham records.

1.11b.1a.8. Aaron BINGHAM (Eleazar, Stephen, Thomas)
Born: 12 May 1758 Lebanon CT®5: 17
Mar: Susannah; Born: 1759

Aaron, the youngest child of Eleazar and Miriam Phelps Bingham was born in Lebanon CT. His mother died when he was eight years old and his father moved the youngest members of the family to Andover CT shortly thereafter.

When the American Revolution began in 1775, Aaron, at age seventeen, signed up as a private in the militia and was paid for a half days' training. In 1776, he also served in the militia for a short while. Then in 1777, when Col. John Chandler's 8th regiment of the Connecticut Line was formed and federalized, Aaron enlisted at the rank of corporal. He was promoted to sergeant 10 January 1778 and served out his three years being discharged 15 April 1780. He fought in the battles of Germantown and Monmouth. For his service he was paid in depreciated currency.®63; ®64: 231 This would later have made him eligible for a certificate for land and may be why he moved to New York State after 1800. For his service, Aaron was awarded a pension under the Pension Act of 1818 and appeared on the New York list as a Connecticut pensioner.®64: 641 ®181: S 45,280

After he was discharged in April, 1780, Aaron moved to MA where he again answered the call to arms. On 13 Oct 1780 he served as a private for six days in Fletcher's company, Simond's regiment for the Pawlet alarm.

Aaron married about 1780. By 1790, he and his family lived in Partridgeville Twp, Berkshire Co MA. As indicated on the U.S. census, he had two daughters.®39: 31 By 1800, Aaron and family had moved to South Hero, Franklin Co (Grande Isle Co 1802), VT. The 1800 U.S. census indicted that his first two daughters were born by 1784 and that a son was born between 1784 and 1800.®90: VT: Franklin Co: 78 By 1818, Aaron lived in Plattsburgh, Clinton Co NY with wife, Susannah, and ten year old daughter, Charlotte. CHILDREN OF JEREMIAH (Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)

1.1.1a.4.1. Asa BINGHAM (Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 31 Jul 1744 Norwich®2: 223
Mar (1): 1766 Anne PORTER (Thomas PORTER, Anne WOODWARD) Coventry CT; Born: 28 Feb 1747 Lebanon CT; Died: Jul 1767; Bur: Coventry CT
Mar (2): about 1770 Elizabeth
Died: 9 Apr 1808 Bolton CT; Bur: Bolton, Tolland Co CT®67; Will: 1808 Bolton, Andover Pbt Crt®3: No. 210

The only child of Jeremiah Bingham and Sarah White, Asa was twelve years old when his father died. Asa was born in Norwich, but lived in Coventry CT by the time he married Anne Porter in 1766 when he was twenty-two years old. She died only a few days after their first child, Jeremiah, was born. Asa sent his infant son to be raised by Anne's parents in Lyme, NH while he moved to Bolton CT. He married, second, about 1770 a woman named Elizabeth. Her last name is unknown. Their first child, Edna, was born 20 Jan 1771 and they had three or four more children between 1772 and 1781.

In 1772, Asa bought a 30 acre farm in Bolton from Judah Strong for £51. On 12 April 1773, Bolton admitted Asa a freeman. Since he lived in Bolton during the American Revolution, town records show that he took the oath of fidelity, there, on 22 Aug 1777. And on 24 Jan 1779, he joined the Bolton church where his second wife, Elizabeth, had been a member since 2 Feb 1772 on transfer from the church located in the section of Lebanon called the "Crank."

Asa lived in Bolton until his death in 1808. He appeared on both the 1790 and 1800 U.S. census for Tolland Co.®39:132 ®90: 776

Asa's will was dated 11 Dec 1807 and filed 18 Jun 1808, two months after his death. His estate was valued at $1254.00 and distributed among his wife, Elizabeth, and children Abner, Elizabeth, and Edna and one granddaughter, Amy, daughter of his son, Asa Jr., who had died seven years earlier. Others have suggested that Asa had a daughter, Beulah, who married Luther Burnell of Cazenovia NY 30 Sep 1805/6, but she was not mentioned in Asa's will.

Elizabeth remained on the farm until 1815 when she sold and moved to Ellington CT with her daughter, Betsey, granddaughter, Amy, and son, Abner, and his family.

After his birth in Norwich CT, Hezekiah Jr. next appeared on the 1790 U.S. census for Wallen Papack Township, then Northampton Co PA. He was enumerated as head of household with one male under 16 and one female. Since Hezekiah Jr. was born in 1765, the census tell us that he was married and had one son by the time he was twenty-five, and, since the son, Moses, was sixty years old in 1850, we know he was the child reported in 1790.

Hezekiah Jr. and his wife, Eunice Killam, lived about one mile east of Hezekiah Sr.®45: 951 Their farms have since been flooded in the formation of Lake Wallenpaupack and the name of the area has changed to Palmyra Township, Pike Co. In 1798, Hezekiah Jr.'s farm consisted of a house with no glass windows, a log barn, stable, and work shop on 98 acres and was valued at $80.®132: Palmyra Twp

By 1810, Hezekiah Jr.'s family was complete with one boy under 10, one boy 16-26 and one girl 16-26.®136: Wayne Co, Palmyra Twp:125. The girl, probably named, Abigail, was therefore born 1791 to 1794.

Hezekiah Jr. prospered. He became an assistant assessor, purchased additional land, improved his house and added several animals to his farm so that in 1814 his total worth was $536 and by 1818 he was worth $857.®153, ®48: Mtg Bk 1: 589 ®154: Bk 2: 158 By 1815, he was also a Pike County Commissioner. He was able to loan money to many relatives and friends who were listed as creditors in his inventory when he died intestate age fifty-five in 1820. His widow, Eunice, and brother, Rodolphus, were appointed administrators of his estate. A public sale was held to satisfy his inheritance tax.®152

Hezekiah Jr. was buried in Paupack Cemetery, now Palmyra Township, Pike Co PA®43 Eunice lived with her son, Moses, in Pike County until she died in 1854 age eighty-one and was also buried in Paupack Cemetery.®43 The cemetery was not flooded.

Nancy's husband, John Pellet Jr., was nearly twenty years older than she. He had purchased Spencer Kinne's share in the Susquehanna Company in 1774 and, with his father, had been one of the original settlers along the Wallenpaupack River.®28: Liber B:182®151:382 Undoubtedly, Nancy and John married in what was then the Susquehanna Company's county of Westmoreland located in Pennsylvania. Little is known of the details of Nancy's life, but she is credited with helping to organize the Salem and Palmyra Congregational Church in 1808.®45: 949

From John Pellet Jr.'s estate administration, 14 Nov 1831, it appears that Nancy and he had nine living children in 1831®155:Bk B:101, 378. George Pellet administered his father's estate. 1.1.1b.4a.6. Solomon/Salmon BINGHAM®45 (Hezekiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)

Born: 1773

Mar: Cynthia KILLAM Norwich CT

Solomon, also spelled, Salmon, in some records, was born in 1773, but his birth was not recorded in the Norwich vital records along with his older siblings. Since his father, Hezekiah, with about thirty other men and lads, was laying out a settlement on the Wallenpaupack River in Pennsylvania in the spring and summer of 1773, it is difficult to know whether Solomon was born in Pennsylvania or in Norwich where his mother might have remained until after his birth.®46: 490-1 Where Solomon married is unknown, but the marriage was recorded in Norwich in either the First or Franklin (second) Church.®CHB Solomon and Cynthia were married by 1805 and lived in Lackawaxen, then Wayne County PA, when their oldest son, Oliver, was born. By 1810 when the U.S. census was taken, Solomon and Cynthia had three sons under ten years of age.®136: Wayne Co PA: 122

Although his father willed him 100 acres along the Wallenpaupack River, Solomon worked as a laborer, not a farmer. The Pike Co assessments for 1815 through 1819 indicate that Solomon was quite poor and needed to pay only a very small tax.®157 Indeed, in 1814, Cynthia had deeded household goods to Ira Killam to pay off a debt.®48: B4: 29 In 1817, Solomon deeded his interest in his father's land to his brother, Rodolphus, and in 1820 he moved his family to New Jersey. He was listed as removed in the 1821 Pike Co assessment list and his fifth child was born in New Jersey in 1822.®157 Further details are unknown.

Rodolphus was the ninth and youngest child of Hezekiah and Phoebe Boynton Bingham. He was born in 1784 in Milford, then Northampton Co PA, where his family took refuge from their settlement on the Wallenpaupack River to escape the Wyoming Massacre. He married when he was about twenty years old in 1804 or 1805, Sarah Kimble, grand-daughter of one of the other original Wallenpaupack settlers from Connecticut. Their first child was born in December, 1805.

Rodolphus operated a hotel built on the original family property at Paupack. His father, Hezekiah, willed the property to Rodolphus in 1811. Rodolphus also farmed and kept a few farm animals. Between 1814 and 1818, his net farm value increased several fold as indicated by the tax assessments.®157 In 1815, and again in 1829, Rodolphus served as a county commissioner, in 1825 as assistant assessor, and in 1830, as assessor.®157

When the controversy between the Wallenpaupack settlers and the Penn family over land ownership was finally settled in 1817, it was Rodolphus who dealt on behalf of his family with lawyer, Samuel Sitgreaves, and ended up as final owner of his father's property.®154: B2-319 Between 1813 and 1842, Rodolphus bought and sold a few other tracts of land in Pike and Luzerne counties.®48: B3-537, ®154: B8-113, B7-75, B14-159; ®162: 37: 50; 40: 71

By 1830, Rodolphus and Sarah had quite a house full of children. The U.S. census for 1830 showed them with eight males and five females, which was two more than their own nine living children.®115: Pike Co:18 Then, in 1833 Rodolphus and his nephew, Moses, son of Hezekiah Jr., became guardians of the four minor children of Joseph Ainsley.®159: Bk B: 35-9

Sarah died by burning to death in 1847.®160: 22 Sep After Sarah's death, Rodolphus remained on his farm valued at $10,000 on the 1850 U.S. census, but he employed a young couple, Elizabeth and Edwin Bidwell, to help him®92 In 1851, he bought a lot in the town of Hawley, Wayne Co PA, perhaps intending to relocate. However, he died intestate in 1852. His living children renounced claim to the property and appointed Thomas V. Taft administrator of his estate.®155: Docket C-105-6;® 159: Bk C-79

Hannah was probably one of two girls born after Hezekiah and his family left Norwich in 1773 as her birth was not recorded in the Norwich records. Since it is probable that her father, Hezekiah, listed his children in birth order in his will, Hannah was the older of the two girls. Her birth can probably be placed circa 1775 to 1780. She married Roswell Chapman, perhaps a son of neighbor Uriah Chapman and brother of her sister Leura's husband, Simeon Chapman. Roswell appeared on the 1801 tax list for Palmyra Township, Wayne County. By 1819, Hannah was a widow and her daughter, Phileana, age five to twelve appeared on the township list of children whose parents were unable to provide schooling.®157

Jabez, the oldest child and son of Jabez and Mary Wheelock Bingham, was a trader and spent much of his life moving from place to place. He was born in Windham CT 13 Feb 1749, but the following summer his parents moved to Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT where Jabez spent his childhood. In 1765, when he was about seventeen, his parents sent him to live with his mother's half brother, Dr. Eleazar Wheelock, founder of Moor's Indian School at Lebanon CT. Jabez was employed by Wheelock and assisted in the move of the school to Hanover NH where it later became Dartmouth College. About 1775, Jabez sustained an injury serious enough to cause lameness and place him under the care of a doctor in Wethersfield CT. Two years later, he still described himself as a cripple, but drove a team and traded in goods for the college.®183: Wheelock Correspondence; ®177:179

By 1779, Jabez had married Mary Mitchell and they were settled in South Hadley MA where their first two children were born. Jabez earned his living as a trader and a letter from him to Jeremiah Wadsworth, Quartermaster Department, Continental Line survives in the Connecticut Historical Society.®58 Apparently Jabez also hoped to trade in land for he was an original proprietor in three Vermont townships and in 1783, at a war veteran's meeting in South Hadley, the veterans voted unanimously to have either he or his father deliver a petition to the Vermont General Assembly requesting two new townships.®57: 328-31

Jabez and family moved to Hanover NH where Jabez continued to work for Wheelock until the latter's death in 1789. He and Mary had two or three more children in Hanover. The family was enumerated on the 1790 U.S. census for Hanover Town, Grafton Co with two males over sixteen and four females.®39:32 Mary died the same year, age twenty-nine and was buried in Hanover.®180:59

Jabez married, second, widow Abigail Brown Rowley and their first child was probably born in NH before 1796. With all or some of his children and new wife, Jabez joined his younger brothers, Alvan and Silas, as they made their way toward Ohio in the summer of 1796.®181:Alvan (W5220) Jabez stopped in East Bethlehem Twp, Washington Co PA where he rented a farm and where another child was born 31 Jan 1797.®NNH; ®132

Instead of moving on to OH with his brothers, Jabez remained in East Bethlehem Twp, Washington Co PA where he was enumerated on both the 1800 federal census and the 1800 septennial census for Pennsylvania.®90:765: ®192 One more child was born in 1801.®192; ®90:42:10 Jabez continued to work as a trader and died in Gettysburg PA 5 Sep 1804, probably on business. The family sent his body to South Hadley MA for burial. Son, David, who died in 1812 age twenty-five was buried beside him.®178 Jabez's widow, Abigail, married third, John Mercer and moved to Cannonsburg, Washington Co PA with her children.

Died: 11 Feb 1841 Starr Twp, Hocking Co OH; Bur: West State Street Cemetery, Athens, Athens Co OH; Will: 3: 282 Athens Co Crt House, Athens OH

Alvan lived at home until he was twenty-one and then worked for his uncle Eleazar Wheelock, president of Dartmouth College, at Hanover NH. When the American Revolution began, Alvan enlisted and subsequently served several different tours of duty as his pension application relates. He was given official credit for one year as a private in 1776 in Capt. Jeremiah Parmelee's company of Col. Samuel Elmore's regiment, three months as a private in 1778 under Col. Beedle, one month in 1779 under Col. Ethan Allen and fifteen days as a private in 1779 under Capt. Burrell although his recollection of events did not always correspond to the official record. He generally served as a guard or messenger.®181: (W5220)

In 1780, Alvan married Elizabeth Dorsey Jones and they lived in Salisbury until the war was over. Then they moved to Rutland Co VT in 1783 and lived there until 1796. However, Alvan was not enumerated on the first VT census in 1790.

Encouraged by General Rufus Putnam of Rutland VT and other revolutionary war veterans who had formed the Ohio Company, Alvan and his brothers, Silas and Jabez, moved west. According to his revolutionary war pension application, Alvan claimed he left Vt in June 1796 and headed southwest through Pennsylvania toward Ohio. Brothers Silas and Jabez may have gone earlier for Silas claimed he left in 1794. Jabez remained in Washington Co PA, but Alvan, Silas, and others went on to Belpre, Washington Co OH for the winter. On 9 Dec 1796, Alvan obtained his original grant from the Ohio Company of lots four and five on land in Middletown Twp, later Athens that had been set aside for the future Ohio University.®195: 4: 380; ®196: 205 Early in 1797, Alvan, Silas, and several others made their way up the Hockhocking River to locate their land. Alvan's tract turned out to be just northeast of where the Ohio University green now lies.

Alvan served in many important capacities as the town grew. He was a justice, a treasurer, and commissioner and a judge for Athens Co after it was formed in 1805. He was also an important member of the Presbyterian church and involved in many Ohio University affairs.®197 In 1800 Alvan was enumerated on the OH territorial census and in 1803 on the state census, but for some reason he did not appear on the U.S. census again until 1830.®198; ®115: 246

Alvan prepared and recorded his will in 1839 when he and Elizabeth apparently went to live with daughter Amanda Bartlett in Starr Twp, Hocking Co very near New Plymouth, Vinton Co. In his will, Alvan left Elizabeth $1,000, all pension money due at his decease, wearing apparel and bed and bedding. The rest was to be divided equally among his living children. Alvan died 11 Feb 1841 aged eighty-six and was buried in the East State Street Cemetery, Athens OH. Elizabeth lived to be eighty-six years old. She died 30 Dec 1848 and was also buried in the East State Street Cemetery, Athens OH.

Silas, the fifth child of Jabez Jr. and Mary Wheelock Bingham was born in Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT in 1758, but by the time he was sixteen or seventeen he had moved to Tinmouth, Rutland Co VT to live with his uncle, Solomon. When the American Revolution began in 1775, Silas enlisted for three months. His company was assigned to Col. Seth Warner's Green Mountain Boys and participated in General Montgomery's expedition mainly around St. John's, Quebec. Silas enlisted for a second time for six months in 1776. He was at Ft Washington when the British captured it, but retreated with his regiment and camped near Trenton NJ until his service was over. Silas spent four more short periods in the army in 1777 and 1778, mainly on guard and construction duty. Under the pension law of 1832, Silas received a small pension for his service.®181: S2076

After the war was over, Silas lived with his family in Tinmouth, Rutland Co VT. He had married Irene Royce 4 Jul 1780 and his first four children were probably born in Tinmouth, but they were not reported in the VT vital records. Their fifth child, Silas Jr. was born in Basin Harbor in 1792.

Silas and family moved to Ohio in 1794 to be part of the Ohio Company settlement. They stopped temporarily in Redstone, Washington Co PA where they had another child in 1795. In the spring of 1796, with his brother, Alvan, and Alvan's family, they moved on to Belpre, Washington Co OH where Silas received his grant of land in township nine, range fourteen on land that had been set aside for the future Ohio University.®195: 4: 377 Early in 1797, the family made its way up the Hockhocking River to locate its land and begin settlement. When the town of Athens was laid out in 1804, Silas bought Lot 7 and built a two story log home and used one room to rent to travelers and for court sessions.

By 1987, Silas's log home was the oldest home in Athens. The community moved it to the Ohio University campus and restored and dedicated it as the new visitor center in honor of the celebrations of the bicentennial of the Northwest Ordinance of 1787. Several pieces of furniture for the house were donated by Esther Harris Moses, descendant of Hannah (1.1.6.2.5a.5.4.) through daughter Estelle Howe who married Charles W. Harris and had one son Charles H. Harris, author of The Harris History and father of Esther Harris Moses.

In 1816, Silas's wife, Irene, died. He married, second, Lucy Kingsbury, third, Mary Guthrie, and fourth, Martha Herrold. Silas employed Martha's son, Joseph, to work at the mill he had built across the river from his home at the present-day junction of Ohio routes 56 and 682. Joseph purchased the mill in 1839.®201: 10: 98; ®203: 25-6

Silas died in 1840 age eighty-two. He left everything to wife Martha who was to support their son, Hiram, then age fifteen. Silas's inventory claimed that he died leaving minor children and names three girls who might actually have been his son Silas Jr's, children. He did not name an unmarried daughter, Abigail. Royal Bingham, Silas's grandson completed the administration of the estate.

In point of time, Caleb is the earliest descendant of Thomas Bingham of Connecticut to be in the historical volume of Who Was Who in America.®210 He was also famous enough to be included in the Dictionary of American Biography.®214: 273-4

One of the first American writers of textbooks, Caleb was also the first Bingham to attend Dartmouth College. He graduated valedictorian in 1782. For his first job, he became master of Moor's Indian Charity School, 1782-84, founded by his half-uncle by marriage, Eleazar Wheelock. The school was the forerunner of and later attached to Dartmouth College. Caleb moved to Boston in 1784 with his friend Elisha Ticknor to conduct a private school for girls. He wrote and published his first English grammar text for use in the school.

Due to his success, he was asked to help reorganize the Boston Public Schools in 1789 and was then appointed master of one of the three new reading schools. He worked for the public schools for seven years.

Caleb then entered the book selling and publishing business and made his shop the center for educational innovation in Boston. He published his famous book, The American Preceptor in 1794. It went through at least sixty editions between then and 1832 and was the principal American text used for teaching reading and elocution, and concurrently, morals and ethics and even geography.®215 Caleb published several other books as well. At the same time, he served as a director of the MA state prison system.

Caleb had married Hannah Kemble in Boston in 1786. They had four daughters, but only two lived to maturity. After Caleb's father, Daniel, died in 1805, Caleb became the owner of the family farm at Twin Lakes, Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT, although he lived in Boston. In 1803, he had donated a collection of children's books to the Salisbury Library. On the 175th anniversary of this donation 14 of the 159 books were still in the library collection.®222: 7-8 Caleb died just short of his sixtieth birthday in 1817. Hannah went to live with daughter, Sophia, in Washington, D.C. and died there in 1820.

CHILDREN OF BENJAMIN (Jabez, Thomas, Thomas)

1.1.6.5a.1. Royal/Rial BINGHAM (Benjamin, Jabez, Thomas, Thomas)

Born: 20 Jun 1755 Windham, Windham Co CT®5:34

Mar (1): about 1780 Electa DOCKSTADER®205: 154: 138-9

Mar (2): about 1797 Catherine TYLER ®205: 122: 253

Royal, or Rial, also spelled Riel, was the oldest son of Benjamin and Sarah Stewart Bingham. Born in Windham 20 Jun 1755, he moved to Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT with his family about 1761. He was exactly the right age to enlist when the American Revolution began and he continued in military service throughout the war. He enlisted with other men from Salisbury 7 Feb 1776 in a call to reinforce the northern army and served as a private in Capt. Luther Stoddard's 6th company of Col. Burwell's battalion of Connecticut regiments. He was probably the Royal who enlisted on 6 Jul 1777 from Stockbridge MA as a private for fifteen days in Downing's company of Ashley's regiment and went to the aid of Gen. Schuyler at Kingsbury. The next year he served as a sergeant in Capt. John Ensign's company of Col. Mosley's CT regiment stationed at Fort Clinton, West Point NY. His name appeared on the company muster roll from 19 July to 1 Aug 1778.

The next record of his military service was with the state of New York. In 1781-1782 he was a lieutenant and served as an enlistment officer and in 1783 his name appeared on a list of officers in Col. Willet's regiment raised for the defense of the frontiers for eight months beginning 1 April.®218: I:260 For his military service with NY, Royal was eligible for bounty land in New York.

Judging from the five children he had in 1790, Royal had married Elizabeth Dockstader about 1780 when he switched from serving in the CT militia to the New York militia. In 1790, they lived in Caughnawaga Town, Montgomery Co NY.®39: 104. Elizabeth died between 1795 when daughter, Elizabeth, was born, and 1797 when Royal married, second, Catharine Tyler. He and Catherine had at least one child. Royal's name did not appear on the Montgomery Co federal census from then on, but the name Regal Bingham did appear in 1800 for Onondaga Co.

1.1.6.5a.2. Benjamin BINGHAM (Benjamin, Jabez, Thomas, Thomas)

Born: 5 Jun 1757 Windham, Windham Co CT®5:30

Benjamin, the second child of Benjamin and Sarah Stewart Bingham was sixteen years old when his mother died in 1773. Since his older and younger brothers enlisted as soon as the American Revolution began, and Benjamin was of the correct age, it is probable that he enlisted also. The Benjamin who served as corporal in Ebenezer Allen's detachment of VT militia and as sergeant in Fletcher's

VT regiment is probably this Benjamin.®219: 6030, 6031, 6032, 6036

When the war was nearly over, Benjamin joined the large number of military men seeking land in Vermont. His was the second name on a January 1782 petition of sixty-five men from several VT regiments, including Fletcher's, for a township near Fayston VT. Although the township was granted, there is no evidence that Benjamin actually moved to Vermont.®57: 311 Instead, Benjamin may have returned to CT and enlisted for the rest of the war in Capt. Samuel Comstock's company of Col. Heman Swift's 2nd regiment, Connecticut Line which was at West Point NY from 1 Jan 1783 until June and then disbanded.

After the war, Benjamin moved to Essex Co MA where he was enumerated on the 1790 federal census with two boys under sixteen and one daughter in addition to himself and wife.®39: 63 Other records have not been researched.

Born: 8 Mar 1759 Windham CT®5:34
Mar: 26 Jan 1775 Asa PIXLEY®181

When she married in Jan 1775, Olive was living with her uncle Silas Bingham (1.1.6.3.) in Stockbridge MA. She had moved to Stockbridge after her mother died in 1773. Olive's husband, Asa Pixley, was a revolutionary war veteran and pension applicant.®EO

1.1.6.5a.4 Abner BINGHAM (Benjamin, Jabez, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 23 Jan 1761 Windham CT®5: 29

Abner was sixteen when he enlisted 26 Apr 1777 as a private in Col. Rufus Putnam's 5th Massachusetts Regiment. He may have been living in Bennington VT at the time, although he had grown up in Salisbury CT. Abner served in the Continental Army throughout the war. For two years he was a private in Allen's company. He was then promoted to corporal and served under Captains Goodale, Benson, and Cobb mainly around West Point NY.®220; ®219: 6025

After the war, Abner may have settled in Essex township, Chittendon Co VT where he was enumerated on the 1790 federal census with one son under sixteen and two daughters.®39: 24. Since he did not appear on the 1800 census for Essex, but a probate was lodged 15 May 1795 in the Hartford MA probate district for an Abner who lived in Hartland, Windsor Co it is possible that the probate applies to this Abner. Administrators were Capt. Ebenezer and May Allen.®96 Names of wife and children have not been researched.

1.1.6.5a.6. Sarah BINGHAM (Benjamin, Jabez, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 9 Jun 1765 Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT®5: Windham: 35
Mar: 1784 David Benton Jr.
Died: 25 Nov 1825 Bath, Steuben Co NY

Sarah was eight years old when her mother died in 1773. It is probable that she remained in western CT or MA when her father, Benjamin, remarried and moved east to Upton, Worcester Co MA for when she was nineteen, Sarah married David Benton Jr. of Sheffield, Berkshire Co MA. They settled in Bath, Steuben Co NY where Sarah died.

Pliny was the oldest child of Benjamin's second marriage. His mother, Lois Boyden Dunbar, was a widow. Before Pliny was twelve, his father died. His mother married, third, John Foster, and the family lived in Walpole, Norfolk Co MA. At the age of twenty-four in 1802, Pliny married Jerusha Avery at Dedham, Norfolk Co MA where they lived and raised their family of seven children. Their only son, Daniel, did not marry. Pliny died 6 Jun 1840 age sixty-two. Wife Jerusha, unmarried daughter Amanda, and married daughter, Jane Jerusha, and her family lived together in Dedham in 1850.®92: 244

Died: 27 Aug 1807 Windham, Windham Co CT®16

Alfred lived in Windham CT all his life. At the age of twenty-five he married Zerviah Young. They had two children, but their first born and only son died before their second child, a daughter was born. Zerviah, herself, died when her daughter was two and a half years old. There is no record that Alfred remarried. He was enumerated on the 1790 census as head of household, but after his wife died, he may have lived with someone else for he is absent from the 1800 census.®39:152. Alfred died age forty-five years.

Died: 11 Feb 1839 Noyan, Canada East

Solomon Jr. was the second Bingham to graduate from Dartmouth College. He completed his law studies in 1789 when he was twenty-two and set up practice in Tinmouth, Rutland Co VT. About 1791, he married Silvina Dickinson and their first two children were born in Tinmouth. By 1797 they had moved to Fairfield, Franklin Co VT where they were enumerated on the 1800 U.S. census and lived until 1804.®90:72 Before April 1805, they had moved to Berkshire, Franklin Co VT where Solomon's sister, Hannah, and her husband, Dr. Amherst Willoughby, lived. The 1810 U.S. census index recorded Solomon as Lot Jr., but the census text says Sol Bingham Jr.®136:273; ®JEJ While in Berkshire, Solomon was a partner in a mercantile business with sister Hannah's husband (1.1.6.8.6.).®222: 9 Before their last child was born in 1817, Solomon and Sylvina moved to St Armand, Canada East. The family remained in Canada. Silvina died in 1835 age sixty. Solomon was nearly seventy-two when he died 11 Feb 1839.

Born: 15 Aug 1769 Salisbury CT®5:11
Mar: 29 Mar 1791 David COLLINS Norfolk, Litchfield Co CT
Died: 3 Aug 1854 Fayettesville, Onondaga Co NY

Lucy 's family moved to Tinmouth, Rutland Co VT when she was about six years old. When she was twenty-one, she married David Collins at Norfolk, Litchfield Co CT. They lived at Hillsdale, Columbia Co NY, but when Lucy died, age nearly eighty-five, she was living at Fayettesville, Onondaga Co NY.

1.1.6.8.6. Hannah BINGHAM (Solomon, Jabez, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 8 Jul 1774 Tinmouth, Rutland Co VT®59
Mar: 16 Jan 1796 Amherst WILLOUGHBY Tinmouth VT®59

Hannah was the first child of Solomon and Rachel Moore Bingham to be born at Tinmouth, Rutland Co VT. When she was twenty-one she married Amherst Willoughby. He tried to found an Episcopal parish in Tinmouth, but when it failed about 1797 they moved north to Berkshire, Franklin Co VT. Hannah's brother, Solomon Jr., and his family later moved to Berkshire to be partners in a mercantile business.®298 Because Hannah and Amherst had no children, Hannah's 's brother Solomon Jr. named two of his children, a boy and a girl, after them.

David, the eighth child of Solomon and Rachel Moore Bingham, was about twenty-one when he married Hannah Chandler. David and Hannah's first child was born in Tinmouth in 1803. Shortly thereafter, they left for OH with Hannah's parents and settled in Waterford Twp, Washington Co. They were definitely in OH by the fall of 1805 as on 12 Dec 1805 the Zanesville land office recorded David's intention to purchase land in Range 12, Township 13, Sections 12 and 28 located in what was then Muskingum Co. In 1807 on 31 Aug, the Zanesville land office also recorded David's intention to buy land in Range 10, Township 9, Section 33®186 Despite this intention to purchase land, David remained in Waterford Twp, Washington Co where his children were married and wife, Hannah, was buried. Lands that had not been completely paid for by 1813 were sold and David's claim in section 33 was one of those advertised.

David, himself served in the OH militia for a short time during the War of 1812 as a private in Capt. Joseph K. McCune's infantry company, 2nd OH regiment under Col. Stephenson, 12 Feb 1813 to 12 Aug 1813.®BLM

When and where David died is not known, but he does not appear on the 1820 U.S. census for Ohio, the first for the state. The Washington Co OH 1820 census report noted Hannah Bingham with six children and no listing for ∎ David Bingham. Some of the children as given below are not certain and there may be others. The birth date for David's youngest child may or may not be 2 Dec 1822. David's daughters, Edna Harkness and Martha Maria, both named daughters, Vesta Elvira, presumably after their sister who died age eighteen.

Eli, the ninth and youngest child of Solomon and Rachel Moore Bingham lived in Tinmouth until he married Sally Hurd 23 April 1807. They moved to Ohio that summer, probably taking his parents with them. Their intention to purchase section 32 of township 9, range 10 near Cumberland, Spencer Township, then Muskingum Co was first recorded 31 Aug 1807. Spencer Twp became part of Guernsey Co in 1810 and Eli may have remained in Washington Co until 1813.®186 However, in 1814 Eli was included on the Guernsey Co tax list. By 1817, Eli had paid in full for the southeast quarter of section 32.®224: 1: 608; ®227 He may also have built the first brick house in the Cumberland community.®225: 987 Eli also served in the Ohio militia during the War of 1812 as a private in Capt. Cyrus Beatty's company.®226: I: 92

In January 1823, Eli's wife and newborn daughter died within days of each other. Eli was left with five children age twelve and under. That fall he returned to Tinmouth VT and married Adaline Hurd his first wife's sister.®78: 241 She was eighteen years old and Eli was thirty-six. They had nine children between 1826 and 1843 when Adeline, like her sister, died in childbirth.

Later that same year, Eli married, third, Lucinda Deming in Washington Co OH.®194 She was forty-three and Eli was now fifty-six. By 1850 only five of Eli's children were at home: Eli Jr., Orin, Martha, Lyman H., and Daniel.®92: 158 Eli was still farming at age sixty-three, but he had sold off small portions of his original tract and granted coal mining rights to Lyman Hurd, ∎ brother of his first two wives.®224: S:371, W: 261,407,631, 641

In 1851 Eli sold his entire farm and, according to son Eli Jr, the family moved to McConnelsville, Morgan Co OH.®224: Y: 213 Eli moved again by 1865 to a 72 acre farm along the Muskingum River in Muskingum Twp, Washington Co. In that year he completed his will which he had drawn up over time, but he did not die until 7 Feb 1870. Eli's will clearly stated that he expected his sons to remain on the farm until they were twenty-one. For those who left before that age, he deducted from their inheritance an amount equal to that which he calculated they owed him for leaving early. Eli had fathered sixteen children; only eight had families of their own.

Wife Lucinda sold the farm, but lived until 1889.®195: 71: 555, 558

Elisha was the oldest of Nathaniel and Joanna Reed's eleven children. He was born in Norwich CT, but between the age of sixteen and twenty he moved to Chesterfield, Cheshire Co VT with his family. He married Persis Bishop when he was twenty-three and they had one child before Elisha enlisted in the militia to fight in the American Revolution. He was in the Battle of Bunker Hill 17 June 1775. On the way home after the battle, he died of camp fever. His son, Elisha, was born posthumously.

Died: 1808 Troy, Rensselaer Co NY

Theordorus was the third child of Nathaniel and Joanna Read Bingham. Born in Norwich CT, he moved to Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NH with his family when he was ten. At the age of twenty-one in 1775 he married Lydia King.

In 1776, at the beginning of the American Revolution, NH adopted compulsory military service for all males between the ages of eighteen and forty-five. Theodorus was assigned to Col. Nichols's regiment as a private in the 8th company under Capt. Kimball Carlton. The company marched from Chesterfield 22 Jul 1777 to join Stark's brigade at the Battle of Bennington on 16 Aug. Theodorus apparently saw no other action.®234: 6100

Theodorus and Lydia lived on a farm about two miles from Chesterfield where all of their thirteen children were born. Theodorus appeared as head of household on both the 1790 and 1800 federal censuses for Chesterfield.®39; ®90: 12 Both Lydia and her newborn son died 10 Dec 1799.

On 5 Feb 1801, Theodorus married, second, widow Sally Baker, not Tamar Fuller as supposed by Randall in his History of Chesterfield. ®29; ®61: 227 Son, Simeon, married Tamar Fuller. Theodorus and Sally moved to Troy, Rensselaer Co NY with this younger children. They lived in Troy for only six years before Theodorus died in 1808 age fifty-four. Sally returned to Chesterfield.

Died: 3 Jun 1832 Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NH; Bur: Bingham Burying Ground, Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NH®233: 63

Gustavus was baptized 29 May 1757 in Lisbon CT. He moved with his family to Chesterfield NH in 1763 when he was about six years old and lived there the rest of his life. When the American Revolution began he, along with his father and brothers, immediately enlisted in a NH regiment. In 1776, Gustavus was a private in Capt. William Humphrey's company of the northern continental army. Another record indicates that he enlisted 10 June 1777 in Wingates's 2nd NH regiment and was discharged 10 June 1778 due to a wound of the head.®61: 100; ®219: 6049-50

After the war Gustavus married Hannah Fisher and they had one child. However, the 1800 U.S. census credited them with an additional male under the age of ten.®90 Gustavus continued to appear on the U.S. census through 1830. He died age seventy-five in 1832 and Hannah died five years later, age seventy-seven. Theirs are the only two graves in the Bingham Burying Ground.®233: 63

John Jr. was born and grew up in the Lisbon section of Norwich CT. In 1775, at the age of nineteen, he was among those who answered the Lexington alarm at the beginning of the American Revolution. Some records refer to him as Captain. Later in the war he may have served as an enlisted man.®63: 188; ®64: 19, 218 He married Talitha/Tabitha Waldo of Windham 13 Dec 1778 and they lived in the section of Norwich which became Lisbon in 1786 and which later became Sprague. Thus, the births of their first four children were recorded in the Norwich records, their next eight in the Lisbon records, and their last two in the Sprague records. Until his father died in 1804 John was listed on the federal census as John Jr, but thereafter, through 1830 was the only John Bingham in New London Co CT.®39: 112; ®90: 776; ®136: 236; ®113: 735; ®115: 173 John lived to be seventy-nine years old. Septimus was born and grew up in Lisbon, New London Co CT. During the American Revolution, he served as private 17 Jul to 16 Dec 1775 in Capt. John Durkee's 3rd company of Col. Israel Putnam's 3rd CT regiment.

By the time he was twenty-four, he lived in Chesterfield, NH where he married Elizabeth Fisher. They may have had a child or two before she died as the 1790 U.S. census enumerated one male under sixteen and one female more than we can account for. Septimus moved to Pittsfield, Berkshire Co MA and married, second, Silence Noble, seven years his senior. They had one female child 7 Dec 1789, but the 1790 U.S. census for Pittsfield enumerated one male under sixteen and three females in addition to Septimus.®39: 32 By 1800 Septimus and Silence had two more children, making three in all, but two died in infancy. Yet, the U.S. census for Pittsfield in 1800 enumerated five in his household, including one male 16-26 and one female under 10.

Septimus and Silence lived in Pittsfield all their lives.®136: 120; ®113: 125 He died age sixty-eight. Silence died age eighty-three.

Born in the Sprague section of Lisbon, New London Co, Darius lived there in 1795 when he married Sally Bottom. He was twenty-seven, she was twenty-one. They had one boy and one girl by 1800 when they were enumerated on the U.S. census.®90: 778 Before 1810, they moved to Canterbury, Windham Co where they were enumerated on the 1810 U.S. census.®136: 633 Between 1810 and 1814 Darius moved his family to New Milford, Susquehanna Co PA and by 1816 had settled on the Coshocton Turnpike.®248: 5A; ®249: 156 In 1818 he recorded his purchase of 117 acres from Henry Drinker, Susquehanna Co land speculator who lived in Philadelphia.®250: 3: 195 In 1827 Darius deeded this tract to his son, Lemuel, who kept a tavern in the family house.®250: 6: 488

Darius and Sally appeared on the 1820 U.S. census for Susquehanna Co with their three sons accounted for, but only one daughter and she was under ten. Thus, the daughter born before 1800 either died or married before 1820.®113: 31 The following year, Sally died age forty-seven.®249: 156

Darius married, second, Amy. Orphans court records indicate that her last name might have been Avery, daughter of Jonas B. Avery and that she and Darius might have had a daughter named Esther who was a minor in 1836. In that year, Darius's son, Jedediah was appointed Esther Bingham's guardian so that she could receive an inheritance from her grandfather, Jonas B. Avery. In 1850 an Esther, born 1828, the year Darius died, was wife of Lorenzo Carpenter and a Lorriston Bingham age ten lived with them. Lorriston could be son of deceased Jedediah. Amy, with son Lemuel, was administrator of Darius's estate in 1828 when he was killed by a falling tree.®114: 621.

Darius also provided for son Jedediah. In 1822 he had bought a 103 acre tract of land which he deeded to Jedediah in 1827.®250: 4: 399; 8: 132 James A. and Sally were still minors under age fourteen and unprovided for when Darius died. Lemuel and his family continued to live in the house-tavern. They did not settle Darius's estate until Jedediah sued to settle the accounts.®251: 1: 222

CHILDREN OF JOSEPH (Joseph, Thomas, Thomas)

1.1.9.4.2. Jeremiah BINGHAM 2ND (Joseph, Joseph, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 17 Apr 1760 Norwich, New London Co CT®2: I: 377
Mar: 27 Nov 1786 Mary IVES (Enos Ives, Anna Cook) Cornwall, Addison Co VT®65: 2: 3; Died: 15 Feb 1845 Dist 21, Pottawattamie Co IA®255: 61; Mar (2): about 1820 Abner WHIPPLE
Died: 1813

Jeremiah was born in the Franklin section of Norwich, New London Co CT where his parents, Joseph and Rachel Ween Bingham, then lived. Based upon his date of entry into military service, he was probably born on 17 Apr 1760, but the Norwich records cite the name, James, and not Jeremiah. By 1776 Jeremiah was apprenticed to Henry Baldridge in Bennington VT, but when the army recruiting sergeant came to Bennington, Jeremiah broke his apprentice agreement and joined the army. He served his first thirty-four months in Maj. Allen's company of Col. Rufus Putnam's MA regiment of the Continental Line, 20 Feb 1777 to 31 Dec 1779. He signed up for another year and a month, consequently, his final date of service was 31 Jan 1781. He would have been almost twenty-one when he was discharged. Jeremiah returned to Bennington where he stayed until about 1784 and then followed his uncle Jeremiah to Cornwall, Addison Co VT.®181: W20,130

Jeremiah married in Cornwall, Mary Ives, 27 Nov 1786. The next month, they purchased nearly four acres adjoining their house lot. ®70: 2:137 Near the end of 1788 when Jeremiah received his back military pay, he bought twenty-five acres from Edward Harris. This deed is most intriguing as it also recorded Harris's gift of five acres to Joseph Bingham.®70: 2: 174 Joseph could have been Jeremiah's father or brother.

The births of Jeremiah and Mary's first three children were recorded in Cornwall, but not the births of the other children. The 1800 U.S. census for Cornwall credited the family with three boys under 10, one girl under 10, and one girl 10-16.®90: 14 The family was also enumerated in Cornwall in 1810®136: 26 Several Cornwall deeds between 1789 and 1793 indicate that Jeremiah sold portions of his twenty-five acres. In 1794, he bought thirty-one acres from Jared Ives, but sold it five months later in 1795.®70: 4: 26 That deed was the last record for Jeremiah in Cornwall. His pension application file contains a statement by his uncle Jeremiah (1.1.9.9.) of Cornwall that he lived "here" in 1806 and his son, Aaron, stated that he died in 1813 during the late war with England.

Mary, his wife, married second, Abner Whipple, about 1820. Jeremiah's sons Reuben, Lucius, and Jeremiah lived in Ontario, Canada in the late 1820s, but by 1840 they had returned to the U.S. and all three lived in Knox Co IL. Son Jeremiah moved on to IA by 1845 where his mother, Mary died.

Hiram is best known for his missionary work among the native Hawaiian and for his translation of several chapters of the Bible into the Hawaiian language. His book, A Residence of Twenty-one Years in the Sandwich Islands (1847), inspired James A. Michener in the writing of his novel, Hawaii, and the personality of Hiram is central in Michener's character, Abner Hale.®282: 4

Hiram received his education at Middlebury College and Andover Theological Seminary. He was ordained for foreign mission service in 1819 at the age of twenty-nine. At the ordination service he met Sybil Moseley and they married less than a month later. Twelve days after that they set sail for Hawaii, then called the Sandwich Islands by the English. Upon arrival, Hiram and Sybil drew Honolulu for their base of operations.

During the course of his twenty years in Honolulu, Hiram and the other missionaries devised an Hawaiian written alphabet and used the new alphabet to translate the Bible to Hawaiian. Another valuable book he wrote to teach the Hawaiians to read English was Elementary Lessons in Hawaiian. Several years later, he helped design Mokuaikaua Church and laid the corner stone shortly before he and his family left Hawaii.

Hiram returned to CT, partly because Sybil's health was failing rapidly. In Connecticut, he spent several years promoting his missionary cause and writing his book. However, in September 1846, the American Board for Foreign Missions severed his employment. Hiram's fellow missionaries had not wanted him to return to Hawaii as they found him too disposed to take control.®282: 11 With no source of income, the family accepted the support of Samuel Williston, a relative of Sybil's. Williston found them a home to rent in Easthampton MA and enrolled the three youngest children in his new school, later Williston Academy. Sybil died several months later and she was buried in Easthampton in the Williston family plot. Years later, in 1894, grandson Hiram moved Sybil's bones to the Grove Street Cemetery of the old North Church yard to be only a few feet from those of Hiram.®92: 53

Three years after Sybil's death, Hiram married, second, Naomi Emma Morse. She was principal of York Square Seminary for Young Ladies in New Haven. Hiram assisted at her boarding and day school for young ladies located a few blocks from Yale University. He also preached as a relief minister when he had the opportunity.

Hiram's three youngest children eventually returned to Hawaii where they had been born.

In addition to Hiram Bingham's own writings, several articles and books have been written about him. See, for example ®210 and ®214 and other library finding aids.

Died: 2 Jan 1827 Ellington, Tolland Co CT®5: 2; Inv & Adm: 1827 Ellington®03: No.191; Bur: Ellington®67

Ithamar Jr. was born in 1762 in Goshen, or Windsor Goshen, then a part of the town of East Windsor CT. He lived there all his life, but the name of his town was changed to Ellington in 1786 when Tolland Co was formed.

Before he married, Ithamar served in the American Revolution. He was a private and did three tours of duty. The first two were with the CT militia, one for a month in 1778 to help guard Burgoyne's men after they surrendered, and the other for about three months in 1779 in and around Horse Neck NY. Ithamar's third tour was with the CT Line. He spent five months and four days in 1780 in the West Point and New Jersey area. For this service his widow was granted a pension of $20.44 per year from 1844 until her death in 1850 age eighty-six.®181: W17,301 Ithamar died age sixty-four and his obituary appeared in the Hartford Times and Hartford Courant for 22 Jan 1827 and the Connecticut Observer for 29 Jan 1827.®67

Ithamar's two surviving sons lived in Ellington until after his death. Ithamar 3rd later moved to MN, but Anson remained in Ellington and died there.

Apparently Persis also went by the name, Susannah. The Ellington records give both names and there is every reason to believe that the data refers to the same person. Both names appear as wife of Ebenezer Jr, but neither the death of Persis nor a second marriage to Susannah is recorded. Under the record of the marriage of son, Silvester, her name is recorded as Paris. The births of all the children, including Silvester, are recorded under the name Susannah. Furthermore, one daughter is named Sarah Kellogg after Persis's mother of the same name. Finally, in 1834, the death of Mrs. Susanna is recorded.

Wealthy grew up in Gilsum where her family lived, but her marriage to Daniel Nash was recorded in the nearby town of Sullivan. She and Daniel lived near Sullivan until about 1818 when they moved to Gilsum. One of the more unusual events in the Nash family history was the murder of Daniel's mother in 1827 by Daniel H. Corey. Corey shot her because he thought she was a witch. At Corey's trial, the jury could not agree on a verdict and while in jail, Corey escaped to NY where his family joined him.®42: 152, 246, 248-9

Erastus, Jonathan's fourth child and second by his second wife, Elizabeth Warner, was born in Mansfield CT, but during his childhood lived in Lebanon and Cornish NH. His own mother died when he was young and he was raised by his stepmother. When he was thirty years old he lived in Sharon, Windsor Co VT where he married Anna Hall, also of Sharon. They named their second child after his mother.
That same year, Erastus settled along Wyalusing Creek in then Luzerne Co PA (near Rush, Susquehanna Co) where he was enumerated on the PA septennial census.®192 He either bought his land from the Connecticut-Delaware Land Company, or he squatted, but in May 1801, Henry Drinker, who thought he owned the land, listed Erastus among supposed intruders.®114 : 24

By 1810, Erastus had given up his tract on Drinker's land and moved to NY. In 1820 he lived in Holland, Niagara Co NY, which became Erie Co in 1821.®113: 191 Thereafter, he did not appear on the NY federal census.

Frederick was the oldest child of his father's third wife. He had two half brothers age ten and eight when he was born and an older half sister age thirteen. He grew up in Cornish, Cheshire Co NH and married Rachel Brooks when he was twenty-three and she was twenty-seven. After twelve years of marriage they had no children, so shortly after 1810 they fostered motherless brother and sister Nathaniel and Clarissa Sartell. The Sartell children did not change their last name to Bingham. After Frederick's father, Jonathan, died, and before 1820, they left NH and settled along Butternut Creek in Otsego Co NY.®113: 58 In 1825 or 1826, they moved to Thomson, Susquehanna Co PA.®114: 842, 846; ®249: 484 Clarissa Sartell died when she was eighteen.®114: 837. He was twenty-one years old when his mother died in 1792 and his father, Elisha, and some of his younger brothers and sisters, moved to Jay, Essex Co NY in 1797. Alfrad, however, married Deborah Ticknor and stayed with the family farm in Enfield. Deborah was a half sister of Elisha Ticknor, partner of Caleb Bingham (1.1.6.4.5.). Through her mother, she was a descendant of Richard Warren of the Mayflower.®TAB Alfrad was on the Enfield property tax rolls for 1797 through 1804.®90 He moved to NY state, thereafter, and may have lived in Lisle, Broome Co in 1820.®113: 4 However, Alfrad did not serve in the NY militia during the War of 1812. His sons Samuel, Elisha and Alfred moved to ONT and married there in 1819, 1817, and 1822, respectively. Younger sons, Gustavus and Geheil, moved to ONT in 1831 and 1826, respectively. Alfrad, himself, moved to ONT also, but the year is not documented. He first appeared on the ONT census in 1842 living with his son, Elisha. Wife Deborah died the same year. In 1851, Alfrad eighty-one and a carpenter, lived with his grandson, Christopher, son of Elisha.®302: 1851 In 1861, Alfrad, ninety-one, lived in Houghton, Norfolk Co ONT with grandson, James, son of Elisha.®302: 1861

After his first child was born, Elias moved to Jay, Essex Co NY in 1797 with his father, Elisha, and brother Abel. They lived in Jay through 1810 and Elias was enumerated on both the 1800 and 1810 federal census.®90: 323: 2 In 1810 Elias had five children under sixteen years of age.®136: 17 During the War of 1812, Elias was a fifer in Sanford's NY militia battalion.®310 After the war, the brothers moved west. Their father went with Abel to Wheatland Twp, Genesee Co NY, but Elias took his family to Geauga Co, later Lake Co OH. He settled in Madison Twp and son, Alvah, in Perry Twp probably after 1815 since they did not appear on the Geauga Co tax list for 1814. Both appeared there on the 1820 census.®113: 109A In 1830, however, Elias was enumerated as head of household for the Perry Twp property and no one was in Madison Twp.®115: 215 In 1833 Elias deeded property in Edinboro, Erie Co PA, not far from Perry Twp, to Alvah.®308: F-31 About the same time, Alvah moved to Medina Co OH and in 1840 lived in Seneca Co, but Elias no longer appeared on the census.

Records for the other children attributed to Elias have not been researched, but a Jason did live in Onondaga Co NY in 1840.

Edward was the fourth son of Elisha and Hannah Slapp Bingham. His mother died when he was sixteen. A few years later, in 1797, his father and brothers, Elias and Abel, left Enfield and moved to Jay, Essex Co NY. Edward probably remained on the farm with brother, Alfrad, as he paid taxes in Lebanon NH 1797 to 1801, but he lived in Jay, Essex Co NY when he married Almira, last name unknown, about 1804. In 1810, Edward and family were enumerated in Jay with two males and one female under ten. His father, Elisha, may have lived with him at the time.®136: 17 During the War of 1812, Edward served as a private in Sanford's NY militia unregimented battalion.®310 Edward was not on the 1820 census, and by 1830 he had moved to Spencer, Tioga Co NY where he still lived in 1850.®115: 145; ®150: 113; ®92: 108 Son Seth and son Ira's widow and family also lived in Spencer in 1850. Abel was best known for his work as a missionary among the Chippewa Tribe at Sault Ste. Marie MI. Born in Enfield NH, Abel moved with his father and brother, Elias, to Jay, Essex Co NY in 1797. As a child, he was influenced greatly by revivalist preachers.

At the age of twenty-two in 1809, he married Hannah Olmstead Brown, daughter of Rev. Solomon Brown.®136: 17 Before they started a family, Abel served as a Sgt and Lt in the NY militia during the War of 1812. He was wounded in the Battle of Plattsburg NY, 11 Sept 1814, and later received a pension.®310; ®91: 192

In 1817 he gave up farming in Jay and moved to Caledonia Twp, Genesee Co in western NY state where his wife's family had moved a few years earlier.®113: 105 His father, Elisha, went with him. In 1821 part of Caledonia Twp was set off to form Wheatland Twp, Monroe Co. After his father died in 1821, Abel accepted an invitation from the female societies of the local churches to preach and conduct a school among the Seneca Tribe on the Tonawanda Indian Reservation.

Six years later, 1828, Abel signed a contract with the Baptist Board of Foreign Missions to conduct a school for the Chippewa Tribe at Sault Ste. Marie MI and moved there immediately. His family arrived 9 Jul 1829.®115: 224 Abel and his family worked at Sault Ste. Marie for twenty-seven years until the U.S. government ended its support in 1855. He and Hannah moved to Grand Rapids MI and lived with daughter, Sophia, and husband, John Claude Buchanan.®309; ®92: 6R For two years, Abel was minister of the First Baptist Church in Grand Rapids.®317: 10 Jan 1866; ®LH

Alexander died a young man of thirty-six years. He left at least five living children less than ten years of age. Because he died so young, his children knew little about him. His son, Nathan, remembered that his father, Alexander, "had something to do with the stage." Grandson Atkins Clark remembered finding several chests in the attic filled with women's heavy brocade and silk dresses, high heeled shoes, army uniforms, wallets with continental currency, and Italian and French books. Thus, Alexander may have been an actor. The only year he could have been listed on the federal census was 1820 and he then was recorded as head of household in Norwich CT.®113: 621

Elias was nineteen when the American Revolution began. According to his pension application, he enlisted for seven months in Capt. Ebenezer Mosley's company. Returning home, he enlisted in 1776 for one year as a captain under Col. Jedediah Huntington and served at Roxbury MA and in NY. He then signed up for three years with the federal troops of the continental line and served under Capt. Vine Elderkin in Col. Heman Swift's regiment. He was among the troops who spent the infamous winter of 1777/78 at Valley Forge. He was discharged 1 Jan 1780.®181: S38, 543

A year later, Elias married Alice Broughton in Windham. Their son Levi, identified in the pension application, was born in 1782. By 1790, they had a daughter Betsey, also mentioned in the pension application, and the family still lived in Windham.®39: 152

Before 1800, Elias, his brother, Asahel, and perhaps his widowed mother, moved to Hartford, Windsor Co VT.®90: 163 In 1809, Elias bought a farm in Barton, Orleans Co VT from John Boardman. He and son, Levi, worked the farm, but Elias also did carpentry work.®136: 446

Under the pension law of 1818, Elias applied for and received a military pension of $8.00 a month, but it was not enough to keep his neighbors from calling him "exceedingly poor." At one point they even came to his aid by giving him a second cow.®181: S38, 543 Under amended legislation in 1820, Elias submitted a certified schedule of his estate which at that time consisted of two cows, one horse, two swine, a great wheel and a small wheel (for grinding), several pieces of furniture, and a small house and barn on 110 acres. His wife and one daughter, Betsey, a cripple age thirty, and his son, Levi, with wife and six children under fourteen lived with him. Elias was removed from the pension list, but under 1823 legislation, was restored in 1824. Notice was sent to Ira H. Allen, clerk of the Orleans Co Court. In the meantime, Elias's farm was sold for taxes. It is not known whether he moved into Irasburgh, the county seat, with son Levi and family, or was allowed to remain on the farm in Barton.®115: 225

Sarah, Abisha and Ann Sawyer Bingham's second child, married Adriel Simmons in Windham in 1781. Simmons had served during the revolutionary war and had been imprisoned in one of the notorious British prison ships on Long Island Sound. Sarah and Adriel had four children born in Windham before they moved to the Susquehanna Company township of Ulster in what was then the CT county of Westmoreland, although physically located in northeastern PA.®195 The grant of Ulster in 1786 listed Adriel Simmons as one of the original proprietors.®28 That township was reconfigured and became part of Ulster Twp, Bradford Co PA in 1810.

By 1790, Sarah and Adriel had seven children, four sons and three daughters. Seven more children were born before Sarah and three children, Polly, Rebecca and John died of yellow fever in the summer of 1802.®121: Aug 7, 1802 The name of one child is unknown. Their oldest son, Septer, had died in Ulster in 1798.®122: I: 133 His grave is the oldest marked grave in the Ulster Cemetery. One son, Jeduthan, remained in Ulster. The others moved west.

Died: 4 Jan 1818 Deer Park Twp, Orange Co NY®181: W23.612

Based on the information we have about Ripley L., it appears that he had two families. One family was by Elizabeth Mack in Marlow NH; the other family was by Mary/Polly Davis in Orange Co NY. According to sworn statements in Elizabeth Mack Bingham's revolutionary war pension application, Ripley abandoned her about 1794. Affidavits go on to say that about two years after he left, Ripley was located in Cooperstown NY living with another woman. When his married status was made known to the town folks, Ripley left Cooperstown. Another sworn affidavit in the file states that Ripley arrived in Deer Park Twp, then Minisinks, Orange Co NY about 1800.®181: W23, 612 Information from the descendants of both of Ripley's families, coupled with Marlow town records and U.S. census records corroborates these statements.

The oldest son of Abner and Sarah Clark Bingham, Ripley was left fatherless at age fifteen in 1774. When he was seventeen in 1776, he enlisted for one year in the 1st NH militia regiment and served under Capt. Jason Wait. Before his year was up, he reenlisted in the continental troops under Col. Joseph Cilly. He was promoted to sergeant May 1, 1778. Ripley was wounded at the battle with Burgoyne and on sick furlough in the winter of 1777-1778. It was on this leave that he married Elizabeth Mack in Marlow NH.

After the war, Ripley returned to Marlow and, according to the Marlow records, paid his first taxes in 1781. His tract was on the Acworth line and adjoined the Old Road from Alstead to Stoddard.®87: 349 In 1784, he was chosen constable and he voted for a school tax.®87: I: 318, II: 18 In 1790, Ripley was enumerated on the U.S. census for Marlow. He had four children under sixteen, two sons and two daughters.®39: 20 In 1793, he paid for and received his own earmark, a round hole through the left ear.®87: I: 497 Ripley also paid town and county taxes.®87: II: 45 The next year, 1794, he and Aaron Brown were in business together. Ripley was a millwright and carpenter. They paid 2 poll taxes and tax on 1 cow, 2 calves, 3 acres for mowing, 3 acres for pasture, 30 acres wild, and one building.®87: II: 53 They also paid a highway tax.®87:II: 57 No other records occurred for a Ripley until 1808, fourteen years later. There is no question but that the latter records refer to his son, Ripley (1.9a.2.3.1a.4.).

Although the Marlow records are confusing because they do not differentiate between Ripley L. and his son, Ripley, by using the middle initial L., it is during the break in the records, in 1805, that Ripley's earmark for his cattle was assigned to another person.®87: 506 This evidence combined with Elizabeth Mack Bingham's pension application file indicates that Ripley L. probably did leave Marlow before 1800. After Ripley left, Elizabeth moved her family to Stanstead Co QUE in Apr 1802.

Indeed, Ripley did not appear on the 1800 U.S. census for Marlow. Instead, a Ripley L. was enumerated in Orange Co NY in 1800 with two males under ten, himself, wife, and one male sixteen to twenty-six.®90: 315: 1 He was not included in the 1810 census, but after his death in 1818, his wife, Mary, was enumerated as head of household on the 1820 census.®113: 273 In 1850, Mary lived with son Elijah in Wayne Co PA.®92: 91

On a visit to Derby, Orleans Co VT, where Ripley's brother John Clark lived, Elizabeth learned of Ripley's' death. Obviously, certain members of the family knew that he had been living in Deer Park Twp, Orange Co NY. Elizabeth returned to the U.S. from QUE and settled in Derby, probably with one of her children. In 1840, when she was eighty-one years old, she initiated a revolutionary war veterans widow's claim under the pension law of 1836.

Because Elizabeth could not document Ripley's date of death, the pension board refused her application. After her death, Elizabeth's children continued to press the issue and by 1853 their lawyer had secured from Orange Co NY a sworn death date for Ripley - 4 Jan 1818. On the basis of that information, the pension board approved the certificate.

Years later, the descendants of Ripley's other family emerged. They claimed to have records that corroborated Ripley's existence in Orange Co NY. Descendant George H. Bingham possessed the family bible that listed the eight children born to Ripley L. and his wife Mary/Polly Davis. With a great deal of qualification, the compilers of the 1927-1930 The Bingham Family in the United States accepted this documentation and Ripley's family by Elizabeth Mack was left out. In 1938, E. Arthur Ball attempted to rectify the situation by privately publishing The Family of Ripley Bingham and Elizabeth Mack.®336

Although both publications failed to recognize the probability that Ripley had two families, some reservations still exist in accepting the argument that he did. In particular, the ages of his two youngest children by Elizabeth Mack Bingham overlap the ages of his two oldest children by Polly Davis Bingham. One possible explanation is that Ripley L. did move to Stanstead QUE with his family and died there. Years later, his wife, Elizabeth, could have been encouraged by others to submit a widow's pension claim and all deponents could have been prompted to develop a story, but this is a highly unlikely scenario. Or perhaps, Ripley lived back and forth between NH and NY for a few years while he juggled two families. Still another explanation is that the Ripley L. in Orange Co NY in 1800 was incorrectly identified and connected to the wrong father, a decided possibility. It is also possible that Elizabeth Mack Bingham's two youngest children had a father other than Ripley L. However, until other records appear, the preponderance of evidence indicates that Ripley L. had two families.

John Clark was under fourteen years of age when his father, Abner, died and his uncle, Solomon Gee, was appointed his guardian in Marlow, Cheshire Co NH.®140: No. 10 When John turned fifteen in 1780, his guardianship was transferred to his mother.®140: No.35 The next year, 1781, John, age sixteen, enlisted in the VT militia and served until June 30 under Capt. In 1786, when he was twenty-one, John probably married. By 1790, he had three male children.®39: 20 In 1793, he bought land in Marlow and appeared for the first time on the town records as a tax payer. In 1800, he also had three male children then ages ten to sixteen.®90 These two census reports confirm that all three sons were born before the 1790 census was taken. John continued to pay taxes in Marlow through 1811 when he sold his land.®87: II: passim.

In 1809, John's first wife died and in 1810 he remarried. With his new wife, Silence, he moved to Guildhall, Essex Co VT for a short time in 1811 and then to Northumberland, NH across the CT River. About this time, his two sons, Elisha and William, moved to Canada. But John returned south to Rockingham, Windham Co VT and bought a small farm. There, in February 1812, he, his wife, and daughter, Caroline, were "warned out" - a procedure that absolved the community from caring for the indigent.®340 John lived in Rockingham until 1820 when he sold his farm and moved to Londonderry, about twenty miles west, and purchased another farm. He lived there until he died age sixty-one. His widow, Silence, and unmarried daughters Sophia and Sarah lived together in Springfield, Windsor Co in 1850.®92: 455 Over fifty years later, in 1904, Sarah helped her father's descendants sort out his two families.®FFB

CHILDREN OF REUBEN (Abisha, Samuel, Thomas)

1.9a.2.4.1. Abner BINGHAM (Reuben, Abisha, Samuel, Thomas)
Born: about 1760
Mar: 13 Sep 1801 Lucy LONG Charlestown NH; Born: 1772 Charlestown, Cheshire Co NH; Died: after 1851 Grand Manan, Charlotte Co NB
Died: 1842-1851 Grand Manan, Charlotte Co NB

Much of our information about Abner comes from his Revolutionary War Pension Application papers, but the information in those papers is corroborated by records from Grand Manan, Charlotte Co NB.®MBC Until additional research shows otherwise, we believe this Abner is a son of Reuben and reconstruct his life as follows.

Abner enlisted in the 1st NH regiment in 1777 when it was federalized to form part of the continental army. His commanding officers were Lt. Perkins, Capt. Jason Waite, and Col. J. Scilly. At that time, Abner lived near Charlestown, Cheshire Co NH. He served his full three years fighting at Ticonderoga, Bemis Heights, and Saratoga before being assigned to Gen. Sullivan's campaign in PA and NY against the British and Indians. After that, Reuben was sent to Peekskill, Danbury, and Pompton and discharged in 1780. He then became a seaman on board a privateer where he lost his army discharge papers and was taken prisoner and confined on the British prison ship Irving for six months.®181: R842

By 1781, Abner was back home in NH and his uncle, Elijah, moderator of the Lempster Town Meeting sought to help him by asking the Lempster voters if they would support Abner as a soldier from their town.®32: I: 32 Even though men served with the federal troops, communities were responsible for providing part of their pay. Although Lempster voted in the affirmative and appropriated £16: 10: 0, negotiations with Abner continued to 1786 when he agreed to accept £20:19 in NH certificates.®32: I: 50-1

The next record we have for an Abner in the Charlestown-Lempster area is a notice of marriage bans with Lucy Long 13 Sep 1801. Since the Abner in Grand Manan had a wife named Lucy on the 1821 census, it is probable that this is the same Abner. Not long after his marriage, Abner would have moved to Grand Manan with his father, Reuben, and a Samuel Bingham who may have been a brother. In 1804, both Reuben and Samuel took the Oath of Allegiance and in 1805 the deputy surveyor reported lots surveyed for Reuben and Abner.®341: 19: 24; 11: 19 In 1809, Abner signed a petition as an inhabitant of Seal Cove, Grand Manan Island on behalf of the local doctor. Abner's pension application of 1833 claimed that he had lived on Grand Manan for thirty to thirty-six years and that his father, also a revolutionary war veteran, had resided there, too. So far, the only father son combination we have that fits the criteria of names and revolutionary service, is this Abner and his father, Reuben.

Abner's 1833 pension application was rejected, perhaps for lack of supporting evidence, or because he was not a resident of the United States. On reapplying in 1842, he claimed to be poor, that he owned no property on Grand Manan, and actually lived in Lubec ME. However, on the 1851 census, a Lucy Bingham, age 79, was enumerated on Grand Manon living with newlyweds William and Mary Kendrick Watt. Thus, it seems that Abner died between 1842 and 1851 and that wife, Lucy, continued to live on Grand Manan.

Lemuel Webb read medicine with Dr. Avery in Windham and completed his studies with lectures at the medical department of Yale College. He began his medical practice at New Milford, Susquehanna Co PA in 1817 where he spent the remaining fifty years of his life.®92: 207 When he arrived in New Milford, Lemuel boarded with William Ward and tended his store until his practice was established. He later bought land from Ward.®250: 7: 429 Lemuel was one of six physicians who organized the Susquehanna Co Medical Society in 1834 and he served as president 1859-1860. His office was located on the corner of Church St and Harford Rd.®248: 7A
When daughter Margaret Dean died in 1860, Lemuel and Alma adopted her youngest daughter, Julia Augusta, age six, and changed her surname to Bingham. Thus, some sources state that Lemuel had nine children.
Lemuel Webb Bingham should not be confused with Lemuel Bingham (1.1.8a.5.6a.3.) who operated Bingham's Tavern in New Milford.

From the time he was ordained in 1803, Elder Dimock, pastor of the Bridgewater Church, Susquehanna Co PA, kept a diary of his daily activities. On 5 Jul 1815 he wrote, "Mr. Bingham shot himself, left wife and young child." The Mr. Bingham referred to was this Elias. We believe the young child he left was the Anson H. whose birth was recorded in Windham CT and whose father was named

The summer that Luther was twenty-one he began to clear his own farm near Morristown VT, ninety miles north of his parent's home in Cheshire NH. The following summer of 1800, he sowed wheat and built a frame house. He returned alone once more in March 1801 with a load of goods and for maple sugaring. Finally in May of the same year, his new wife returned with him to settle in their new home. Luther added a saw mill to his property in 1806 using a crank he had dragged fifty miles from Starksborough.

As an early settler in Morristown, Luther was looked to for leadership. Consequently, he was elected colonel and commander of militia in 1809 and held the position for several years. In 1812, he was elected Justice of the Peace and held that office until he died. He was also elected representative to the state legislature in 1817 and served for eleven years. Luther also was a state Censor, an official elected to consider amendments to the state constitution.

Died: 28 Jun 1859 Fletcher, Franklin Co VT; Bur: Binghamville Cemetery, Binghamville, Franklin Co VT

Elias lived in Windham CT until he was about five years old and then moved with his family to Cornish, Cheshire Co NH where he grew up. He left home before 1800 and went north to the Morristown-Stowe area where his older brother, Luther, was clearing land and building a home. After two disastrous attempts at married life - both wives, probably sisters, died within nine months of the time they married - Elias found a wife who bore him thirteen children and outlived him.

In 1809, Elias bought a farm from the selectmen of Franklin Co. He was to pay 12 cents annually and build and operate a saw or grist mill.®343: 290 The farm was located in Fletcher Township, just south of the present day town of Fletcher. The community that grew up around Elias's mill was named Binghamville in his honor. Between 1891 and 1904, Binghamville was a post office; in 1995 the town still appeared on official state maps.

By 1850, Elias's children, except Hulda who did not marry, had left home.®92: 5 Nine years later, according to the VT vital records, Elias age seventy-nine, suffered paralysis for three days and died.®59 Martha died from typhoid fever a year later.

Lemuel's family is a good example of the consequences of indifference to voluntary recording of vital records. The only existing records become family records and they vanish with time; Lemuel's family bible went with daughter, Mahala. Neither are there census records for Lemuel because the U.S. census did not cover Stowe Vt, where Lemuel lived, until Lamoille Co was formed in 1835. Thus, the information presented here is sketchy and incomplete until additional research fills the gaps.

From the information we do have, it appears that Lemuel and his family left VT in time to be in Bethel Twp, Branch Co MI in 1840.®150: 76 If his daughter, Mahala, was born in Erie Co PA in 1828, he stopped there along the way to MI, but he was not enumerated in PA in 1830. However, son Seymour Lemuel said that he, himself, went from Crawford Co PA to Branch Co MI in 1831 so that might have been when Lemuel made the same move.®1 However, again, Lemuel did not appear on the MI U.S. census in 1850 a few years before he died in Quincy, Branch Co MI, although his son, Seymour Lemuel did.

As his three older brothers, Jedediah left Cornish where he had grown up and moved north to the Morristown-Stowe area of VT. Jedediah settled in Morristown and remained there the rest of his life, supporting his family by farming. His first wife's name was interchangeably recorded as Anne, Amy, and Betsey. His daughter, Harriet, who was deaf, must have been born deaf since his son, Charles, also had a deaf daughter. Harriet was reported to have had a good intellect. She lived at home.®92: 167

Instead of moving north to VT as his five older brothers, Origen, who was a silversmith, moved south to Shelburne Falls, Franklin Co MA after he married. He arrived in Shelburne Falls before 1820 and remained there through 1828 when his last child was born.®113: 42 He then took his family to western NY, settling in Nunda, Livingston Co, but he escaped the 1830 census taker in the move. In 1835, his oldest son, William, left home age twenty-one and headed west around the north of Lake Erie through Canada. Two years later, in 1837 when MI was admitted to the union, Origin with the rest of his family, headed west around the south of Lake Erie. He settled in Branch Co MI near the Chicago Turnpike.®150: 76

After he married, Calvin farmed in Clinton Co NY, his wife's home area. He still lived there in 1850.®92: 90 However, during some of the intervening thirty years, Calvin and his family had lived in Canada and possibly, Alberg VT as his daughter, Rachel, was born in Canada and maybe daughter Emily, also. It is doubtful that Calvin went to IA until after his wife died in 1859. Who he went with and/or lived with in IA is unknown. Calvin's only surviving son, Calvin Henry, who was still at home in 1850 working as a carpenter and joiner, may have lived in CA.

Died: 1 Aug 1831 Turin, Lewis Co NY

Luther grew up in Canterbury CT. During the American Revolution, he enlisted as a fifer in the militia, age seventeen, and served in Capt. Moses Branch's company of Col. Obadiah Johnson's regiment while it was stationed in RI in January and February 1788.®219: 6071 Other revolutionary war service records have not been found.

Luther may have married about 1781 and had a son, Luther, about 1782. Records have not been found to corroborate this, but the possible son did exist and descendants claimed the father-son relationship (see 1.10a.2a.2.2a.1.).

Records do agree that Luther married Abigail Johnson of Canterbury in 1786 and that daughter, Julia, was born in Canterbury. The birth dates and places of their other four children have not been verified. However, Luther was enumerated in Canterbury in 1790 and, judging by the number of males over sixteen, as head of his recently deceased father's household.®39: 142

By 1797, Luther had "gone to parts unknown" and absconded with money owed to brother, Gurdon. Gurdon filed suit demanding $1500 damages and costs. On appeal from the Court of Common Pleas, the Windham Superior Court appointed auditors who brought the brothers together in Canterbury 6 Aug 1798 and found Luther in arrears to Gurdon for only $2.21.®354: 1: 8

By 1810, Luther and family lived in Lewis Co NY.®136: 102 He was still there in 1820, in Turin Twp.®113: 9 He was probably also in Turin in 1830 and died there in 1831. Thereafter, wife Abigail lived with son Samuel in Canton, St. Lawrence Co NY.

According to Gurdon's sworn deposition in his revolutionary war pension application of 1818, he enlisted 1 Apr 1776 as a musician (fifer) in Capt. Daniel Allen's company. If the date is correct, Gurdon was thirteen years, seven months, fifteen days old. Allen, himself, testified to the accuracy of Gurdon's enlistment. Allen's company was part of Col. Ward's regiment of the CT Line and shortly after Gurdon enlisted, the regiment joined the CT army in Maj. Gen. Sullivan's division in NY. Gurdon was involved in the division's battles of the coming year; they included the Battle of Long Island and the Battle of White Plains. Gurdon was never captured, but he was honorably discharged at the end of his year and did not serve again. His pension application under the 1818 law, which required a minimum of nine months service, was approved and he was placed on the CT Roll 24 Mar 1818 at $8 per month.®181: S37,762; ®219: 6048 He died two years later age fifty-seven.

William, the youngest son of William, was baptized in the Canterbury Congregational Church 29 Feb 1773.®93 He left Canterbury after 1794 to settle in what is now Lewis Co NY. He must have taken his family with him as his son, George, later married in Lewis Co. William settled along the Black River about 1797 in what was then Leyden Twp, Herkimer Co NY. Two friends went with him. One friend drowned in crossing the river, the other friend settled in ME.®143: 506 William, himself, was killed by a falling tree. William's wife Ruby, sister to Abigail wife of brother Luther (1.10a.2a.2.2.), married, second, a man whose surname was Brayton. In 1850 she lived in Cleveland OH with the sons of her second marriage, Dr. C.D. Brayton and H.W. Brayton.

Elijah Alonzo was a farmer in East Haddam CT, although he began his working life as a teacher. Before he married, he taught in Windham and at Williams College, Williamstown MA where in 1802 he was called professor of mathematics and English literature.
In East Haddam, he became a typical country gentleman and played an important role in the community. He held every grade in the CT militia from sergeant through colonel, but records do not show that he served active duty during the War of 1812. He was also a constable and sheriff. He maintained a pack of fox hounds and loved to hunt. But his greatest interest was music; he conducted the village singing school, composed, and led the Congregational Church choir.
Elijah and family were enumerated on the U.S. census for East Haddam in 1820, 1830, 1850 and 1860.®113: 534; ®115: 123; ®92: 188; ®83: 375 But in 1840, they lived in Red Lion Twp, New Castle Co DE next to son Elijah Whitfield who lived in DE for seven years.®150: 337 In 1850, two grandsons, sons of Elisha Cone, lived with him.

Samuel was apprenticed to a printer when he was eleven years old and orphaned when he was twelve. After completing his apprenticeship and before 1826, he moved to Manhattan, NY and worked as a printer for Harper Bros where he later used the first steam press in the United States. In 1849, Samuel bought a printers's roller manufacturing company and founded the Bingham Company. His sons built it into a nationwide business renamed Samuel Bingham & Co. in 1857. Samuel lived in Manhattan the rest of his life although in many different residences. After he died, son Leander and his children took over the business in NY and in 1891 they changed the name to Bingham Brothers Company. In 1903, they opened a branch factory in Philadelphia. Youngest son, Millard, ran the Chicago office under the name Sam'l Bingham's Son Mfg. Co.®415: 29 May 1876

Johnson Jr. was about three years old when he made the trek from Shaftsbury VT to Solon, then Onondaga Co NY. His father had begun an improvement in 1794 on section 62. Johnson Jr. lived in Solon the rest of his life. In 1816, when he was twenty-three, his father deeded him fifty acres of the family section.®97 Johnson Jr. later moved to section fifty-two and when he died he willed this land to son, Horace and daughter Miranda Maybury. They were his only children still living in Solon. Orrick lived in the nearby town of McGrawville and Henry was dead. Miranda and her family had lived on the family farm and cared for Johnson and Betsey until their deaths.®110; ®175: 218

Died: 6 Feb 1871; Bur: Solon Baptist Church Cemetery®102

Joseph called himself "Citizen Joseph" to avoid confusion with four other Joseph Binghams in the Cortland area and used that name on all his legal records.

Although his parents had moved to Solon in 1794, his mother returned to Shaftsbury from Solon for Joseph's birth, and to collect payment for the sale of property. Indeed, Joseph's birth was recorded in the Shaftsbury birth records and Joseph always reported himself born in VT. In 1818, when he was twenty-three, his parents gave him his inheritance of $100 and a deed for forty-two acres in section 61, Solon Twp.®97 Joseph was more interested in pursuing a worthless deed from the defunct Susquehanna Land Company to property in PA that he thought his grandfather, Gideon, rightfully owned. Joseph lived in Tioga Twp, Tioga Co NY for several years so that he would be closer to his grandfather's supposed property while he pursued his battle.®150: 117

By 1845 his first wife had died and Joseph had returned to Solon where he was enumerated on the NY state voting census with his second wife and stepson. His family group was again enumerated in Solon on the 1850 U.S. census.®92: 179 He was a poor farmer worth only $150. They were still in Solon in 1855.®110 In 1860, only his wife, Mary, and her son, formed the household, but in 1862 Joseph was back and registered to vote in the state election.®369: Box 1-1

After Joseph died, his wife Mary was destitute. A year before she died, she was admitted to the Cortland Co Poor House. She reported two living children, but Joseph and Mary had none of their own.

Simon Brewster was a Baptist minister. He received his inheritance of acreage in Solon Twp in 1828 when his father bought fifty acres of the Arthur Breese estate and had it deeded to Simon.®97; ®131: Bk O: 30 Simon did not live in Solon, however, for about the same time, he moved his family to OH where he was enumerated on the 1830 U.S. census in Milton Twp, Wayne Co.®115: 146 His older brother, Eben (1.10a.2b.2.5.), soon joined him in Milton. Within a few years, his first wife, Rachel, died leaving him with four young children.

Simon married again 19 Mar 1834 and had six more children. In 1840, he and his family lived in Homer, Medina Co OH.®150: 158 When Simon died at the age of forty-six after being ill for only a month, he left nine living children.®372: No. 226 The oldest was twenty-three, the youngest was one and none was married.

Since Simon left no will, his estate was inventoried and sold. The sale occurred in July 1850 and his widow purchased one bureau, a stand, looking glass, reel, flat iron, dye tub, corn basket and nine geese. Each child received a share of the estate after they reached legal age. His widow married again within a year.

George married and lived in Tioga Co NY instead of moving to Cortland Co with his parents and the rest of the family. Although he was born in CT, he had lived in Susquehanna Co PA from the time he was eight or ten. After nine years in Tioga Co, 1831-1840, George and family moved to Newport Twp, Lake Co IL about 1840 and he was enumerated there in 1850 for the first time on a U.S. census, but under the name Joseph. J..®92: 20 By 1860, he had moved to Padua Twp, McLean Co IL.®83: 269 During the Civil War, five of his six sons were in the army at the same time. In 1880, son Elbert C. still lived in Padua Twp.

Died: 15 Jul 1833 Lempster, Sullivan Co NH
In 1784, when Roswell was twenty-one, he left his home in Lyme CT and went to Lempster NH where his grandfather lived since several of his uncles were near his own age. After working in Lempster for six years, Roswell married Martha Safford in 1790. Martha lived in Washington NH at the time, but according to her daughter Mary's birth record, Martha may have been born in New London CT. The 1790 census enumerated Roswell and Martha after they were married.®39: 19 Roswell continued to be enumerated in Lempster for each decennial census through 1830.®90; ®136: 185; ®113: 130; ®115: Sullivan Co :351 (In 1827, Lempster came under the jurisdiction of newly formed Sullivan Co.)

Nathan was always known as "Nathan the Hatterer." According to his three oldest children's knowledge of where they were born, Nathan and family lived in New London until 1810 and then moved to Claremont NH. If they moved in 1810, that would explain why Nathan was not enumerated on the 1810 census. Instead, Nathan first appeared on a federal census in 1820 in Claremont where he lived thereafter.®113: 21; ®115: 249; ®150: 47 In 1850, age seventy, with his family grown and gone, he lived with daughter Maria and husband Henry Galpin.®92: 179

Died: 31 Mar 1859 Washington D.C.®381: 4 Apr 1859; ®382: 6 Apr 1859

James Hervey was an attorney. Until the day he died age seventy-seven, he used his legal training in the positions he held. He attended Phillips Academy, Exeter NH and was the third Bingham to graduate from Dartmouth- the year was 1800. At both schools, his closest friend and classmate was Daniel Webster and they remained friends throughout life. James read law with Benjamin West of Charlestown NH, was admitted to the NH Bar in 1804 and set up practice in Alstead. He then married his first cousin, Mary Stevens, daughter of his Aunt Talitha (1.10a.4b.2.) Their four children died young.

James and his second wife, Charlotte Kent, lived in Alstead until 1826 when he turned over his practice to brother Elijah and moved to Claremont NH. In Claremont, James was Town Clerk 1828-1835, representative to the NH legislature, 1840-1841, and from 1842 to about 1846, cashier of the new bank. Charlotte's brother, Edward Kent, was a governor of ME.®222: 15-17

When James was about sixty-five, he and Charlotte, and children Charlotte and John K. moved to Cleveland where brother Elijah had lived since 1835. They were enumerated on the 1850 U.S. census for Cleveland, Cuyahoga Co OH.®92: 250 Elijah was an attorney and federal land agent. He helped James secure a position in the General Land Office in Washington D.C. where James worked from 1851 to his death in 1859.

James was an accomplished bass viol player. His instrument was donated by his daughters to the NH Historical Society. His correspondence with Daniel Webster is in the Dartmouth College Archives.

Elijah was another Bingham who attended Dartmouth College. He prepared by attending New Ipswich Academy and by teaching. However, he left Dartmouth after one year as his earlier hearing loss from scarlet fever made the lecture method too difficult for him.®222: 18 Instead, he studied law with his brother, James Hervey, and was admitted to the NH Bar in 1825. That year, he traveled to Cleveland, but returned home to settle his brother Truman's estate and take over his job as postmaster of Lempster. In 1826, Elijah resigned and moved to Alstead to assume his brother James's law practice so James could move to Claremont NH. Elijah remained in Alstead for nine years.®385: 148

In 1835 he moved his family to Cleveland OH. They traveled along the Erie Canal from Schenectady to Buffalo and took a steamboat from Buffalo to Cleveland. For several years, they lived on the south side of the public square in Cleveland. In 1850 he worked as an attorney and land agent.®92: 336 He bought land, subdivided it, and built himself a new home on the street he named Cheshire. Among many community activities, Elijah was one of the organizers of the Second Presbyterian Church in Cleveland.

Elijah was quite musical. One of his closest friends was Jonas Chickering, the piano maker. Elijah bought the first piano, Chickering made. After seventy years of family use, Chickering's son bought it back.®222: 19

Elijah and Thankful lived to celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary, but their only surviving son had no male heirs.®384: 518

Harris Jr. was a farmer. For about five years after marrying, he and his family lived in Lempster where he grew up. He was not enumerated head of household in 1820, three years after he married. By 1824, the family had moved to Emily's home town of Carlisle, Middlesex Co MA. They continued to live in Carlisle through 1850.®115: 191; ®150: 293 By then, Emily's father had died and her eighty-four year old mother, Sarah Foster, lived with them. Harris also employed an Irish born laborer, Thomas Ryan. All living children but George were at home.®92: 482 However, son Charles actually may have been working as a farm hand in Fitchburg, Worcester Co.®92: 159 After retiring from farming, Harris may have lived with son Charles and granddaughter Sarah in Clinton MA.

After his father died, Horace and Rachel and several of his brothers and sisters moved to Genesee Co NY about 1815. Horace and Rachel settled in Perry Twp.®113: 234; ®115: 265 In 1841, Perry Twp became part of newly formed Wyoming Co. The 1840 census for that area appears to be missing. In 1850, Horace and his family were enumerated in Leicester Twp, Livingston Co.®92: 12 Since Horace reported a farm value of $4,000 in 1850, it is probable that the family always lived on the same farm, but the political jurisdiction became more refined between 1840 and 1850. Emily may have married in 1838, but she was included at home on the 1850 census as was Mary. James may have been living with the Henry Crane family in Mt Morris, working and attending school.®92: 99

Mar: 3 Nov 1828 Robert SMITH Sanbornton NH; Born: Peterborough NH; Died: 23 Dec 1867 Alton, Madison Co IL

Died: 5 Apr 1878 New Orleans LS

Sarah was four years old when her father, Vine, died. Her mother remained in the family home in Lempster while Vine's children by his first wife moved to NY. Sarah grew up in NH, but after she married she moved to St. Louis MO with husband, Robert. Her mother went with them. A few years later, they settled in Alton, Madison Co IL across the Mississippi River from St. Louis. Robert was elected representative to the U.S. Congress from his district and Sarah and children accompanied him to Washington D.C. when Congress met. Sarah entertained and studied painting. During the Civil War, Robert was pay master.®GBA; ®HAM

Died: 20 Feb 1871 Vacaville, Solano Co CA; Bur: Calistoga CA

Jonathan was five months old when his father, Vine, died. Jonathan's mother, Vine's second wife, remained in Lempster to raise her two children, consequently, Jonathan grew up in NH. He later followed his married sister and mother to St. Louis MO and lived with his mother until he married in 1846 age thirty-three. He then moved to Bunker Hill, Macoupin Co IL where his five children were born. Wife Almira died in 1868 so he sent his daughters to boarding school at Monticello Seminary, Godfrey IL and left for CA with his three sons. Hoping to find relief for his tuberculosis, he operated a hotel in Santa Barbara, but the ocean air proved an irritant. From there, he went to San Francisco and to visit his cousin, Ozias (1.10a.4b.8.6a.4.) in Vacaville. Within months, Jonathan died.

When his two daughters were not in school, they lived with his sister, Sarah, in Alton IL. After graduating from Monticello Seminary, they attended college in St. Louis.

His three sons bought property in the Napa Valley at Calistoga and established vineyards. The property passed into the hands of their sister, Laura, and then her two daughters who still owned it in 1970.®GBA; ®HAM

Died: 10 Nov 1871 Boston, Suffolk Co MA; Bur: Mt Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge MA
Osmer was another Bingham who moved from NH/VT to the Boston area to better his business opportunities. Despite Philip S. Thayer's claim that Osmer was a counter-migrant, the pattern of moving to the city was common for a younger son whose older brother remained on the farm.®389
After Osmer married in 1832, he settled in Rockingham VT where his first four children were born and where he worked as a middleman or commission merchant. About 1845, he moved to Boston and over the years worked with several different partners. From 1847 to 1850 his partner was his cousin Charles R. Bingham (1.10a.4a.1.3.7.) Charles called himself a trader. One of their main items was wool.
For his housing in Boston, Osmer bought up as his circumstances permitted in areas that were under development. He lived in Chelsea, then on Burroughs Place where the Wang Center was located in 1986, and finally on Newbury Street.
Three of Osmer's children, including his two sons, did not marry. The two youngest children died of tuberculosis, and perhaps, his oldest son, also.
When he died in 1871, Osmer's personal estate was worth $36,535.00 and his share in his business worth $48,331.00. Burial in Mt Auburn Cemetery carried prestige commensurate with the size of his estate. The trust he established was eventually divided among his granddaughter, Mattie Pauline Azarian Bird's nieces and nephews in 1961.®389: 25

Thomas Hulsford may have married twice, first when he was sixteen. The Mansfield Second Church recorded a son named Ralph of Thomas Hulsford and Mary baptized 16 Jun 1796. If this is correct, this Ralph died as Thomas's oldest son of his second marriage was also named Ralph. By 1820, Thomas H. lived in Charleston Twp, Montgomery Co NY and was married to Anna.®113: 322 Anna's last name may have been Walker. By 1830, Thomas H.'s property lay in Root Twp. ®115: 57 He remained in Root through 1850.®150: 388; ®92: 328 In 1850, son Ralph lived in the same township and son Thomas W. lived in Canajoharie Twp, Montgomery Co. It is probable that Wheelock Bingham was the son of Augustus Wheelock and Betsey Huntington Bingham. Both lived in Chenango Co NY, probably together, as only one or the other appeared as head of household on the U.S. census as long as Augustus lived. In 1840, Wheelock was enumerated in Columbus Twp, but in 1850 his residence was part of Sherburne Twp.®150: 195 In 1850, his sons Wheelock Jr. and Simmon were at home as well as a Cynthia Bingham, either daughter or daughter-in-law.®92: 264 Mary Bingham born in CT, possibly a sister, lived with William and Lydia Hall in Columbus Twp in 1850.®92: 281 Wheelock Sr. and Jr. lived together in 1860 as well.®83: 77 It is probable that Wheelock Jr. did not marry.

Cyrus lived in Andover all his life. He farmed and ran the family grist mill with his brother, Harvey. During the War of 1812, Cyrus served from 4 May 1812 to 15 Aug 1816 in 7th company, 12th regiment, CT militia. He was sergeant, then ensign, and finally, lieutenant. None of his sons stayed on the farm. By 1850, only Joel was at home.®92: 369 Cyrus was originally buried in the cemetery next to the Congregational Church on the Hartford Road, but his son, Joel, moved his grave to an extension of the Old Cemetery. The earlier members of Stephen's line were buried in the older part of this cemetery; the extension includes the more recent graves.

CHILDREN OF ASA (Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)

1.1.1a.4.1a.1. Jeremiah BINGHAM (Asa, Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 29 Jun 1767 Coventry, Tolland Co CT
Mar: 29 Nov 1789 Lydia GILBERT (Col. Thomas GILBERT, Lydia LATHROP) Lyme NH; Born: 6 Sep 1773 Lyme NH; Died: 3 Jan 1831 Greene, Chenango Co NY
Died: 2 Jul 1843 Greene, Chenango Co NY

Jeremiah's mother died when he was a few days old. He was raised by his maternal grandparents, Thomas and Anne Woodward Porter, at Lyme NH while his father remarried and lived in Bolton CT. Jeremiah married Lydia Gilbert in 1789 when he was twenty-two and she was sixteen. They had ten sons and one daughter between 1790 and 1812. As was the custom, Jeremiah joined the Congregational Church in Lyme after the first three or four children were born. The family house was on the old highway from the Lambert House to the river. The family as enumerated on the U.S. 1800 census for Lyme, Grafton Co NH listed Jeremiah, his wife, their first five children, and three additional members of the household.®90

In the winter of 1814-15, Jeremiah and his family and his wife's sister's family, moved to Greene, Chenango Co NY. Jeremiah lived in Greene for twenty-eight years until he died in 1843 age seventy-six. Lydia, his wife, had died twelve years earlier in 1831. Since Jeremiah did not appear on the 1840 U.S. census as he had in 1820 and 1830, he may have resided during his last several years with one of his three sons who lived in Greene.®113: 184 ®115: 47 ®150: 191

Asa Jr. died when he was only twenty-nine years old. He married Amy Grace Dewey when he was twenty-six years old and they had one child born in 1800. The U.S. census for that year listed in Asa's household, in addition to himself and his wife, one female under ten and two females sixteen to twenty-six.®90: 672. The next year, 1801, Asa died. Amy, his wife, died in 1809.Their orphaned daughter, Amy, was raised by her widowed grandmother, Elizabeth Bingham (1.1.1a.4.1.).

Elizabeth, or Betsey, grew up in Bolton CT and was admitted to the church there 5 Oct 1800 when she was twenty-six years old. She was not married in 1819 when she transferred her membership to the church in Ellington where she moved with her mother, niece Amy, and brother Abner and his family.

Abner lived in Bolton for his first thirty-six years. Shortly before his twenty-fourth birthday, he married Sarah Fowler. His only son died age one year eight months. Among other business, Abner speculated in land. The Bolton and Hebron land records show many transfers between Abner and several of the same people. In 1815, he is supposed to have moved to Ellington CT, taking his widowed mother, spinster sister, and orphaned niece with him, but records for Abner cease after that date.

Died: 1860 Paupack, Palmyra Twp, Pike Co PA; Bur: Paupack Cemetery, Palmyra Twp, Pike Co PA; Will: 11 Aug 1860 Milford, Pike Co PA®155: C: 340

Moses was the oldest child of Hezekiah Jr. and his wife, Eunice Killam. The 1820 U.S. census for Pike Co PA indicated that he was married by the time he was thirty and that his wife was born between 1794 and 1804.®113: 4 They had one female under ten living with them. Since Moses is reported to have died without children, it is not clear who this child was. Again, the Pike Co 1830 U.S. census reported three people in Moses's household in addition to himself and his wife.®115 Moses's household was still larger in 1840 and by then, his mother, Eunice, lived with him.®150 Pike Co On the 1850 U.S. census, the additional people in his household included two nieces of his wife and his seventy-six year old mother.®92: 56; ®155: E: 35-6 When Moses died in 1860, he left one of his wife's nieces, Ruth R. Davis, one hundred dollars. Ruth was born in 1838 and lived with him in 1850. In 1851, Moses signed a deed as the administrator of the estate of Gabriel Davis. Ruth married Sylvester Sheridan and when Alice died in 1880, she left to her niece Ruth R. Sheridan, all her property. Alice/Else could neither read nor write.

Moses was a farmer, although he also served as Justice of the Peace in Palmyra Township, Pike Co for many years. Deeds, commissions and powers of attorney were recorded under his name in the Pike Co deeds in Milford PA. In his will, Moses asked that he be buried in the burying ground on the hill without any preaching or praying.®155: C: 340

Died: 23 Apr 1860/1864; Bur: Oxford Village Cemetery, Oakland Co MI®163: 125; Will: 3 Jun 1864 Oakland Co MI

John K. and his wife, Emeline Killam, moved to Scio Twp, Washtenaw Co MI after they were married, probably with a group of friends and relatives. John K. had purchased section 29 of what was to become, in 1834, Lima Twp. In 1832, he dammed the creek and built a sawmill. He also became the first town clerk of Lima. Three more children were born while he and Emeline lived in Lima.

John K. sold his sawmill in 1834 and moved to Milton, Calhoun Co MI. He built another mill and lived there into the mid 1840s. Three or four more children were born before the family moved again, this time to Gun Plain, Allegan Co. Their next to youngest child died in Gun Plain in 1848 and their last child was born there in 1849. Two deeds recorded in Pike Co PA, as well as the U.S. census records also recorded John K.'s moves.®154: 9: 518-9; 18: 294-5; ®115: Washtenaw: 160; ®92: Allegan: 11

John K. died age fifty-seven and was buried in Oxford Village Cemetery, Oakland Co MI on the other side of the state from where he lived. When he died, he may have been visiting Killam relatives who lived in the Oxford area. His executor was Jacob Preston, husband of his wife's sister, Lucy. John K's children were living and their residence's were given in his will. In her older years, wife Emeline lived with her youngest daughter, Mary, and Mary's husband, Charles A. Newland. Emeline died in Plainwell, Allegan Co MI in 1898 age ninety-five and was buried in Hillside Cemetery, Gun Plain MI.

Ephriam lived in Lackawaxen, Wayne Co PA until about 1820 when he was fourteen and his family moved to New Jersey. By the time he was twenty in 1837, Ephriam lived in Calhoun County MI. In that same year he married Laura Latlin. Ephriam had undoubtedly gone to Calhoun Co to work for his older cousin, John K. (1.1.1b.4a.2.3.), who had a sawmill and other businesses in Milton. Ephriam and Laura had four children while they lived in Calhoun Co. Their third child, Henry, was born deaf.

Between 1845 and 1848, Ephriam and family moved to Koskonong Twp, Jefferson Co WI where his first cousin, Ezra Hugh (1.1.1b.4a.7.2.), had lived since 1838. Ephriam made his living as a farmer and he and Laura had six more children in Koskonong which gave them a family of ten children.®92

Edilda was twenty-five years old she married Joseph Slocum, thirty. For two years they continued to live with their respective parents before they set up their own home in Unionville, Luzerne Co PA. Edilda's husband, Joseph, and his brother, Samuel, ran their father's businesses which included blacksmithing, lumbering, farming, and coal mining. By inheritance and purchase, Joseph Slocum eventually owned much of what became the central part of Scranton, PA. Because the land was desirable for building lots as well as coal mining, Joseph and Edilda became very wealthy. Joseph lived to be ninety years old, but Edilda's date of death is unknown.

Ezra Hugh lived at home into his adult life and in 1832 at the age of twenty-five was appointed tax assessor for Palmyra Twp, Wayne Co PA.®169 But by the time he was thirty-one, Ezra Hugh had gone west to Rock Co WI to settle on land which he had purchased from the federal government. He was the only Bingham on the Wisconsin 1840 U.S. census.®150: 102

After several years of farming in Koshkonong, he married Mathilda Wright or Taft 25 April 1846 when he was thirty-nine and she was twenty. Between 1847 and 1861, they had eight children: two boys and six girls.

During the late 1850s and into the 1860s, Ezra Hugh was involved with the settlement of his father's estate and several deeds in his name were recorded in Milford, Pike Co PA.

Died: 9 Aug 1856 Milton, Rock Co WI

Hezekiah also moved to Rock County WI where his older sister and brother lived. However, since Hezekiah was not enumerated on the 1840 or 1850 U.S. census for either PA, where he was born, or WI, where he died, we do not know when he moved. All we know is that he married Mary Garrison, had no children, and died 9 August 1856 in Milton, Rock Co WI.

Born: 11 Feb 1814 Paupack, Wayne Co PA
Mar: Mary Ann REESE
Died: 10 Jun 1875 Merchantville, Camden Co NJ

Florence McCarty, the fifth son of Rodolphus Bingham and Sally Kimble, was born in 1814 in Paupack, Palmyra Twp PA, the year it became part of Pike Co. He was in the lumber business floating log booms down the Delaware River and selling them in the Philadelphia and Camden NJ area. At the age of thirty-two in 1850, he lived in a boarding house in Camden NJ.®92: 12 Thereafter, he married Mary Ann Reese, but they had no children.

Florence McCarty became one of the largest lumber dealers in the Philadelphia-Camden area and after the Civil War he expanded his operation to the Susquehanna River and the Harrisburg market. In 1868, he bought the Joseph Priestley house in Northumberland PA and used it as a boarding house for his log boom men on the Susquehanna River.®170 :52: 313 He owned the historic house when he died, intestate, in 1875 age sixty-one, but his heirs sold it in 1882.®170: 85: 278.

Florence McCarty's widow, Mary Ann, devoted her fortune and her life to charity and nursing the sick.®45: 951

Rufus was the sixth child of Rodolphus Bingham and Sarah Kimble. Apparently he remained at home until after his father died in 1852, as he was enumerated in his father's household on the 1850 U.S. census.®92: 56 Rufus's name appeared on the Palmyra Twp, Pike Co seated assessments for 1849 through 1856.®157 By 1858, he was married to Esther Ainsley as indicated by her name appearing on legal documents in the settlement of her father-in-law's estate.®154: 22: 537; 24: 20

Rufus and Esther followed his older siblings to WI and by 1864 they lived in Koshkonong, Jefferson Co where they remained the rest of their lives. Esther was alive in 1893 and in 1905 Rufus was alive and living in Edgerton, Rock Co WI®154: 49: 528

Sarah was born in Palmyra Twp, Pike Co PA, but probably moved to WI, where several siblings lived, before she married. After she married, she lived in Jefferson Co WI until she died, perhaps as a result of the birth of her child, Rush.

When Rush's grandfather, Rodolphus, died intestate in 1852, young Rush inherited his farm. The farm was the original 459 acre tract on the Wallenpaupack River settled by great grandfather Hezekiah. Rush's uncle, Florence McCarty (1.1.1b.4.7.5.), who lived close to Paupack, became Rush's guardian.®159: B: 452-4 By 1875, Rush had married and lived in Appleton WI.®170: 85: 278

1.1.6.2.1a.1. Mary/Polly BINGHAM (Jabez III, Jabez Jr., Jabez, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 24 May 1780 South Hadley MA®179
Mar: Silas PRUDEN; Born: Morristown NJ; Died: 1856 Hocking Co OH®193: 157; Mar)1): Rebecca Carmichael®WTB

Mary, the oldest daughter of Jabez III and Mary Mitchell was born in South Hadley, Hampshire Co MA 24 May 1780.®179 When and where she married Silas Pruden as his second wife is unknown, but they appear to have moved to Athens Co OH about 1815. Pruden may have been a trading partner of Mary's father. On the 1820 OH census Mary and Silas Pruden's household consisted of three males 10-16 (1804-1810), three males 16-26 (1794-1804), one male 45 and over; three females under 10 (1810-1820) , one female 10-16 (1804-1810), one female 16-26 (1794-1804), one female 26-45.®412 If we presume that child David Mitchell was Mary's, since she had a brother of the same name (died 1812), and David was 10-16 in 1820 and we know he married in 1830, he was born before 1810 and as early as 1804. That means Mary and Silas might have married as early as 1801 as one researcher reported, but did not document. Further, Achsah married in 1832 and if we assume that she was one of three under ten females in 1820, she would have been born between 1810 and 1820, but to be old enough to marry, even young, she would have been born no later than 1817. From the breakdown of the census data, it would appear than Silas Pruden's first wife was the mother of his children born before 1804 and Mary the mother of his children born 1804 and after. If so, that would mean that Mary would have had her first child when she was about twenty-four.

In 1837 Mary and Silas came under Hocking Co jurisdiction, either they moved or the county boundary changed. Daughter, Achsah, married John Brough/Bronch who was governor of Ohio during the Civil War. The Brough's granddaughter, Achsah, married Joseph West Bingham (1.1.6.4.3.4.2b.1.), a cousin.

Fannie may be a nickname for Mabel, Jabez III and Mary Mitchell's second daughter born 31 Mar 1782 in South Hadley, MA, or Fannie may be a fourth daughter born in NH 23 May 1786. There is confusion because (1), no other record than the birth date and place has been found under the name Mabel; (2), no birth record exists for Fannie; (3), Fannie's date of birth on her gravestone is given as both 23 May 1780 (only off one day from oldest sister, Mary,) and 23 May 1786; and (4), Fannie was enumerated on the 1850 U.S. census as being born in NH and sixty-four years of age, therefore born in 1786. Two clues may be that, Fannie, daughter of Jabez, married Zachariah Royce Chandler in Chandlersville, Muskingum Co in 1804 and each of her children received the name of one of her siblings with the notable exception of the name Mabel.®191

Fanny and Zachariah lived in Chandlersville, Salt Creek Township, Muskingum Co all their married lives. They operated a tanning mill as well as the first tavern or hotel to accommodate travelers. It was opened in 1815.®185: 365 The Bingham's and Chandler's had intermarried several times. Zachariah and Fannie had a common aunt and uncle in Jesse and Mercy Bingham Chandler (1.1.6.2.8.). Further, Zachariah's brother, John, married two first cousin's of Fannie's, Lucy and Nancy, daughters of Fannie's uncle Alvan (1.1.6.2.4.).

The 1850 U.S. census indicated that daughter, Fannie B., and her four children then lived with Fannie and Zachariah.®92:392 Fannie died two years later 21 Sep 1852. Zachariah lived another ten years and died 29 Aug 1862.

Abigail was the first child of Jabez III and his second wife, Abigail Brown Rowley. She was probably born in NH 1791-1795 before the family moved to Washington Co PA. By 1812-13, Abigail was old enough to teach school in Chandlersville, Salt Creek Twp, Muskingum Co OH where her older half sister, Fannie, lived.®185: 369 On 17 Sep 1816 in Ross Co OH, Abigail married her first cousin Gustavus Evarts, son of her aunt Achsah who married Ambrose Evarts.

Abigail and Gustavus moved west, first to Indiana where they were enumerated in Union Co in 1830 and LaPorte Co in 1840. By 1851 they had settled in Bonham Twp, Fannin Co TX where Gustavus was a lawyer.

Died: Oct-Dec 1853 New Plymouth, Swan Twp, Vinton Co OH; Will: 30 Sep 1853 McArthur, Vinton Co Crt House: File Bx 8

Ralph should be noted for his divorce from his third wife, Esther Miller Bingham. The 1847 case was the impetus for the Ohio Supreme Court to declare legislative divorce unconstitutional in Ohio.®204 Married twice previously, both wives had died, but Esther brought suit to have her 1843 divorce declared void on the grounds that the legislature did not have the authority to grant divorces. The lower court refused to hear the case, resulting in an appeal to the state supreme court.

Ralph was born in Tinmouth, Rutland Co VT in 1782 and was twelve years old when his family set out for OH. Although he was only fourteen when they arrived, the Ohio Company allowed him an original grant of one hundred acres.®195: 4: 178 Several other deeds in his and wife Esther's name were recorded in the Athens Co Court House. Only wives Mary Pratt and Fanny Maples could have borne his first three daughters. When Ralph died, he left wife Lucy his entire estate, but named daughter Patty Prena to inherit the remainder after Lucy's death.®92: OH: Vinton Co: 328

Mar (2): 1815 Timothy Goodrich
Died: 1830 Galena IL

Candace was five years old when the family left Tinmouth VT for Athens OH. She was sixteen when she married Timothy Wilkins. They had five children, but he then feigned drowning and abandoned her and left the area for financial reasons. With her husband assumed dead, Candace married Timothy Goodrich in 1815. However, within less than a year Wilkins surfaced and Candace returned to him although she was pregnant by Goodrich. After the Goodrich baby was born, Wilkins left again. Candace eventually located him in Galena IL and went there to live. Goodrich married Minerva Howe and the two of them raised Candace's son by Goodrich.

Mar: 12 Mar 1814 Martha CRANSTON (James CRANSTON, Ruth AUSTIN)
Died: 4 Oct 1843 Athens, Athens Co OH; Bur: West State Street Cemetery Athens, Athens Co OH

According to his father, Silas Jr. was born while the family lived at Basin Harbor, Addison Co VT.®181 Thus, he was two years old when the family left VT for OH and he was twenty-two when he married Martha Cranston at Athens OH 12 Mar 1814. A letter that Martha and Silas Jr. wrote to their daughter and son-in-law Nira and Albert Kelly contained most of the information we have about the family.®EK

Apparently about 1835 or 1836, after all ten children were born, the family's house in Troy Twp was totally destroyed by fire while thy were at church. Thought to have been caused by a cat who slept too close to the fireplace, everything was lost. While in the process of building a new home in Chauncy, Athens Co, Silas Jr. was foreclosed in 1842 and ordered to sell his lots. He died just one year later in Oct 1843 and was buried next to his father in the West State Street Cemetery. After Silas died, Martha and children, John, Jabez, and three younger sisters lived with Charles Baldwin Pruden, uncle by marriage to the children. Later, Martha and her young children went to live with son James Cranston near Wallonia, Trigg Co KY.

Hiram was the youngest of Silas's twelve children and was the only child by his father's fourth wife. His half siblings by his father's first wife were grown and on their own by the time Hiram was born in 1825.

Hiram married first when he was twenty years old, Lavina Lamb, and they had one child, Surgis. Lavina died before 1850 when Hiram was enumerated on the U.S. census for Athens Co living at home with his mother, Martha Herrold Bingham Jackson, her husband, and his own four year old Surgis.®92: 33

Hiram married, second, Saloma Weiss 5 Nov 1850. A year later they joined a party of forty and set off for the California gold fields by ship from the Atlantic coast. After a year in Jamaica, they sailed to Panama, crossed the isthmus, and arrived in California in 1852. They spent three years in the gold camps with some success, then had a dairy farm in the Sacramento Valley. After the farm was destroyed in a flood, they spent time in Boise ID and the Idaho gold fields and Walla Walla WA before returning to Athens OH in 1867 via Nicaragua and New York. Hiram operated a grocery store in Athens and then manufactured salt at Beaumont.®203: 24-5 By 1880, they were the only Bingham family left in Athens.®175

Hiram died 15 Oct 1888. He left everything to his wife, Salome, but stated that Surgis was his only next of kin resident in OH.

Died: 6 July 1810/1811 Athens, Greene Co NY

The oldest child of Daniel and Esther Willard Bingham, Shubal Conant, was born in Salisbury, Litchfield Co CT 24 Jul 1776. He married Elizabeth Brewster when he was about twenty-two and the birth of their first child was recorded in Salisbury in 1799. They then moved to Schoharie Co NY where Shubal was enumerated on the 1800 federal census.®90: 119: 6 By 1806 they were living in Hudson, Columbia Co NY when Shubal bought land in Egremont, Berkshire Co MA from his father and sold it the next year.®52: 41: 590; 43: 475 He also sold property bounding both sides of the road in Sheffield, Berkshire Co MA to New York City merchants on behalf of his brother, Luther.®52: 44: 94 Thereafter, Shubal and family moved to Athens, Greene Co NY across the river from Hudson where he was enumerated on the 1810 U.S. census.®136: 186 But in 1811 Shubal died age thirty-five leaving a family of six children age twelve and under.

Elizabeth, his wife, returned to Salisbury CT where she raised her children and married, second, in 1822 Job Spencer as his third wife.®5: Salisbury: 104 They had one child, Job Brewster Spencer, 19 Jan 1823.®13: 28 (1952): 62 Elizabeth lived into her early eighties.

James, the second child of Thomas and Charlotte Flint Bingham, was born and grew up in Windham CT. He married 30 Dec 1827/9 Marcia Huntington, a descendant of Christopher Huntington and Ruth Rockwell. Huntingtons and Binghams had intermarried several times. James's cousin, Roger Bingham (1.10.2.1.5.), minister of a sect of reformed Abbeites, performed the ceremony. James and Marcia lived in Willimantic and were enumerated on the 1830 U.S. census.®115:34 They had three daughters before he died age thirty-four. Marcia did not remarry, and at the time of her death age forty-six, she lived in Norwich, New London Co CT.

Moore, the third child of Solomon Jr. and Sylvina Dickinson, was a student like his father. While a youth, one of his legs was amputated, but despite chronic pain, Moore learned to study while leaning against a tall chair.®298 He studied theology at Middlebury College in Middlebury VT and became an Episcopal minister. He was ordained 23 Oct 1825 and assigned to Berkshire.®299

About 1827, when he was thirty years old, Moore married Ann Barber. In 1827-28, he was minister of Grace Church, Sheldon and Trinity Church, Fairfield, Franklin Co VT. Between 1829 and 1839, he was missionary at Granville and Hampton, Washington Co NY just across the border from Rutland Co VT where he appeared on the 1830 U.S. census.®115: 278 Ann died in 1835 fifteen days after their fourth child was born.

Moore married, second, Lucy Barber. She was seventeen years younger than Ann and up to twenty years younger than Moore. They had five children. Moore served as rector of Christ Church, Enosburgh, Franklin Co VT 1840-1845.®299 His family was enumerated on the 1840 federal census of Enosburgh. From 1847 through 1851, Moore once again served in Hampton, Washington Co and he was counted on the 27 Aug 1850 census.®92: 232 Son Lewis, age fifteen, lived with the Horatio N. Barber family in Enosburgh, Franklin Co VT.®92: 178; ®JEJ Horatio Barber was probably Lewis's uncle. In 1852, Moore was named rector of Christ Church in Hampton, but resigned in 1853 and moved to WI. He literally worked himself to death trying to reduce his raw land to cultivation.®298 Lucy returned to VT and married a second time in 1861. She lived in St. Albans.

Flora married John Hagerman when she was nineteen years old. He was a farmer and they lived in Waterford Twp, Washington Co OH near where she had grown up. If the date of their marriage is correct, their first child might have been born in 1835 (see below). Flora and John had eleven children, the last born in 1859 when Flora and John were both about forty-four years old. Within a year or two, John had enlisted in the 182nd Ohio Volunteers and served as a private in company C during the American Civil War. He died in the Nashville General Hospital in 1865 leaving Flora a widow. Son John also died a soldier in the Civil War. Flora lived to be seventy-six years old and was buried in the Hoon plot, Watertown Cemetery, Watertown, Washington Co OH.

Died: 17 Mar 1890 Wellston, Jackson Co OH

Solomon, the fourth born child of Eli and Sally Hurd Bingham, was the oldest child to survive and lead a productive life. Seven years old when his mother died, he was raised by his mother's sister who was also his step-mother. In 1843, at the age of twenty-seven and just months after his step-mother died, Solomon married Susannah Weeks age thirty-two. Susannah was a milliner and Solomon was a shoemaker. They probably moved to a farm in Gallia Co that later became part of Jackson Co in a boundary change. They were not enumerated on the 1850 federal census, but appeared on both the 1860 and 1880 U.S. censuses in Jackson Co.®83: 43; ®175: 174A In 1870, Solomon signed an affidavit in Gallia Co releasing his interest in his late father's farm.®195: 71: 558 Susannah died age seventy in 1881 and Solomon moved to Wellston, Jackson Co to live with daughter, Rachel. Simeon was the oldest child of Theodorus and Lydia King Bingham. Born in Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NH, he married Tamar Fuller when he was twenty-four. Simeon and Tamar had at least six children in Alstead, Cheshire Co where they were enumerated on the 1810 federal census for NH.®136: 111; ®62: II: Alstead, passim The family moved to Ft. Ann, Washington Co NY about 1820 - at least the two youngest children were born in Ft. Ann - and they appeared on the 1830 federal census for Ft. Ann.®115: 328 Simeon died of cholera age fifty-two and Tamar went to live with daughter, Fanny and husband Stephen Truax.

John was a carpenter and lived in several different places during his eighty-nine years of life. Born in Chesterfield NH, he moved to Troy NY with his family when he was about twelve years old. At the age of sixteen, he went to Swanton VT to live with his sister, Hannah, and learn the carpenter's trade from her husband, Moses Shattuck. He left there in 1812, age twenty-two, and after some wandering, spent the rest of the year in Chesterfield NH. From Feb to Jun, 1813 he lived in Troy NY and then went to Cooperstown NY. In the fall of 1814, he enlisted in the army at the rank of sergeant, but remained in Cooperstown until peace was declared. He was discharged in May in Greenbush NY. He remained in Cooperstown until 1816 when he went to Onondaga NY.

John married Lucy Gage in 1819, either in Cooperstown or Onondaga and the two settled in Rochester, Monroe Co NY where they had eleven children and lived until 1849. His activities in Rochester can be traced in the city directories and deeds. His younger brothers Nathaniel, Theodorus, and Alpheus settled in Rochester, also.

In 1849, John moved his family to Milwaukee, Milwaukee Co WI, apparently at the urging of son George B. who had been in Milwaukee from about 1842. Living with John and Lucy in 1850 were unmarried daughters Julia and Harriet and married daughter Caroline Sarah and family.®92: 210 After thirteen years in Milwaukee, John and Lucy returned east in 1862 to Elmira NY. It is not known how long he stayed in Elmira or when Lucy, died, but John died in 1880 at the home of grandson Charles Henry, son of George B., in Eureka Twp, Mitchell Co KS.®232: I: 1880; ®172: T-749-4

Nathaniel's mother died in Chesterfield, Cheshire Co NY when he was six years old. After his father remarried, Nathaniel, about age nine, moved to Troy, NY. His father died, however, in 1808 when Nathaniel was fifteen. Between then and 1834, Nathaniel moved about. He became a cabinet maker and married Mary Kempshall.®235: 1834 By 1822 they lived in Rochester, Monroe Co NY where his brothers, John and Theodorus, lived.®236 Between 1822 and 1830, they lived in MO where three of his children were born. By 1834 he had settled in Rochester and by 1838 he was making pianos and organs.®235 Son George was not part of his household in 1850.®92: 334 Nathaniel was last listed in the Rochester city directory in 1851/2 and in the deeds grantor index in 1852.®236 His widow, Mary, appeared in the city directory from 1855 through 1865.

Based upon Monroe Co NY deed records and Rochester city directories, it appears that Theodorus married Mathilda and by 1821 they lived in Rochester where they took out a mortgage.®238 Theodorus's brothers, John and Nathaniel, also lived in Rochester. Several deeds recorded Theodorus's or his family's property dealings between 1822 and 1844. Theodorus was a carpenter and joiner, however, he appeared only once in the Rochester city directory and that was in 1834. His only son who appeared in the city directories was Edwin Augustus, and that was only in 1844 as a woolen manufacturer. The names of his children are taken from undocumented sources and deed records; their birth order is not known. Apparently, Theodorus died before 1844 as in that year his family sold their Rochester property.®236 In 1850, Mathilda and Mary Elizabeth lived in Barre Twp, Orleans Co NY.®92: 127 And in 1860, Mathilda lived in Batavia, Genesee Co.®83: 267

Alpheus was about eleven years old when his father, Theodorus, died. He, himself, was only thirty-three years old when he died leaving a family of five children under the age of ten. Alpheus married Melvina Rogers in New York City when he was about nineteen and their first child was born there. They then moved to Rochester NY by 1820 where his older brothers lived. Their two youngest children might have been twins. In 1826, Alpheus and Melvina deeded property to older brother, John. Lemuel was the only surviving child of Septimus and Silence Noble Bingham. He grew up in Pittsfield, Berkshire Co MA. In 1819-20, about the age of twenty-four, he moved to Salisbury, Rowan Co NC. In 1821, he married Jane Washington Miller. Lemuel and Jane may have had as many as twelve children. Lemuel established a newspaper, the Western Carolinian, in Salisbury with Philo White who later became U.S. minister to Ecuador. In 1830, Lemuel was enumerated on the U.S. census for Rowan Co.®115: 401 About 1834, he moved to Mocksville, Davie Co NC where, according to his own report, he lived for thirty-six years. He was enumerated in Davie Co on the 1840 census and named, Laurel, but the 1850 census missed him.®150: 179 When Lemuel was about seventy-five he went blind and spent his last years with his daughter, Eliza, and her family in Statesville, Iredell Co NC.

Lemuel 's family moved to New Milford, Susquehanna Co PA when he was ten to twelve years old and settled on the main road. Lemuel ran a tavern in the family home. He is not to be confused with cousin Lemuel Webb who was a physician in New Milford. When he was in his early twenties, he married Mindwell Claflin of Harford Twp, Susquehanna Co. In 1827, his father deeded the family property to Lemuel.®250: 6: 488 The next year, his father was killed by a falling tree. By 1830, Lemuel and Mindwell had two children of their own and Lemuel was guardian for his younger brother and sister, James A. and Sally.®115: 94; ®251:1: 190 Lemuel's last two children, twin girls, were born in 1836. The next year, he bought 81 acres in Harford Twp, Susquehanna Co from Linsley Claflin and apparently moved there because that was where he lived when he died in 1849.®250: 11: 80 His estate was too small to pay his debts so his real estate had to be sold.®251: 3: 87 What became of Mindwell is unknown, but a guardian was appointed for the children.®251: 2:629 In 1850, Abigail age twenty-one, and twins Emily and Eveline lived together in Harford Twp and Henry D. lived with a farmer in the same township.®92: 327, 333

Reuben was born and baptized in Cornwall, Addison Co VT in 1794. His family lived in Cornwall until at least 1807. His father died in 1813 when Reuben was seventeen years old. Between then and 1829 Reuben moved to Brockville, Upper Canada, with several members of his family and married Sarah Susannah Marks there in 1829. Based on the birth records of Reuben and Sarah's children, we can tell they lived in Canada until 1838 or 1839. Deciding to follow the Mormon faith with brothers Lucius and Jeremiah, Reuben moved his family to Henderson, Knox Co IL where all three brothers lived in 1840.®150: 47-8 While living in IL, both Reuben and his wife died. Their children became part of brother Jeremiah's family and moved on to Pottawattamie Co IA by 1850.®92: 107

Lucius Augustus was the eleventh child of Jeremiah 2nd and his wife, Mary Ives. Born in Cornwall, Addison Co VT, he married Sarah Stone in 1826 in Fowler, St. Lawrence Co NY. Their first child was born in Fowler in 1827. With his brothers Reuben and Jeremiah 2nd Jr., and his mother and her second husband, Abner Whipple, Lucius Augustus and his family moved west to near Brockville, Upper Canada about 1829. None of them appeared on the NY 1830 federal census. The group remained in Canada until the late 1830s when they decided to embrace the Mormon religion and moved to Henderson, Knox Co IL, near Nauvoo. They may have passed through Oswego Co NY where brother Aaron lived. Lucius, Reuben, and Jeremiah 2nd Jr. were all enumerated on the IL 1840 U.S. census.®150: 48 By 1850, part of the group had moved on to near Council Bluffs, Pottawattamie Co IA, but it is not clear what happened to Lucius Augustus. He was not named on the IA 1850 federal census, but his oldest son was. There is also a record of a child born to him and second wife Rebecca White at Harrison Co IA in 1853. Instead of going on to Utah, Lucius Augustus remained in IA and died in 1857.

Jeremiah 2nd Jr. was the youngest of the twelve children of Jeremiah 2nd and Mary Ives. He was seven years old when his father died in 1813. By the late 1820s he lived with his mother and her second husband, Abner Whipple, and several older brothers near Brockville, Upper Canada, now ONT. In 1829, in Brockville, he married Abigail Harrington. They lived in Upper Canada until the late 1830s when they decided to follow the Mormon religion. Between 1838 and 1840, they joined one of more than forty Mormon groups in IL and settled in Henderson, Knox Co not far from Nauvoo, the church headquarters in Hancock Co. Their last three children were born in IL, but Abigail and the two youngest children also died there.

In the winter of 1845-1846, the Mormon group was forced out of Nauvoo. Nearly 8,000 followers crossed the frozen Mississippi River in February on their way west across IA. At about this time, Jeremiah married second Sarah Keele. They settled with the Mormon groups on the east bank of the Missouri River at Kanesville near present day Council Bluffs IA. Jeremiah and Sarah had three living children of their own by 1850 when the IA federal census was taken. Including Jeremiah's living children by Abigail, he had five in all. The four children of Jeremiah's deceased brother Reuben also lived with Jeremiah and Sarah.®92: 107 Unfortunately, Jeremiah's second wife did not make it to UT either, as she and her newborn son died 8 Feb 1852, the year the church leaders made a massive effort to bring to UT all of the Mormons still living on the plains.

After arriving in UT, Jeremiah settled at Payson and married, third, Minerva Dixon Keele, widow of Alexander Keele. Jeremiah and Minerva's first child was born in Jan 1856. Jeremiah also married Susan Keele, a younger sister of Sarah. Susan and Jeremiah's only child was born Feb 1859. Susan died three weeks later. At the same time, Jeremiah married, fifth, Mary Reese. Their first child was born Feb 1858. Mary died in 1868 after bearing seven children. That left Jeremiah with wife Minerva. She lived until 1912 and died twenty-two years after Jeremiah, although they were both in their eighties when they died.®258: T-1074-3

Luther Goodyear was a minister and educator who worked as a newspaper reporter in his later life. After graduating Middlebury College, Middlebury VT in 1821, he worked for a year as a tutor in VA in the family of Bushrod Washington. Returning to VT, he graduated from the Theological Seminary at Andover MA in 1825 and married Sarah Samson. He took his first job in 1826 as pastor of the Congregational Church in Marietta, Washington Co OH. He also began teaching at the Muskingum Academy in Marietta and soon expanded it into the Institute of Education. By 1832 the name was changed to Marietta Collegiate Institution and Western Teachers Seminary and in 1835 to Marietta College.®268

In the fall of 1839, Luther Goodyear became secretary of the American Education Society and moved to Cincinnati. Within a year his wife died leaving three young children. A year later, he married, second, Julia Ann Davis. In 1843 they returned to VT and settled in Williston, Chittendon Co where Luther Goodyear became minister of a church.®92: 18 In 1846, his two oldest daughters by his second wife died and about 1852 he experienced personal financial disaster. Luther Goodyear gave up the ministry and in the fall of 1852 moved his family to Brooklyn NY where he became a newspaper reporter. His wife Julia died the following year.

Luther married, third, in 1856, Harriet Foster. They probably had a child, Henry, who at age twenty-four in 1880 lived with his brothers, William, Thomas, and Julian, in Brooklyn NY.

Kinsley Scott was Governor of Michigan 1855-1859 and U.S. Senator 1859 to his death in 1861. After studying law in Syracuse NY, Kinsley and his new wife moved to MI with her brother, Robert Warden. Warden later married Kinsley's sister, Caroline (1.1.9.10.4.6.). Kinsley devoted himself to agriculture and local politics. He was Justice of the Peace, Judge of Probate Court and state representative for eight years; for three terms he held the speaker's position. In 1846, he was elected to the U.S. Congress as a democrat, but split with the party over his strong anti-slavery sentiments and became a Free Soil Democrat. When Free Soilers and Whigs united to form the Republican Party in 1854, Kinsley was elected Governor of Michigan. He served two terms and was instrumental in establishing the agricultural college at Lansing, the forerunner of Michigan State University. He was elected U.S. senator in 1859, but served only two years ®210: Historical Vol.; ®274

Kinsley's first wife died shortly after the birth of their first son. Five years later, Kinsley married a sister of his first wife and they had one son. Both boys lived at home in 1850.®92: 807

Hiram followed in his father's footsteps as a Congregational missionary. His pioneer work was in the Gilbert Islands where he reduced the Gilbertese language to writing and wrote a complete Gilbertese Bible.®210

Born in Honolulu, he was nine years old when he arrived in CT with his parents in 1841. After attending Williston Seminary, he graduated from Yale College in 1853, was principal of Northampton High School for a year, took a grand tour of Europe, then studied divinity at Andover Theological Seminary 1854-1855. Finally deciding to become a missionary, he was ordained, married, and set sail for the Gilbert Islands all within twenty-three days.®282: 23

Hiram and his wife spent two periods of their life at Abaiang, Gilbert Is. The first from 1857 to 1865 and the second from 1873 to 1875. For health reasons, they returned to CT 1865-1866 and for the same reason settled in Honolulu in 1868. They built a home on the original Bingham tract in Honolulu fronting on what later became known as Bingham Street. Hiram served as the government protector for south sea immigrants while he continued to translate religious material to the Gilbertese language.

Minerva, Hiram's wife, was a direct descendant of William Brewster of the Mayflower. She also translated several books into the Gilbertese language. She died in 1904 and Hiram died in 1908 in Baltimore where he had gone for an operation.®214

Tracy was born in Cornish, but grew up in Concord, Essex Co VT. When he married Hannah Kent at age twenty-seven, he lived in Pomfret VT and their first child was born there.®113: 168 By 1827, they had moved to a farm near Woodstock where they remained. In 1850, son Willard was still at home, Elisha had his own farm next door, and Tracy was a jeweler and lived in town.®92: 82

According to VT vital records, Elisha married Dorothy Bugbee in 1817 when he was twenty-three. The records also claim that their first child was born in 1812 and married in 1837. This seems plausible as this son's first wife was born in 1811 and first child was born in 1838. Other records, however, need to be checked before any of these dates are accepted as accurate.

Elisha and Dorothy may have had nine children, four of whom died in infancy. The names of only the surviving five were recorded. In 1850, Elisha, wife Dorothy/Dolly, and daughter Eliza lived in Charleston Twp, Orleans Co VT.®92: 117 Dolly died in 1856. In 1860 Elisha lived in Concord, Essex Co VT®83: 765

The life and descendants of Erastus Bingham, pioneer disciple of the Church of Jesus Christ Latter-day Saints, has been well document in several publications, especially in the genealogy titled The Descendants of Erastus Bingham and Lucinda Gates, published by The Erastus Bingham Family Corporation, Ogden UT, June 1970. This study is available through the Family History Library, Salt Lake City and should be consulted for biographical sketches of descendants as its contents will not be repeated herein.

Erastus, Lucinda and their children were baptized in the Mormon faith in 1833. They sold their VT farm in 1836 and journeyed, via Kirtland OH, to Far West MO arriving in 1838. A few years later, after MO resolved to expel the Mormons, Erastus rented a farm in Hancock Co IL. Elevated to the priesthood and concerned about the danger of being mobbed, Erastus bought a farm in 1845 near Nauvoo, the Mormon's IL headquarters. Within a year, he was selected to captain a group and moved on to Council Bluffs IA. Reprovisioning in 1847, the group set out for the journey across the plains and arrived in the Salt Lake Valley Sep 1847. Erastus was allotted a farm in the Holiday district and a grazing permit in the area later named after him, Bingham Canyon UT.

In 1850, the family moved to Ogden and in 1851, Erastus was ordained Bishop of the North Ward, or Weber Stake. By 1856, Weber Co had sufficient population for four wards and Erastus became Bishop of the First Ward. The family home was in what later became the center of Ogden.

The eighth son and child of Elisha Warner, Willard lived in St Johnsbury, Caledonia Co VT after he left home. His older brother, Erastus, also lived in St Johnsbury. The brothers married sisters, Lucinda and Sarah Gates and both couples became Mormons. Willard's only child died in St Johnsbury in 1832, age eight. Willard was probably baptized in the Mormon faith in 1833 in St Johnsbury, about the same time as Erastus. And Willard and his wife probably set out for Far West MO in the same group as Erastus. Since no death record has been found for Williard in VT, it is probable that both Willard and his wife died on the journey or in Kirtland OH where they stopped on the way.

Elisha lived with his family in Enfield NH for his first eight years. His family then moved to Broome Co NY and later to Norwich, Oxford Co ONT (then Upper Canada) where several families from Enfield had settled.®228 In 1817, Elisha married Anna Huffman of Glanford Twp ONT and settled there. Her parents were United Empire Loyalists from New Jersey and her father had been a sergeant in the NJ volunteers during the American Revolution. In addition to farming, Elisha served a term as assessor and census taker. He was also a justice of the peace and the house which he built in 1842 had a small jail attached.

Before 1851, Elisha moved to Spring Arbor, near Walsingham, and started a saw mill. The water-powered mill employed thirteen people including son John as accountant and brother Gustavus's sons, Charles and William. Children Christopher, William, Edgerton, and Melissa, and father Alfrad remained on the farm near Norwich. Unfortunately, the mill burned down before 1861.

Elisha then lived with son Alfred in Watertown where they both worked in the tin smithing business. After a few years, Elisha settled on land in Walsingham which he had traded for his farm in Glanford Twp and remained there until he died in 1871.

Because Geheil/Heil married a daughter of a United Empire Loyalist, he received a grant of land under Order in Council 28 Oct 1835. This land was Lot 18 Con 10 Enniskillin, Ancaster, very near to Glanford. But in 1842, he lived in the Brantford Indian Reserve, Grand River next to his brother, Gustavus. Heil worked as a carpenter and perhaps at the saw mill operated by his father, Elisha.®302 Geheil cannot be found on the 1851 census for ONT, but apparently his youngest child, Edward, was born in Canada. The saw mill burned down in the late 1850s, which may have been a factor in Geheil's decision to migrate to the U.S. with his family, but no effort has been made to trace him.

Born in Windham in 1782, Levi was twenty-two when he married Marianne Robinson in Hartford, Windsor Co VT in 1804. According to his father Elias's pension application records, by 1820 Levi and Marianne had six children under the age of fourteen.®181: S38, 543; ®113: 310 Although the children's names are unknown, the child cited below lived next to Levi in 1850 and is thought to be his son. Levi and his family lived with his parents on a 110 acre farm in Barton, Orleans Co VT and in 1821 Levi was named as a guarantor on a deed that gave the farm to John Boardman, a creditor, should either Elias or Levi fail to make good on two promissory notes. By 1824, the farm was sold due to Elias's and Levi's inability to pay taxes and, by 1830, Levi and family had moved to the nearby town of Irasburg.®115: 225 Levi's children were gone by 1850, and he and Marianne lived alone in Fairfax.®92: 134

Died: 15 Aug 1843 Orwell, Ashtabula Co OH
Benjamin was the oldest child of Ripley L. and Elizabeth Mack Bingham. Born in Marlow NH in 1783, he was a young teenager when his father walked out on the family. When he was nineteen, in 1802, he, his mother, and siblings moved to Stanstead Canada East. There, at the age of twenty-seven, he married his first cousin, Lydia Beebe. Lydia's mother, Lurana Mack, and Benjamin's mother, Elizabeth Mack, were sisters.®336: 2
It is not clear how long Benjamin and family lived in Canada. He might have lived in Stanstead until about 1840 and then moved to Orwell, Ashtabula Co OH to be with son Amander. However, a Benjamin was enumerated in Florida Twp, Montgomery Co NY in 1840 where son Amander reportedly married in 1839.®150: 260 But, this Benjamin could have been son, Benjamin, who married a girl born in adjoining Saratoga Co NY. By 1843, probably both sons, Amander and Benjamin, had moved to OH where they were enumerated in 1850 and where this Benjamin, their father, died in 1843.

CHILDREN OF JOHN CLARK (Abner, Abisha, Samuel, Thomas)

1.9a.2.3.2a.1. John Jr. BINGHAM (John Clark, Abner, Abisha, Samuel, Thomas)
Born: 1787 Marlow, Cheshire Co NH
Mar: 3 Mar 1806 Juda BROCKAWAY of Washington, Sullivan Co NH

It is likely that John Jr. was the first son, not the third son, of John Clark and Caroline Brockaway Bingham as supposed.®1 The 1790 and 1800 federal census records agree that all three sons were born before 1790, so if brother William was born in 1790, as he was, John certainly was not born thereafter. John's marriage, or intention to marry, occurred three years before his next older brother, Elisha's. In addition, John Jr. was the only one of the three sons to have ever appeared on the Marlow tax list. His name first appeared in 1810, as John Jr., when he was assessed one poll tax, the usual assessment for a young man newly qualified to vote because he owned property, in this case four acres.®87: II: 326 He was assessed again in 1811 on the four acres of pasture.®87: II: 379 At that point, however, he disappeared from the Marlow records, as did his father, John Clark. We are able to trace John Clark's moves, and we know that brothers Elisha and William moved about the country together, but John Jr. has never been further researched, although there are some unaccounted for John Binghams in VT.

1.9a.2.3.2a.2. Elisha BINGHAM (John Clark, Abner, Abisha, Samuel, Thomas)
Born: 19 Feb 1788 Marlow, Cheshire Co NH
Mar: 15 Jan 1809 Betsey FRENCH Dublin, Cheshire Co NH®29; Born: 8 Aug 1789 Dublin NH; Died: 18 Dec 1869
Died: 10 Aug 1849

Through much of their lives, Elisha and his younger brother, William, moved from place to place together. Since we know that William worked as a millwright, it is probable that Elisha did also. As the older brother, Elisha was married in Marlow NH before the two of them moved into Canada where they had a mill construction job. Exactly where in Canada is not known. Their father, John Clark, went north to Guildehall, Essex Co VT at the same time so the brothers probably moved into Lower Canada, now Quebec. Elisha's oldest son, born 1810, may have been born in VT, but the 1850 census recorded his birthplace as Canada.

A daughter (MJBT) reported that as soon as the War of 1812 was declared (June 1812), the brothers slipped back into VT leaving their families behind. Later, the wives and children managed to slip across the border.

The next record we have of Elisha is the 1820 U.S. census. He and his family then lived in Sadsbury Twp, Crawford Co PA with his children born to that date accounted for.®113: 54 Brother, William, lived in the same county, but a different township. By 1830, Elisha lived in Chautauqua Twp, Chautauqua Co NY and William lived in the same county, but again, a different township.®115: 293 Elisha remained in Chautauqua Twp through 1840 where his oldest son, William H., appeared as head of household on the census for the first time.®150: 190 Elisha's place of death is not documented and his sister (MJBT) did not include Henry in the list of children. Henry, however, was born in PA in 1827 and in 1850 lived with William H. in Kendall Co IL.

Died: 25 Dec 1861 Ovid Twp, Branch Co MI

William went to Canada in 1811 with his older brother, Elisha (1.9a.2.3.2.2.). Their father, John Clark, may have bought them land, but it is not known exactly where. William married in Canada, "auburn" (red) headed, Lucretia Frasier and was building a mill under contract when the War of 1812 was declared in June 1812.®FFB William may have been drafted into the local militia, deserted, and returned to the U.S. with brother Elisha, leaving their wives to join them later.

For the next several years, William and Elisha built mills wherever they could get work, and likely worked for the Holland Land Company, the predominate developer in the areas where they lived. In 1816, William lived in Canton, St. Lawrence Co NY. By 1819, he lived in Spring Creek Twp, Warren Co PA; in 1820, Conewango Twp, Warren Co PA; and 1821, Bloomfield Twp, Warren Co PA.®113: 132 Before 1823, William had moved to Busti Twp, Chautauqua Co NY where he stayed for ten years.®115: 267

The family left NY in 1833 and moved to Woodstock, Lenawee Co MI. William bought land and the family lived there for twenty years.®150: 125 By 1850, only youngest child Mary Ann, age nineteen, was at home, but grandson Harrison Dean Jr, age eleven, son of Caroline Charity, also lived with them.®92: 43

William sold his land 1852-1853 and bought 160 acres in Ovid Twp, near Coldwater, Branch Co MI and son, William Simon, bought 80 acres nearby. William sold 60 of his acres to son-in-law Cary Reed and daughter Diantha and 50 acres to son Elisha. The remaining 50 acres he turned over to son Harvey in return for care for the rest of his and his wife's life.

Bingham Falls, Lamoille Co VT, a lovely falls on the West Branch of the Waterbury River and the name of a village that was part of the town of Stowe, was named after William Henry Harrison Bingham. He had a law office in Stowe, and a carpentry business and lumber yard in the "Nebraska area" of town. He served as a representative in the VT legislature and as a member of the VT Constitutional Convention of 1870.®344 He and Orpha had no children.

Seymour Lemuel was a builder and moved around the country following construction jobs. Although born in VT, his parents moved to northwestern PA when Seymour was young, probably for construction work. Cousin William Bingham's family (1.9a.2.3.2a.3.) worked in the same area. Seymour left Crawford Co PA in 1831, when he was twenty-one and moved to Branch Co MI as did his cousins.®1 His family lived in Branch Co for forty years or more.®150: 87; ®92: 312 Brother, Matthew's child, Aletha, lived with them. During this time, Seymour also worked in IN, OH, and NE. He probably did not move to CA until after 1880 since he was not enumerated on the federal census for that year.

After attending school for a short time at Johnson Academy and Montpelier Academy, John A. earned his own way from the age of fifteen. He taught school, did surveying, sold books, and took manual labor work while he studied law in Stowe VT. In 1841, he set out to make his fortune in the west, going to Milwaukee where his older sister and brother-in-law lived. He found a teaching job in Racine Co, then moved to Monroe, Green Co in Feb 1842, passed the WI bar exam the same year, and married in 1843. In 1846 and 1847, he served as district attorney, and for the next eight years was probate judge. He was a strong abolitionist, an early member of the WI Republican Party, and a member of the national convention that renominated Abraham Lincoln for President. For most of his time in Monroe, John A. was on the school board, eager to help ambitious young people. His own children were very well educated. Two daughters studied and practiced medicine and his surviving son studied law.

In 1854, he opened a broker's office, and later, with A. Ludlow and Asa Richardson, started the Bank of Monroe. He was bank president for several years. He also owned a large flouring mill and actively supported the building of the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad.®346; ®347

While on a vacation to VT, hoping to improve his health, John A. died of a stroke. His wife, Caroline, remained in Monroe and raised her family.®172: T779-4

CHILDREN OF LUTHER (William, Gideon, Gideon, Joseph, Thomas)

1.10a.2a.2.2a.1. Luther BINGHAM (Luther, William, Gideon, Gideon, Joseph, Thomas)
Born: 1782 CT/RI®92: IN, Allen: 117
Mar: Nancy DAVIS WHITE ,Widow; Born: 1785 RI®92: IN, Allen: 117; Died: after 1850
Died: 1871 Chicago, Cook Co IL

Luther was a lawyer, but whether he was a son of Luther is not definite. His 1850 U.S. census report said that he was born about 1782 in either CT or RI. His wife, Nancy, was born in RI.

Family reports placed Luther in Rutland VT in 1808 where his oldest son, Alfred S. was born, and, indeed, Alfred's 1850 federal census record said that he was born in VT. The next we know of Luther, is that he was enumerated in Fort Covington Twp, Franklin Co NY in 1820 and Massena Twp, St. Lawrence Co NY in 1830.®113: 670; ®115: 62. His two youngest sons reported NY as their birth place, and brother, Samuel, lived in St. Lawrence Co.

About 1834, Luther moved his family to Medina, Wadsworth Co OH, but before 1850, he moved to Wayne Twp, Allen Co, IN.®®92: 117. In 1850, his youngest son, William, lived with him. Sons Alfred S. and Calvin L. lived in the same township. However, they both had young children who were born in OH. Luther eventually moved to Chicago to live with his youngest son.

Mar (2): 22 May 1857 Sallie CRENSHAW MOYLER, Widow, Athens AL

Daniel Havens graduated from the Norwich Military Academy (Norwich U.) July 1822. His first job was director of the Maryland Military Institute in Frederick MD. In 1829, he became director of a similar school in Oxford, Granville Co NC.®115: 31 At the same time, he worked as a civil engineer on the first railroad built in NC. In 1833, he took a job with the State of Alabama and worked on several public works projects until the panic of 1840 called a halt to building.

Daniel temporarily turned to farming, but in 1844 he gained a contract with the State of Arkansas to build a bridge across the Washita River. The 750 foot bridge of lattice construction was a financial success so he began a second bridge. This one was to cross the Arkansas River at Little Rock, but the stockholders failed to meet their commitments and Daniel was forced to give up the project in financial ruin. He lived in Pulaski Co AR in 1850.®92: 342 A few years later, his first wife died and Daniel spent the next five years moving from place to place. He apparently left his children in AR.

In 1856, he bought the Athens AL Herald newspaper and moved to Limestone Co AL.®83: 479 He devoted the next four years to the cause of maintaining the union. He sold the paper when Lincoln was elected and took up farming, again, but continued to work actively for the Union cause. His activities after the war have not been researched, but he spent much time collecting genealogical data. His notes formed part of the nucleus of the 1898 version of The Bingham Family in the United States. His widow was employed by the Treasury Department in Washington D.C. for many years.

Joseph's legal name was Joseph Luther, but while he lived in Solon, Cortland Co NY, he went by the legal name of Luther so as to distinguish himself from the other Josephs in town

Essentially, Joseph lived his life twice for he had two wives and two families, one after the other. His first family by Polly Warner was born and grew up in Solon, Cortland Co NY. They were enumerated there in 1850, but not on the NY state census in 1855.®92: 171 Deed records indicate that Joseph and Polly sold their property in 1850.®131: 15: 215 His father reported that they moved to IL and were there in 1866, but this has not been corroborated. Polly died during this time and according to his death record, Joseph moved to Dickinson Co IA in 1866. He was enumerated in Tascalum Twp, Dickinson Co IA in 1870.®173: 602 In 1880, he and his new family of three children were enumerated in Lloyd Twp, Dickinson Co IA where he died the next year of throat cancer. He was fifty-nine.

John farmed in McLean Co IL until after 1880 when he moved his family to Hand Co, Dakota Territory. The entry of the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads into the Dakota Territory by 1882 created a spurt in homestead grants which peaked in 1884 when settlers took up over 11 million acres. North and South Dakota became separate states of the Union in 1889.

Solon's middle name is given variously as Peabody and Parsons. After he married in NH where he grew up, he and his wife moved to IL where their first child was born Nov 1842. In 1850, their household in Berlin, Bureau Co IL consisted of themselves, their two daughters, and two males age nine and seventeen. Solon farmed.®92: 185 Probably after 1870, but before 1890, they moved to Lincoln NE as they did not appear on the 1870 NE territorial census, but were there when Harriet died in Lincoln in 1890. Solon married, second, shortly thereafter. He spent his last twenty-five years in Lincoln.

George was another Bingham who graduated from Dartmouth College. As a boy of twelve, he was the only child at home with a sixty year old father. George prepared for Dartmouth by attending Claremont public schools and Kimball Union Academy, Meriden.

After completing his studies in 1863, he taught at Gilmanton, Belknap Co NH. In 1865, when he married, he was teaching in the public schools in Sewickley, Allegheny Co PA.®29 By 1871, George may have had a teaching position at Denmark Academy, Des Moines IA. He became principal there in 1879. In 1884, he returned to NH to teach at Coe's Academy, Northwood. He became principal at Pinkerton Academy, Northwood in 1888 and remained at Pinkerton until he retired in 1902. His wife died the same year, after a long illness.

George married, second, his first wife's sister, Elizabeth Greenleaf Cogswell Prescott. Elizabeth and her husband had taught in IA with George and his wife and returned to NH about the same time. She taught music at Pinkerton Academy.®222: 43-4

George had no children.

Died: 17 Apr 1904 Cleveland, Cuyahoga Co OH
William graduated from Yale when he was twenty years old and went west to seek his fortune. Persuaded by his cousin, Flavel (1.11.1.1a.8.1.), that Cleveland was the place to be, William settled there in 1836. His first job was clerking in George Worthington's hardware store. Two or three years later, he bought Clark and Murfey's hardware store and founded the firm of William Bingham & Co. dealers in hardware and metals. His business prospered and by 1850 he was a member of the Cleveland City Council, his family was established, and he lived next to his father-law.®92: 502 Later, he lived on Euclid Avenue.®384: 553 His main financial interest was the Cleveland Rolling Mills, but he served as a water works trustee, was director of several banks and vice president of the Cincinnati, Wabash, & Michigan railroad, trustee of Case Library Association and the First Presbyterian Church, and first president of the Union Club. In 1873, he was elected state senator and in 1876 President Grant appointed him to the Board of Indian Commissioners, but he resigned in 1877.

Died: 18 Oct 1914 Hartford CT; Bur: Old Cemetery, Andover CT®67

After working his way through, Joel graduated from Yale College in 1852 at the head of his class. He taught school for five years in NYC while he earned his master's degree at Yale, 1855, and studied theology at Union Theological Seminary. In 1856, he was ordained a minister in the Congregational Church. Between then and 1871 he served as pastor in Goshen CT, Cleveland OH, Buffalo NY, and Augusta ME. In 1871, he switched to the Episcopal Church and thereafter was a rector in Portsmouth NH, Waterbury CT, and New London CT.

Joel gave up his pastoral work in 1890 and settled in Hartford CT. His next phase of life was literary study. He lectured on Italian literature at Trinity College for ten years and he published, among other works, an English translation of Francesca da Rimini by Pellico; a novel, Twin Sisters of Martigny; Gemme della Letteratura Italiana (in Italian); Translation of Manzoni's Sacred Hymns, and Ode to Napoleon. He received honorary doctoral degrees in divinity and literature.®210: 1: 95

DESCENDANTS OF THOMAS

CHILDREN OF JEREMIAH (Asa, Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)

1.1.1a.4.1a.1.1. George Lewis BINGHAM (Jeremiah, Asa, Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 13 Aug 1790 Lyme, Grafton Co NH
Mar: 5 Jan 1816 Polly MOFFAT
Died: 2 Apr 1857 Garrattsville, Otsego Co NY

George Lewis, the oldest child of Jeremiah and Lydia Gilbert, may have traveled with his family from Lyme NH to Chenango Co NY in the winter of 1814-1815, but the following winter of 1815-1816 he married Polly Moffat of Hartford CT and their first child was born at Ludlow, Hampden Co MA in December 1816. George may have lived in Milford, Otsego Co in 1820 and in 1830 at Onondaga, Onondaga Co before he moved to Greene, Chenango Co by 1840.®113: 69; ®115: 165; ®150: 83 If this is the case, George's second through fifth children were born in Milford, Otsego Co NY. His sixth child may have been born in Palmyra, Wayne Co NY. Certainly, his seventh child was born in Onondaga, Onondaga Co NY.

By 1850, when George Lewis was sixty years old, the U.S. census shows that he was a farmer, his wife, Polly, was alive, Helen, was still at home, as were two sons. They were Francis Orman and Edmund Allen and his wife, Emily.®92: 321

Seven years later, at the age of sixty-seven, George Lewis died in Garrattsville, Otsego Co He was probably living with son Francis Orman, his only child living in Garrettsville.

Died: 15 Aug 1859 West Newton, Middlesex Co MA

Benjamin did not follow the rest of his family from Lyme NH to Greene NY. Instead, he headed to Boston MA where he met and married Mary Shepard at Roxbury in 1823 when he was thirty years old. They lived in Roxbury and had three children, a son and two daughters, but both of the girls died in Roxbury when they were young. Benjamin then apparently moved to West Newton, Middlesex Co where another daughter was born and where Benjamin and his family were enumerated on the 1840 U.S. census.®150: 281 Neither Benjamin nor his wife, Mary, appeared on the 1850 U.S.census, but Benjamin died at West Newton 15 August 1859 and his daughter, Mary Elizabeth, died in West Newton in 1863. Benjamin was sixty-five when he died.

Thomas Lathrop Gilbert, the fourth son and child of Jeremiah and Lydia Gilbert was so named for both his maternal grandparents, but he went by the name Lathrop. He was about fifteen when his parents moved from Lyme NH to Greene NY. For a time he was a sea captain, and he may have gone to MA with his older brother, Benjamin. He married, but had no children and separated from his wife. By 1850, he was a farmer living in Greene, Chenango Co NY with the family of Alvin Salisbury.®92: 321 He was not indexed in the 1860 U.S. census, but he died in 1870 at Bainbridge, Chenango Co NY.

Benjamin, the oldest son of John K. and Emeline Killam Bingham, was born in Scio, Washtenaw Co MI. His parents had left Pennsylvania shortly before his birth. As a child, he lived in Calhoun and Allegan counties. In 1852, when he was twenty-five, he married Sarah M. Carr as recorded in Washtenaw Co. Benjamin and Sarah lived first in Meridian, then Lansing and Potterville, and finally settled in Benton Township, Eaton Co MI where the last three of their seven children were born between 1861 and 1870. In 1880, the four youngest children lived at home.®172: T755-6

Since Benjamin's daughter, Dora, was married in the family home in MI in 1881, but Benjamin died in or near Jamestown, Stutsman County, Dakota Territory (ND) in 1886 age fifty-nine, he and some of his children probably moved to Jamestown between 1882 and 1885. Sarah, Benjamin's wife died in 1888 age sixty-two and was buried in Jamestown.

As a boy, Moses worked with his father in the sawmill business in Calhoun and Allegan counties MI, but at about the age of nineteen in 1856 he fell ill for two years. To help him recover, he moved to Alpena in northern Michigan where his father had some business interests. In the spring of 1859, he built a hotel in Alpena which he called the Bingham House, later called the Huron House. He operated the hotel until 1861 when the Civil War began and he enlisted in Company E, 23rd MI Infantry. He served seven months.

Returning to Alpena, Moses built a sash, door, and blind factory in 1863 under the name of Bingham and Doane. In the same year, he built himself a home so he must have married about the same time. His oldest child was born in 1866. In 1871, he expanded into the gristmill business and, in 1878, he built a planing mill. The 1880 federal census indicates that he took in a few apprentices as boarders including his nephew, Florian (1.1.1b.4a.2.3.1.2.), son of brother Benjamin. Then, in 1883, he opened a steam mill in the adjoining township of Maple Ridge. Moses also served a four year term as deputy sheriff.®165: 206-7 He and his wife had three children.

In 1890, Moses purchased a cemetery lot in Evergreen Cemetery, Alpena. Elizabeth Bingham who died 6 Nov 1906 was buried in this lot. Moses's death date is unknown.

Born: 3 Feb 1816 Athens, Athens Co OH

Mar: 19 May 1837 Albert KELLY, Rev. Athens, Athens Co OH

About the time her family home burned to the ground, Nira went to live for a year with her first cousin, Hannah Bingham and husband Dr. Richard W. Morton, in Greenup Co KY. Here she met Albert Kelly, a Methodist minister and they were married at Athens OH 19 May 1837. Nira and Albert went to Somerset Co KY to live, but since Albert was a circuit riding minister, they moved frequently. In 1842, they lived in Scottsville, Allen Co KY and in 1846 in Hodgenville, LaRue Co KY. Nira's sister, Ruth Amanda, lived with them at the time.

In 1848, Nira and Albert joined the great trek west. They journeyed to Independence MO where they joined a wagon train headed to the Oregon Territory, but not far along the way their animals bolted during a lightening storm and Nira and Albert dropped out. Next year, they joined another wagon train and this time made it to OR and settled in what is now called Hillsboro. Shortly after their arrival, son Samuel died age nine to twelve.

In later years, Nira and Albert lost two more sons. One froze to death in a blizzard while trying to bring cattle to shelter and the other drowned when attempting to ford a rampaging stream with a team and wagon. Only one son, Silas Gilby, and four daughters remained.

Died: 8 Feb 1902 Franklin, Robertson Co TX; Bur: 9 Feb 1902 Henry Prairie Cemetery, Robertson Co TX
William Barber was born 13 Oct 1839 in Franklin Co VT, according to his Civil War military and pension records. He told people that he was estranged from his family because he declined to become a clergyman, but he was a heavy drinker which might have been a factor in his estrangement. In 1860, he may have lived on the farm owned by Varnum Carpenter, Ira Twp, Rutland Co VT.®83: 166
When the Civil War began, William was in IN and enlisted for three months in Company E, 11th Indiana Infantry April 1861. He enlisted again in August as sergeant in Company B. He served continuously in Company B until he was discharged 13 May 1863 to accept appointment as captain Company G, 53rd U.S. Colored Infantry. He served in that position to 19 Mar 1864 when he was discharged for poor health. ®306: Indiana Cert. WO, 761,251; ®307
According to grandson George Marion Bingham, after the war William Barber worked on board merchant vessels trading between Biloxi MS, New Orleans LA, and Galveston TX. Eventually deciding to stay in TX, he ended up in Brazos Co where he married Harriet Elizabeth/Lizzie Finell Smith as her second husband. She had a son from her previous marriage.®175: 315 By 1900, and still in Brazos Co, William Barber, farmer, had seven children of his own, five of whom were alive.®258: 95 Two years later William died - George Marion says he was fatally shot.

George B. lived most of his adult life in Milwaukee WI. Born in Rochester NY, he learned the carpenter and building trade and organized the Rochester Cadets before he was twenty-one years old. After a few months in Painesville OH, he traveled by stage coach and sailing ship to Milwaukee WI about 1842. When Milwaukee became a city he was elected an alderman and continued to be active in city government throughout his life.

Before the Civil War, George was a Lt. in the Milwaukee Life Guards commanded by Gen. John C. Starkweather. He was also active in the Underground Railway and was once imprisoned for freeing a captured slave from jail and driving him to Canada in his own carriage.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, George was appointed Capt. of Company A, 1st WI Volunteers under Gen. Starkweather. He engaged in many battles including the first battle of Bull Run. After serving his three years, he returned to Milwaukee and reenlisted serving as Major, Lt. Colonel, and Colonel before he was mustered out 18 Oct 1864.

After the war, during President Ulysses S. Grant's administration, 1869-1877, George served as a United States assessor.

In his later life, he moved to the Boston area where his two sons lived and he died while living with his oldest in Westboro MA.

Alonzo was born in Yonge, Upper Canada in 1832. By the time he was six years old, his parents had decided to follow the Mormon faith and the family moved to Henderson, Knox Co IL, near Navoo, where they lived in 1840. Both of Alonzo's parents died in Henderson so he and his siblings became part of his uncle Jeremiah 2nd Jr.'s family (1.1.9.4.2.12.). In the late 1840s, they moved to Council Bluffs, Pottawattamie Co IA where they and first cousin Calvin Bingham (1.1.9.4.2.11a.1.), son of Lucius Augustus, and family lived in 1850.®92: 107

In 1853 or 1854, Alonzo with his siblings and Jeremiah's and Calvin's families, including the Thorn family, went on to Weber Co UT. Shortly after arriving, Alonzo married Sarah Thorn, a younger sister of first cousin, Calvin's wife. Alonzo was twenty-one; Sarah was eighteen. About 1863, Alonzo and Sarah moved to Bear Lake Valley ID as part of the settling group.®259: 184 That winter, Alonzo and Robert K. Williams were left in charge of the new settlement.®259: 22 Alonzo and his family lived in the Bear Lake valley through 1870 and Alonzo was elected to the high council of the Bear Lake district LDS church when it was formed in 1869.®173 ®259: 134

By 1875, the family moved to Bennington, Oneida Co ID, but in 1876 they returned to UT settling in Salem, Utah Co.®172: T774-1 Later, they moved to Safford, Graham Co AZ where Sarah died in 1906 and Alonzo died in 1907.

Died: 29 May 1883 St David, Cochise Co AZ

Calvin and his family were with the earliest Mormon groups to move across America. The oldest child of Lucius Augustus, Calvin was born in NY, lived in Upper Canada as a child, and by 1840 when he was thirteen, lived with the Mormon group in Henderson, Knox Co IL. About 1848, probably in IA after the Mormons moved to Pottawattamie Co, Calvin married Elizabeth Lucretia Thorn. He, his wife and her entire family, mother and siblings lived in one household in 1850.®92: 137 In 1852, they moved on to UT as part of the concerted effort to bring together all Mormons still living on the plains.

Between 1853 and 1867, Calvin and his family lived in several different UT settlements. They then lived for about ten years in Montpelier, Bear Lake Co ID before returning to Box Elder Co UT by 1880.®172: T774-1 After Calvin died in AZ in 1883, wife Elizabeth moved to Vernal, Uintah Co UT where she lived with grown children William and Alice in 1900.® ®258: T1074-3 Note that two of Calvin's daughters shared the same husband and that two other daughters had the same husband one after the other. Also note that one of Calvin's sons married a sister of one of the shared husband.

Born: 20 Sep 1836 Marietta, Washington Co OH®92: VT, Chittenden Co: 18

Died: 20 Jul 1863 Beaufort SC

Luther Melancthon was eulogized in the book, The Young Quartermaster, published in 1863 during the Civil War.®267 He had grown up as a pious young son of a Congregational minister, but answered the call to defend the Union and enlisted in the army at the outbreak of the Civil War. His first experience lasted three months; he was assigned as paymaster for the NY 26th Volunteer Regiment. The position was soon abolished so Luther enlisted in the 23rd NY Volunteers, but was transferred, to the First South Carolina Volunteers, Colored, under Col. Higginson and became quartermaster. His regiment was sent to Port Royal VA. Luther fell sick while supervising the disembarking of troops and unloading of stores thirty miles south of Charleston as part of a minor troop movement called the Edisto Expedition. He was paralyzed from the neck down, could not swallow, and died about four days later, apparently from meningitis.®267 His distraught father sought solace in the publication of The Young Quartermaster.

At various times, Reuben Perry listed himself as farmer, motorman, and day laborer. A farmer at the age of nineteen, he fathered a child by Alma G. Moody, but he did not marry her and the child died age eleven months. When he was twenty-four, he married Flora Yoman and they had two children, probably in Worcester MA, after they had been married nineteen years. When he married Eliza McGee he still lived in Worcester MA and worked as a motorman. They moved to Middlebury VT where their three children were born and Reuben Perry worked as a day laborer.

After serving three years in the First Wisconsin Cavalry during the Civil War, Webster Adams settled in Milwaukee WI where he probably married about 1868. In 1872, he moved to West De Pere WI and founded the general store at the corner of Main and Fourth Streets. The family apparently lived above the store and in 1880, sister-in-law Adalaide Bird, two boarders and one other lived with them.®172: T779-4 The store emphasized service to dairy farmers and had a dairy supply department. Because of his community interest, De Pere voters elected Webster as mayor in 1885. In the late 1880's, the family moved to Los Angeles and entered the vitreous tile business. There, he met R.R. Risdon, manager of a dairy supply business. They became partners in 1898 and Risdon became manager of the De Pere store, supplying equipment for the dairy industry. In 1902, they formed the Bingham and Risdon Corporation. Although Webster died the same year, the business thrived and in 1922 moved its operation to Green Bay WI.®270

When he died in 1916, William Harrison was Cornwall town treasurer. He had served in the state legislature and in the 14th VT Volunteers during the Civil War. His Mapleshade farm was located in West Cornwall and son Maurice Alden continued to live there. Perhaps, William Harrison was best known as the developer of the first telephone company for Cornwall, Whiting, Sudbury and Castletown. Second wife Anna Stowell Sunderland Bingham lived to be almost one hundred years old. In honor of a donation by her son, Edwin Sunderland, for one half of the building cost of the new Cornwall elementary school built in 1960, the towns people named the school after her.®265: 10, 16

Died: 2 Dec 1877 New Orleans, Orleans Co LA

Although not quite thirty-two years old when he died, Eugene Webb was instrumental in making the house of Miller & Bingham the largest shirt and collar manufacturing establishment in the United States. The company was opened in Troy NY, the center of the collar and cuff industry, in 1866 as Hamlin, Miller & Co. The business soon became Miller, Wheelock & Co., and in 1875, when Eugene Webb bought into it, Miller & Bingham. Justus Miller was the senior partner and Eugene Webb was the traveling partner in charge of sales. While on a trip to New Orleans to buy cotton, he fell ill with yellow fever and died within a few days. His widow, Pauline Walker Bingham, remained in Troy until after 1880, but, later, returned to Cornwall with her three surviving sons to live the rest of her life.®17: T765-13; ®322: 10 Dec 1877

Mar (2): 28 Jun 1937 Suzanne Carroll (John Howard Carroll) of Baltimore
Died: 6 Jun 1956; Bur: Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington VA
Hiram III was an academician, explorer, and politician. As professor of history at Yale University, he is credited with the rediscovery of the ancient Inca site of Machu Picchu in Peru.®286 As a politician, he was elected Lt. Governor (1922), Governor (1924), and U.S. Senator (1925-1933) from CT. During the 1930s, he was a member of the National Air Board, predecessor of the Federal Aviation Authority. He and his wife, Alfreda Mitchell, had seven sons.

Born and raised in Honolulu, he was sent to Phillips Academy at Andover MA when he was sixteen to prepare for college.®282:31 He graduated from Yale University in 1898 and returned to Honolulu to work at the Palama Chapel Mission. Health problems convinced him to return to graduate school, but before doing so, he worked for a short time as a chemist at the American Sugar Co's plantation on Molokai. He received his M.A. in history and political science from the University of California in 1900 and moved to Harvard where he completed his PhD in 1905.

After two years on the faculty of Princeton University,(1905-07, Hiram became lecturer, then professor of Latin American studies at Yale University, 1907-1922, explorer in South America, and author of many books and articles including Lost City of the Incas.

During World War I, Hiram held the position of Lt. Col. U.S. Army and is credited with initiating the training of pilots for night flying.®287: 239, 246

After the war, he gave up his academic life for politics and was elected Lt. Governor of CT in 1922. In 1924, he was elected Governor of CT, but held that office for only one day as he had been elected to complete the three remaining years of the late U.S. Senator from CT. He was reelected to the Senate in 1927 for a full six year term.®210: 3: 76

Upon retirement, Senator Hiram Bingham devoted his energies to writing and other academic studies.

Mar (2): 26 Oct 1842 Miranda HARVEY West Charleston, Orleans Co VT®59
Elisha and his son, Lucius, reported his birth date as 17 Jun 1812, but that date is five years earlier than his parent's marriage. Yet, the 1812 date is consistent with wife Susan's birth date of 1811, their marriage date of 1837 and son, Lucius's, birth date of 1838. Other records need to be studied before any dates are considered accurate.
Elisha and family lived in West Charleston until after 1865. In 1867, they lived at Derby Center, Orleans Co VT.

James lived with his parents until he was twenty-six years old and married Charlotte Gage. His father gave him 50 acres in Glanford as a wedding present. He sold in 1856 and bought land near the mouth of Clear Creek in Norfolk Co. He and his family lived there for ten years. In the spring of 1866 they moved to Tuscola Co MI and took up 180 acres of raw land. James worked in lumber camps for Joseph Gage while he cleared his land and built a house. In 1871, he bought 100 acres more, thus he owned 280 acres in all. He gave two of his sons eighty acres each for their own farms.®300

Charles Darwin was of the generation barely old enough to serve in the army during the Civil War. He was a private in Battery M, Third NY Volunteer Artillery. After the war he married and settled in Watertown NY in 1870. The family home was located at 2 Gotham Street.®172: T765:13 He soon became bookkeeper and partner in a hardware business and then secretary and treasurer of Eames Vacuum Brake Company, a pioneer in the air brake business. In 1883, he went to work for Sun Insurance Company, but in 1887 moved to Bagley and Sewall, a manufacture of paper making machinery and worked for them for forty-four years.

Charles also.took an active interest in politics and made his way from supervisor, second ward, 1882-84, to police commissioner, 1896-1903, and finally mayor of Watertown, 1904-05. In 1916, he was a Republican presidential elector. Also active in the Masonic order, he received the 33rd degree, Scottish Rite, and was elected grand commander of the grand commandery, Knights Templar, state of NY, 1903-04. From 1895 through 1927 or longer, he served as Prelate of the Watertown Knights Templar.

As the genealogist for his own family, Charles Darwin wrote his own supplement to the one volume 1898 version of The Bingham Family in the United States.®311 He contributed his plates, beginning with Oliver Sabin (1.2.9.5b.2.), to the 1927-30 three volume version.®313 Charles was eighty-six when he died. His wife died just twenty-two days later, and daughter Dr. Ann T. died a few hours after her mother. It was a double funeral. Daughter, Josephine was one hundred and one when she died.®413: Apr 28, 1932

Byron Hayes, the youngest son of Uriah Newton, remained on the family farm on Bingham Road, Canterbury CT. As his father and grandfather, he was a farmer who also played the violin, but he was a mill worker, also. He was fifty years old when he died at Backus Hospital in Norwich. After Ethel died in 1977, the family farm was split among her four living children and Alice and Dorothy returned to Canterbury where their brothers had always lived.

Cornelius was six years old when he arrived in Hawley, Palmyra Twp, Wayne Co PA with his family. He became a lumber merchant and lived in Palmyra Twp the rest of his life.®172: T769-12; ®48: B34: 185; B36: 406; B43: 2, 4 From 1868 to 1876, Cornelius ran a planing mill with his brother, Daniel. The mill burned in 1876 with great financial loss.

Cornelius's first wife had died in 1872, a little over a year after their fifth child was born. He married second, Laura Hardenburg, probably 1877 when he took a mortgage of $2866.66 on property in Palmyra Twp. Laura had one son, Harry, by her previous husband. Harry was born 1873. Cornelius died in 1880 only forty years old, leaving his five children in the care of their step-mother. He also left the mortgage which was satisfied by order of the court in 1917.®48: Bk 9: 349

Daniel was three years old when his family arrived in Hawley, Wayne Co PA. At the age of twelve, he was apprenticed to the carpenter's trade with his father, Hiram. After mastering the business, he had charge of the machinery in Joseph Ensley's planing mill for three years. He then worked at house building until he went to Scranton in 1865. There he worked in a sash and blind factory for three years. Returning to Hawley in 1868, he and brother, Cornelius leased Ensley's planing mill and operated it until they brought B.K. Pellett into partnership in 1873. They moved to another building, but it burned in 1876 at a great loss. Daniel went back to carpentry work and house building until 1887 when he took over a planing mill in Honesdale, Wayne Co®172: T769-12

In 1895, Daniel made a complete career shift. He became a journalist and insurance salesman and joined the staff of the Wayne Co Independent, the Scranton Daily Republican , and the Honesdale Citizen. ®197: 956 For a picture of Daniel and his house see®198.

Harvey seemed to have escaped every U.S. census, so we still have only family records that detail his life. Since his parents left NY for MI in 1833, when Harvey was nineteen, he probably did not accompany them. He obviously worked in OH for several years before settling near Peru, Miami Co IN, 1844 through 1854. He then rejoined his family in Coldwater, Branch Co MI where his father deeded him 50 acres in return for continual care.

William Simon and his family lived in Woodstock, Lenawee Co MI in 1850 in the dwelling next to his father, William. The census record claims that both of William S.'s children, age six and three, were born in MI.®92: 43 While this may not be accurate, William Simon continued to live next to his parents the rest of their lives for when they moved to Ovid Twp about 1852-1853, and bought land, William Simon did also. The question is, where did William Simon live between 1833, when he was seventeen and his parents left NY and moved to MI, and 1850 when we know that he was in MI? Did he remain in NY, marry, and live in Rome Twp, Crawford Co PA until after his children were born, or did he go with his parents to MI? He was not enumerated in PA in 1840.

For several years in the 1850s, Stillman Rockwell and family lived in NYC where his father had a grocery store. He then moved to Chicago, but probably after the 1860 census was taken as he was not enumerated in Chicago. The family lived in Chicago's 5th ward in 1870, but by 1874 they had moved to the northern suburb of Highland Park, Lake Co.®173: 256 In 1880, children John and Benjamin were still at home.®172: T746-11

Henry probably moved to Sparta, Monroe Co WI with his father, Luther Stillman. As a young man during the Civil War, Henry served in the 19th WI Volunteer Infantry, perhaps as a musician. He was twenty-one when he married in 1867. His first child was born in Chicago, probably during a time when he was visiting his brother, Luther Stillman. Henry was only twenty-nine years old when he died. In 1926, his son, Stillman Henry lived in Duluth, St Louis Co MN.

Julian Elias was known as a jovial person who earned a living at various odd jobs. When his first child was born he was a laborer, when his second child was born he was a clerk, and when his third child was born he was a nurse. In the early 1920s he and his wife moved to Miami FL where he spent much of his later years attending sporting events.®345: 106

Julian's first wife died of consumption. His second wife began a new life when they moved to FL. She went to school and graduated from Florida State College for Women (Florida State Univ.) in 1930 at the age of sixty-three. Thus began a nineteen year career teaching English at Ponce deLeon High School, Coral Cables FL.

Died: 18 May 1960 Cortland Co NY®366
Known by his working colleagues as D.H., Dellmer became the senior member of the firm Bingham Bros. & Miller, the most extensive clothing dealers in the village of Cortland.®375: 155 His second wife, Clara Kelsey, was his fourth cousin. Her father, William W. was the son of Sarah Bingham (1.10a.2b.4.5.), daughter of Joseph (1.10a.2b.4.). Joseph and D.H.'s great grandfather, Johnson (1.10a.2b.2.), were brothers. D.H. and Clara had the same great great grandfather, Gideon (1.10a.2.).
D.H. and his father-in-law, William W. Kelsey, built a double house on Church St in Cortland in 1896. After the Civil War, William Kelsey had also worked in the shirt business as a salesman and for a period of time he sold for Miller and Bingham in Troy N.Y.®375: 155 The Bingham in Miller and Bingham was Eugene Webb Bingham (1.1.9.9a.3.2a.4.), a cousin. This working relationship proves that as late as the post Civil War era, descendants of the different Bingham lines were in touch with each other.

Died: 2 Mar 1959 Falls Church, Fairfax Co VA; Bur: Arlington National Cemetery, Washington D.C.

For most of his working life, Fred worked for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. Although he grew up in IA, he had no interest in running the family farm. Instead, he attended business school in Valpariso IN and got his first job as a stenographer for an attorney in Elgin IL. Not satisfied, he tried to find work in Chicago, but the depression of the early 1890s had begun. So, about 1891 he bought a train ticket west and stopped off in Spokane to visit friends. He soon got a job with the telephone company where he met Lillie Gay Lackey, one of the first thirteen girls employed in Spokane as switchboard operators in 1891. They married in 1893 and had one child before Fred took leave from the telephone company to join the army during the Spanish American War. Lillie went back to work as a switchboard operator.

After the war, Fred rose rapidly in the office management section o Pacific Bell. From 1904 to 1906 he was manager in Walla Walla. He returned to Spokane, 1906 to 1910, and then moved to Portland OR 1910 through 1928. He worked with connecting companies and also supervised the telephone directory section. In 1928, he moved to Tacoma WA where he managed the office, but retired in 1929. His wife, Lillie and family had moved to Portland with Fred, but Lillie did not remain long. She returned to Spokane to live and work and the children spent time with each of their parents. Fred and Lillie never lived together again, but they did not divorce.

Several years after Fred retired, he moved to Falls Church VA to live with his daughter, Grace, and her family.

Walter Frederick lived in Philadelphia and worked as a bookkeeper. His hobby was Bingham family genealogy. He obtained Daniel Havens' (1.10a.2a.4a.7a.1.) mass of notes, organized and added to them, and prepared a nearly publishable manuscript. After he died, his manuscript and all notes were sent to Daniel Havens' grandson, W.H. Miller. General Theodore A. Bingham soon located the material and incorporated the manuscript into the 1898 edition of The Bingham Family in the United States.

Lloyd was manager of a theatrical road company. While staying at the Hicksville Hotel operated by John B. Smiley, he met Smiley's daughter, Amelia, and discovered her acting ability. They married and toured the Pacific Coast as part of the McKee Rankin Company. Amelia made her NYC debut in 1893, starred in several plays and over the years toured in every state in the union. After a summer in Europe in 1900, she returned, out of work, to NYC so formed her own successful production company.

Lloyd eventually became private secretary to James B. Duke, the tobacco manufacturer. While a member of the Ford Peace Party, he died at sea, or at Christiana, Norway. Lloyd and Amelia's home on Riverside Drive in NYC was a museum of mirrors, clocks, armor, statuary and other antiques they collected or received as gifts.®214: 272-3; ®210: 1: 95

Died: 17 Jul 1910 Los Angeles, Los Angeles Co CA

In 1880, Herbert had recently married and lived on Summer St. in Fitchburg MA with his wife, Linnie, and son Hubert.®172: T754-5 Until 1889, his family lived in Fitchburg and Lunenburg where all but his youngest child were born. Then Herbert moved his family of four children across the country to CA settling first in Fairview, Orange Co, but by 1900 in Los Angeles. When the 1900 U.S. census was taken his six surviving children all lived at home and his brother Henry Ernest lived with him, unmarried.®258: T1034-16

In Los Angeles, Herbert founded the Los Angeles Creamery Company. When he died, he lived at 1843 Manhattan Place Los Angeles. In 1926, his four unmarried children, Hubert, Ruth, Beatrice, and Bertram still lived there.

Fred Walter was a twin of Frank W., which see above. Based on the knowledge that their death records give the cause of Frank's death as chronic nephritis and Fred's death as complication of diseases, we can safely assume that both twins died of glomerulonephritis; and based on the further knowledge that Fred and Frank died within thirteen days of each other, we can also safely assume that they were identical twins. It is a vary rare occurrence, indeed, for identical twins to die of the same systemic disease within days of each other and it is the only known occurrence of this phenomena in the descendants of Thomas Bingham and Mary Rudd.

Fred began his work career as a tin smith, moved into hardware merchandising, and ended life as an express agent.

Theodore Alfred was a career army officer and compiler of the 1898 edition of The Bingham Family in the United States. He was commissioned 2nd Lt. in 1879 in the Corps of Engineers after graduating from West Point and promoted through the grades to major. In 1890, he was appointed military attache to the U.S. Embassy in Berlin for two years followed by a similar posting in Rome, 1892-1894. In 1897, he was promoted to colonel and appointed Superintendent of Public Buildings and Grounds in Washington D.C. and Military Aide to President McKinley in charge of official ceremonies at the White House. This appointment continued through the Spanish American War until 1903 when he asked to be transferred to the army engineering district in Buffalo NY. In 1904, he was injured by a falling derrick and lost his left leg above the knee. He was brevetted brigadier general and retired 12 Jul 1904.®116: 1: 218

After recovering, Gen. Bingham became police commissioner in NYC, 1 Jan 1906. A statement he made concerning the relationship between crime and foreign-born Jews aroused a storm of indignation and led to the formation of a democratically organized Jewish community, Kehillah.®404 He resigned in 1909 to be appointed NYC chief engineer for highways and then consulting engineer for bridges until 1915 when he resigned.

During WW I, Gen. Bingham was recalled to active service in 1917 and assigned to supervision of military installations from NY to ME. He returned to retired life in 1919.®210: 1: 36

While in England in 1894, Theodore had studied the Bingham records in Sheffield. Returning to the U.S., he added to his own notes, the notes of William Weaver, Daniel Havens Bingham and Walter F. Bingham and produced the 1898 edition of The BIngham Family in the United States. Although the edition was far from complete, it made the material permanently available and stimulated further research. With the assistance of many others, General Bingham worked on the manuscript of the 1927-1930 edition.

CHILDREN OF GEORGE LEWIS (Jeremiah, Asa, Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)

1.1.1a.4.1a.1.1.1. Francis Orman BINGHAM (George Lewis, Jeremiah, Asa, Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 16 Dec 1816 NH or Ludlow, Hampden Co MA
Mar: 1 Mar 1848 Elizabeth BELL Otsego Co NY
Died: After 1906 Garrettsville, Otsego Co NY

On the 1850 U.S. census, Francis Orman, the oldest child of George Lewis and Polly Moffat, reported that he was born in NH in 1816, but he probably was born in Ludlow, Hampden Co MA. Since his next younger brother was born in NY in 1820 and his father appeared on the 1820 U.S. census for Otsego Co, Francis was undoubtedly in NY by 1820 when he was four years old. When he was thirty-one, in 1848, he married Elizabeth Bell and they lived on a farm near Otego, Otsego Co. Francis's youngest brother, Chester, lived with them in 1850.®92: 285 By 1860, Francis and Elizabeth had moved to New Lisbon, Otsego Co. They had no children, but Francis was alive in 1906, age ninety, and living in Garrettsville, Otsego County NY.

1.1.1a.4.1a.1.1.2. George Lewis BINGHAM Jr. (George Lewis, Jeremiah, Asa, Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 26 Apr 1820 Milford, Otsego Co NY
Mar: 22 Jan 1845 Hannah BURROUGHS
Died: 22 Jan 1891 Whitney's Point, Broome Co NY

At the age of twenty-four, George Lewis Jr. married Hannah J. Burroughs of Bainbridge, Chenango Co and they lived in Greene, Chenango Co where their three children were born between 1849 and 1856 and where George Lewis was enumerated on the 1850 U.S. census.®92: 330. In the last years of his life, George lived with his son, Albro Eugene, at Whitney's Point, Broome Co NY and died there on his forty-sixth wedding anniversary 22 Jan 1891.

1.1.1a.4.1a.1.1.3. Charles Hensey BINGHAM (George Lewis, Jeremiah, Asa, Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 8 Jun 1822 Milford, Otsego Co NY
Mar: about 1852 Angeline PROUTY
Died: May 1890 Plover, Portage Co WI

Charles Hensey was born 8 June 1822, perhaps in Milford, Otsego Co as his father was enumerated there on the 1820 U.S. census and he may not have lived in Greene until about 1833 when he was eleven. At the age of thirty, about 1852, he married Angeline Prouty. In 1860, they lived at New Lisbon, Otsego County.®83: 429 Charles Hensey died in May 1890 at Plover, Portage Co WI.

1.1.1a.4.1a.1.1.4. Edmond Allen BINGHAM (George Lewis, Jeremiah, Asa, Jeremiah, Thomas, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 6 Oct 1824 Milford, Otsego Co NY
Mar: Dec 1849 Emily McCULLOUGH Greene, Chenango Co NY
Died: 8 Jan 1866 Greene, Chenango Co NY

Edmond Allen was probably born at Milford, Otsego Co where his father was enumerated on the 1820 U.S. census. But by 1833, the family lived in Greene, Chenango Co where Edmond grew up. He married Emily McCullough in 1849 when he was twenty five and they lived with his parents for a few years until they moved to Port Crane, Broome Co about 1857.®92: 321; ®83, 643 Their first child died about one year of age and their fourth and last child died age four. Edmond died one year later age forty-two.

Died: 7 Jul 1952 Washington, D.C.; Bur: Arlington National Cemetery
Walter Van Dyke and his wife, Millicent Todd Bingham, were both noted academics whose prominence earned them places in Who Was Who in America. Walter was a psychologist mainly interested in personnel research. He studied at several American and European universities before earning his PhD from the University of Chicago in 1908. Millicent was a geographer who also studied at several universities and traveled widely with her astronomer father before earning her PhD from Radcliffe College in 1923. When they married in 1920, both age forty, Walter was on the faculty of Carnegie Institute of Technology in Pittsburgh. During WW I, Walter had served as Lt. Col. in the personnel branch of the general staff office, U.S. Army and during WW II he came back as chief psychologist, Adjutant General's Office. He continued as a consultant until his death age seventy-one. Walter was the author of several publications and was involved with several research ventures.
After she completed her PhD, Millicent lectured at many different universities and authored several books. Although a geographer, she perhaps was best known for her work on Emily Dickinson. She left her entire Dickinson collection to Amherst College and the family artifacts and archives to Yale University.

Died: 13 Mar 1981 Richmond VA; Bur: Forest Lawn Cemetery, Richmond VA®208: B8092

After attending the University of Richmond for a year, Lucien Warner ran the family farm in Cornwall VT until his father died in 1916. He then returned to VA and farmed until 1919 when he took a position with International Harvester. He worked in several different towns including Norfolk and Richmond. In 1936, he joined Sterett Operating Service and, in 1940, he bought the business from General Motors and changed its name to Bingham Truck Service, Inc. He retired to St. Petersburg FL in 1968, but returned to Richmond in 1973 after his wife died.®271: 18-20

1.1.9.9a.3.2a.4.1. Rollin Justin BINGHAM®AWB2 (Eugene W., Harris, Ira, Jeremiah, Joseph, Thomas, Thomas)
Born: 4 Feb 1870 West Cornwall, Addison Co VT
Died: 4 Sep 1907; Bur: Evergreen Cemetery, West Cornwall

Rollin was seven years old when his father, Eugene Webb, died. After Rollin's mother, Pauline Walker Bingham, inherited the Walker family home, she and her sons returned to West Cornwall VT from Troy NY where they had been living.®172: T765-13 Rollin did not prepare for college, but instead family tradition has it that he took his inheritance in a lump sum and went to Paris where he styled himself the Duke of Vermont and lived for a time in the classic manner of the Roaring Nineties. After he returned to the U.S., he spent at least part of his life in a sanitarium. He died age thirty-seven and was buried in the Walker family plot, Evergreen Cemetery, West Cornwall.

Died: 9 Jun 1928 NYC; Will: 1928/1929 Middlebury, Addison Co VT®263: 112

Arthur was only four years old and living in Troy NY when his father died. His mother moved her family back to West Cornwall VT a few years later and Arthur attended school in Middlebury. In 1892, he graduated from St Paul's in Concord NH.

His inheritance was just enough to put him through Yale College, 1896, and Columbia College of Physicians and Surgeons, 1900. He specialized in children's diseases and did his internship and residency training at Roosevelt Hospital while he taught physiology at Columbia. In 1913, he became a visiting physician to the Willard Parker Hospital and later, president of its medical board. While president, he reorganized the hospital to facilitate use of new techniques he had developed in treating contagious diseases. This resulted in a marked reduction in hospital mortality and brought him high praise from his associates and the public health community.

Arthur married the daughter of a Brooklyn manufacturer of office products, Jessie Duncan Boorum. Although they lived in NYC most of the time, they took an active interest in the family farm at West Cornwall. They raised apples, and experimented with peaches grafted on pear tree branches. After Arthur's death, Jessie lived increasingly on the farm. Her father's business, Boorum & Pease, passed into the control of the Bingham family.

Died: about 1945

Frederick was born in Troy NY the same year that his father, Eugene Webb, died. Frederick was raised by his mother, Pauline Walker Bingham, in West Cornwall VT, on the old Walker farm. He attended St. Paul's School, Concord NH, but was expelled just before graduation in 1895 for a boyish prank. He went on to Middlebury College, but did not graduate. He worked briefly for Boorum & Pease Company, Brooklyn NY, the company owned by the family of the wife of his older brother, Arthur Walker Bingham M.D., and for Buttrick Patterns. After he married, he moved to Philadelphia and started a printing and stationary business under the name of The Bingham Company. This company printed the three volume The Bingham Family in the United States, 1927-1930. Frederick sold the company, retaining a fifty percent interest and became general manager of Main Belting. Later, he worked for the N.W. Ayer advertising agency and through this association he became general manager of the C.E. Hires Company in Philadelphia in 1917 at the age of forty. Fred left Hires to return to Boorum & Pease as president and to rescue the company. He served for eighteen years. After a heart attack necessitated his retirement in 1937, he kept a private office on the floor below the new president.

George Hutchins graduated from Dartmouth College in 1887 and Harvard Law School in 1891. The same year he married and settled in Littleton, Grafton Co NH in partnership with his father, George Azro. After his father died, he moved to Manchester to practice with David A. Taggert. In 1902 he was appointed an associate justice of the NH state supreme court and served until 1913. His mother's father, Andrew Salter Woods had been a Chief Justice and his father had served two terms as a justice. In 1913, President Woodrow Wilson appointed him a judge on the U.S. First Circuit Court of Appeals and held that position until he retired in 1939. ®210: 5: 61®222: 62

Judge Bingham was a Trustee of the University of New Hampshire 1908-1917 and received an honorary L.L.D. degree from the University in 1922. George Hutchins was also president of the NH Bar Association 1934-1935. A portrait of George H. by first cousin Harry Bingham Ballou (son of Edith Cordilla 1.2.8a.1b.1.2a.7.), hangs in the Supreme Court building in Concord NH.®WPB ®222:

Died: 7 Jan 1919 Edmonton, Alberta (ALTA); Bur: Edmonton ALTA

After Sarah married, she and Arthur went to Wiarton, Bruce Co ONT where her brothers were in the newspaper business, but by 1891, Sarah and husband lived in Tara, Bruce Co.®299 Shortly after the census was taken, they left for western Canada and settled in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan (SASK). Arthur worked in some aspect of construction. The town had boomed with the building of the railroad, but business dropped after the railway crews disappeared. In 1895, Sarah and Arthur moved on to Strathcona ALTA across the river from Edmonton. Arthur was first a brick layer, but went into the general store business with two of his brothers. They were forced to close the store in 1923 due to a sharp depression. After working for others, he opened a small store on his own property.

Sarah's grandson, Thomas Arthur Richards®TAR, son of Frederick Arthur, is the author of the 1991 manuscript "Elisha Bingham 1796-1871 of Enfield N.H. USA Glanford, Ont. Canada, Ancestors & Descendants." He has contributed greatly to this volume.

Glenn Farnsworth was a career army officer. He graduated from high school in Northfield VT and Albany Business College, NY, then enlisted in the army in 1917 at the beginning of WW I. He served in France with the 101 Ammunition Train in major battles such as Belleau Woods, Chateau Thierry, and the Argonne Forest. Between the wars, he worked as aid to the Commandant of Norwich University, Northfield VT. During WW II, he was stationed at Camp Lee, Petersburg VA. After he retired, due to severe asthma, he worked for the state of Vermont as a training inspector, but resigned to care for wife, Marjorie, who had multiple sclerosis.

Origen spent his early childhood in the Indian Territory, returned there when an adult, and lived in Oklahoma the rest of his life. From 1877 to 1882, Origen lived at a stage coach relay station, but moved back to Coldwater MI where he went to school. After high school he took a business course at Cleary Business College, Ypsilanti MI where he met his future wife. Before marrying, he joined the MI Volunteers of 1898 in the Spanish American War and served as corporal in Company A, 32nd Regiment.
Three years later, Origen married Daisy Williams and they settled in Battle Creek MI, but in 1904 he and his family returned to the Indian Territory. He went into the plumbing business with A.M. Bock in Chickasha. Then, he managed the Chickasha Ice and Cold Storage Company for twenty years and, after that, the Chickasha Federal Savings and Loan Company for twelve years. Origen was also president of the chamber of commerce and the Lions Club. He retired in 1946 due to ill health.®349: Jul 5-9, 1948: 1

Judson was a career army officer who retired at the rank of Brigadier General in 1895. His career began in 1850 with his appointment to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point from the tenth congressional district in IN. Upon graduation, he was stationed in Pensacola FL where he married. His first serious expedition was to Harper's Ferry VA in 1859 to suppress John Brown's raid. At the outbreak of the Civil War he was promoted to captain and assigned to the quartermaster corp. In 1863. Gen. Grant appointed him chief quartermaster of the Army of the Tennessee. After the siege of Atlanta, Judson was stationed in St. Louis with Gen. Sherman and, thereafter, served in several different divisions. He received his rank of full colonel in 1883 when he became assistant quartermaster general. ®353: 56 ®210: I: 95 ®116: I: 218

Genevieve lived in Spokane and Walla Walla WA, and Portland OR with her parents. Shortly after marrying, Sidney, joined the army and fought on the front lines during WW I. Much later, he was hospitalized for a war related illness. After the war, they settled in Seattle. When WW II began, Genevieve went to work for Boeing Company as a clerk and stenographer and remained with them until she retired. In retirement, she researched her Bingham family line, thereby contributing greatly to this volume and stimulating the present compiler to study the family from an historical perspective.

Grace was a commercial artist. After graduating from high school in Portland OR, she attend Pratt Institute in NYC. While waiting table at the Waverly Inn, New York, she met Raymond Smith, also from OR. They married and had two children when the Great Depression struck. The only job she could find was for Shepherd's Dept Store in Providence RI. She supported the family for two years until her husband, a Ph.D. physicist, found employment in Trenton NJ. Later, he worked for the National Bureau of Standards in Washington D.C. and the family moved to Falls Church VA in 1940. Grace did not work outside of the home again until 1942 when she took a job with the Coast and Geodetic Survey drawing maps for bombing missions in WW II. At the end of the war, Grace found work drawing ads for Kanns, a large D.C. department store where she worked until she retired in 1958. In retirement, Grace became a fine artist and continued to paint mostly flowers in oil. She and Ray moved to Slanesville WV in 1971 where they had built a country house. A few years before she died, Grace moved to Frederick MD to be closer to her daughter.

When he retired in 1964, Marshall had worked for Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company for over forty years. He began as a repeaterman in Eugene OR in 1922, moving to Portland OR, and then Seattle WA.

Born in Spokane WA, he had moved to Portland OR with his parents in 1910. As soon as he was old enough, he took a job delivering western union messages after school. Tall for his age and not liking his studies, he lied about his age and enlisted in the army when he was sixteen, just in time to join the Army of Occupation after WW I. He learned telegraphy and was sent to Belgium and France and was also a radio operator on board a troop and supply ship that took him to the Pacific.

After he returned home and went to work in Eugene OR, he married, but his father had the marriage annulled. In 1928, after his father had become manager of the Tacoma business office of Pacific Bell, he introduced Marshall to his favorite employee, Frances Sprinkle. Frances had grown up in Tacoma where her father managed the Western Union office. She graduated from the University of Washington in 1927 and taught high school Latin in Shelton WA for a year before going to work for the Telephone Company. Their different educational backgrounds seemed to matter little. They married, had two children, and lived in Seattle where Marshall worked. During WW II, the telephone company assigned Marshall to setting up long line communications for the military and after the war promoted him to management as a plant supervisor, a high.position for someone who had not graduated from high school.

After Frances died from cancer in 1957, Marshall led a very different life. He married a fellow telephone company employee, Vivian Kaiser, and moved into a home overlooking Puget Sound. They traveled extensively while also developing acreage in Yelm, Thurston Co WA which she had inherited. Alas, after eighteen years of marvelous compatibility, Marshall lost his second wife to cancer.

Unable to live without a woman, Marshall, at age seventy-five, took a love boat cruise a few months later and found his "rich" widow, Elsie Armor of Santa Monica CA. They became traveling and part-time living companions while Marshall moved to Yelm to develop his own mobile home park. On the day he died, almost eighty-nine, he worked a full day, then sat down to rest in his recliner and went permanently to sleep. Emphysema, which he had successfully battled for years, had finally taken its toll.

Died: 28 Oct 1992 Cornell, Chippewa Co WI; Bur: Bruce, Rusk Co WI

After finishing the 8th grade, Leroy worked a number of jobs in the Dakotas, Iowa and Wisconsin. He settled into auto mechanics in the 1930s, but during WW II he worked as a millwright building tank landing craft and submarines at a Manitomoc WI shipyard. In the fall of 1943, he went to Canada to work on the ALCAN highway.

When the war was over, Leroy continued to do millwright work all over the Midwest, in soybean mills, sugar beet bins, installing automatic bowling pin setters, and in maintaining machinery in paper mills and power plants. When the taconite industry began on the Minnesota Iron Range, he was there to help install the equipment that extracts the refined ore and makes the pellets.

He retired in 1967 age sixty-six, but continued a small engine repair business at his home for twenty years more.

Frank was four years old when his parents divorced. His mother married second, within a year, a cousin of his father's and settled in Tomah, Monroe Co WI. In 1918, they moved to Exeland, Sawyer Co WI and Frank worked there until he was about twenty. He then enlisted in the Army and spent three years in the Philippines. Returning home, he worked in logging and road construction. In 1936, he visited his mother's relatives in SD and met Clara P. Wurnig whom he married. They lived in CO and several other western states where Frank worked in gold and copper mines, but returned to WI by May, 1938. When WW II began, Frank went to Europe with the 70th Infantry Division. After the war, he drove a semi trailer truck for Central Wisconsin Transport for twenty-eight years.®FB

Joseph Walter was an academic lawyer. Born in Indianapolis IN, he was the only child of Joseph West Bingham by his second wife, Achsah "Dollie" Brough. Joseph graduated from the University of Chicago in 1902 and remained to complete his J.D. degree in 1904. He practiced law in Chicago for two years and then took a position at Cornell University Law School where he met Florence Cornell. She had graduated from Cornell University in 1906 and was a graduate student at the time. They were married in 1907 and moved to Palo Alto CA where Joseph had accepted a position at Stanford Law School. By 1912, he was a full professor and remained on the faculty until he retired in 1944. He and Florence had one child, Rodman, born in 1918. Both Joseph and Florence were active in many organizations. Among others, Florence was national president of her sorority, Delta Gamma, from 1940 to 1947. Interested in educational affairs, she compiled and wrote several publications. Joseph published on topics such as water rights, fisheries law, and wills. Florence died first in 1963 age seventy-seven. Joseph lived to be ninety-five and died in 1973. Both are in Who Was Who in America.

Roy grew up on the family farm in Edinburg, Portage Co OH. After high school he attended Oberlin College for two years then, in 1918, trained to be a naval aviator. With WW I over, Roy became a home builder, but went out of business during the depression. His daughter, Mary Elizabeth, needed special care which he could not provide so he and his wife, Lois, a school teacher in Akron, divorced. She and Mary Elizabeth returned to her home in Carleton. Later, Roy sent his daughter to a special school so she could learn to care for herself.

Roy eventually moved to Cleveland and went to work for New York Life Insurance. He married Corabelle Williams in 1968, but they drifted apart. Ralph died of a heart attack age seventy-seven.

Died: 4 Jul 1981 Kent, Portage Co OH®208: B8091; Bur: Edinburg, Portage Co OH

As children, Leland and Clarissa lived on nearby farms in Edinburg, attended the same schools, and graduated from high school together in 1918. Leland graduated from Ohio State University in 1923 and bought his first registered guernsey cow the same year. He became a well-known guernsey breeder using the registered name "Edinham". His stock went to breeders and farmers throughout the United States and Canada.

During the 1920s and 1930s he rented a farm near the family farm and also worked on other farms. He and Clarissa married in 1933, but she continued to teach at Scarsdale NY and completed her master's degree at Columbia University before returning to OH. After living on a farm north of Ravenna for several years, they settled on a farm adjacent to Kent State University about 1950. Clarissa returned to teaching third grade and retired when she was seventy years old. Due to a heart condition and emphysema, Leland sold his milking herd in 1971, but continued to raise heifers.

Mar: 24 Mar 1934 Dorothy Faye NESTOR Atwater, Portage Co OH; Born: Atwater, Portage Co OH
Died: 29 Dec 1978 Edinburg, Portage Co OH; Bur: Edinburg, Portage Co OH

Stanley lived his entire life on the Bingham farm located one mile west of Edinburg and was the fourth generation Bingham to care for this farm. As a child he had tuberculosis of the spine, but was successfully treated and went on to graduate from Ohio State University in agricultural science. He married at the age of twenty-seven and he and his wife Dorothy started married life in the number 2 house on the Bingham Farm. Dorothy, herself, was an active farmer. Years later, in 1978, Stanley was killed in an oil tank explosion at a well drilling site on his farm. Dorothy remained on the farm with the assistance of daughter, Linda, and her husband.

Nelson Eldred was a major contributor to this volume as the compiler of the privately published, The History of the Family of Benjamin Bingham.®244 Eldred graduated from Ohio State University with a degree in soils chemistry and went to work teaching high school in Edinburg. Soon, he became principal of Paris Twp High School, then, Hiram High School. He also earned another degree in science education at Kent State before earning a master's degree in education at Columbia University. While he was principal at Hiram, he married Merna Elliman. In 1929, they moved to Clifton, NJ and Eldred's new job at New Jersey State Teacher's College, Montclair. Merna contracted scarlet fever in the hospital when her daughter was born, and died in 1932. Eldred took his baby daughter back to Hudson, OH to be raised by his wife's parents.

Eldred joined the staff at Columbia University Laboratory School and met Marjorie Heath, a fellow teacher and student at Columbia. They married in 1934 and had three daughters. After completing his PhD in science education in 1938, Eldred was on the faculty of several major universities before joining the University of Florida in Gainesville in 1950. His wife, Marjorie, also worked in science education. Together, they introduced many new practices and received many awards. Upon Eldred's retirement in 1971,his colleagues established the Bingham Environmental Education Foundation to provide an annual graduate stipend.

Died: 28 Jan 1967 San Juan, Puerto Rico®208: B8081; Bur: Evergreen Cemetery, West Cornwall, Addison Co VT

After graduating from St Paul's School, 1918, and Yale College, 1922, Arthur Walker Jr. joined the family business, Boorum & Pease Company, at that time run by his uncle Frederick Conant Bingham. He was elected a director in 1927 and secretary and treasurer a few years later. His home was in NYC. Although he came to control the company through the inheritance of a majority stock ownership, he continued to hold these modest titles and made the major policy decisions quietly.

As a college student, he spent summers on the Labrador coast working at a mission station established by Sir Wilfred Grenfell, the pioneering English doctor. Later, he became president of the Grenfell Association of America and, still later, of the International Grenfell Association. He presided over its philanthropic activities until its dissolution after WW II when the Canadian government took over social services in Labrador.

During WW I, he joined the U.S. Army reserve officers training unit at Yale and remained a member of Squadron A, a cavalry unit in NYC and played polo in the old armory. During WW II he served as a captain and company commander in the NY national guard.

His charitable interests included St Paul's School for which he served as a trustee and president of the alumni association, and St. James's church in NYC where he was a vestryman and senior warden.

An avid philatelist, he assembled a notable collection of United States and British colony stamps that took two days to auction after his death. His interest in stamps was reflected in his shared authorship of the book, The Postal History of Vermont.

When he died in 1967, he was the sole surviving officer of The Bingham Association, having been its treasurer since 1927.

Jessica was ill a great deal as a child and thereafter her mother tended to shelter her. She lived mostly at the family home in West Cornwall and entered into the life of this small town by serving the local Congregational Church, the Grange, and other organizations. She was known for her generosity and good works.

After her mother died when Jessica was forty-six, Jessica lived in a small home in Middlebury VT. She died in Middlebury, unmarried, age seventy.

Frederick Conant Jr. was called Conant within the family. He graduated the Hill School, Pottstown PA, 1930, and attended New York University until 1933. After a few years working on Wall Street, he invested, along with several of his father's friends, in a defunct gold mine in Kershaw SC that held promise of other minerals. Conant moved to Kershaw in the late 1930s, found a reliable source of mica in the mine and never returned to New York.

During WW II he enlisted in the army and served as a sergeant in an intelligence unit stationed in the Philippines.

After the war, he developed his mica business and worked at it for about twenty-five years before he sold and retired. He remembers bailing his workers out of jail on Saturday nights until he discovered they were the only ones arrested because their bail produced revenue for the local justice of the peace. In the late 1970s, he developed Alzheimer's disease and was hospitalized near Philadelphia where he died.

Lloyd Arthur was an electrical engineer with degrees from Northeastern University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. After retiring from the University of Colorado, he completed a family genealogy which corrected a major error in the 1927-1930 version of The Bingham Family in the United States. He sent this information to the Bingham Association in 1970 and it has been incorporated into this volume.

Mar (1): about 1965 Gretchen Edith SPRECKELS; Divorced about 1968

Mar (2): Jul 1984 Francoise BLESSEAU; Born: 1961 France

The youngest child of Alfred M. and Sylvia Knox Bingham, Stephen graduated from Yale University and entered law school at the University of California, Berkeley. But after one year he dropped out and joined the Peace Corps with his new wife, Gretchen Spreckels. The couple spent two years in Sierra Leone, West Africa. Not long after their return, they divorced and Stephen returned to law school.

He took up the cause of farm workers and Black civil rights. One of his clients was James Carr an ex-convict involved with George Jackson, the Black revolutionary. Jackson was serving time in San Quentin Prison for a murder committed in Soledad Prison. On behalf of the Carr case, Stephen visited Jackson in prison several times. The last visit took place less than an hour before Jackson attempted escape in which he, another convict and three guards were killed. As Jackson's last visitor, Stephen was thought to be responsible for smuggling Jackson the gun which he used. Fearing that he could not get a fair trial, Stephen fled. ®325: 24 Aug 1971, Wallace Turner

With false identity and without a word to anyone, he made his way to Europe. For three years, he lived on the run before he settled in Paris in 1974 and employed himself painting the interiors of apartments. He enrolled in film school in Paris and joined a group of political activists who made documentaries pleading the cause of small farmers. A fellow student, Francoise Blesseau, became his confidant and they decided that he should attempt to clear his name. Accompanied by his lawyers, he turned himself in at the Marin Co CA jail in August, 1984, thirteen years after beginning his life as a fugitive.

Stephen was held eight days until his lawyers raised $400,000 bail. His father, Alfred Mitchell, contributed $200,000. The trial lasted two and a half months, but after five days of deliberation, the jury voted 12-0 to acquit Stephen.®326: 20 Jan 1986

Stephen returned to the practice of law and in 1990 he, his wife Francoise, and his daughter lived in Oakland CA.®291

In 1933, he received his B.S. from Norwich University, Northfield VT and was commissioned Second Lieutenant, U.S. Cavalry Reserve. He moved to Miami FL, 1935-1937, where his grandparents lived, and in 1936-1937 attended flight school at the Pensacola Naval Air Station, but had a flying deficiency so he became an administrative officer at several civilian conservation corps camps in LS. In 1940, he was placed on full reserve status and sent to Randolph and Kelly Air Force bases near San Antonio TX. In 1946, he rejoined the retired reserve as a colonel.
Everett then began his teaching career, first in distributive education at Littlefield High School, Littlefield TX and then in dance. In 1953, he established his own Bingham Dance Center in Midland TX.
Everett has been an active Bingham researcher and contributed to this volume. See ®345

1.10a.2b.2.2a.1b.3.3a.1. Donna Grace BINGHAM (Marshall L., Fred, Joseph L., Citizen J., Johnson, Gideon, Joseph, Thomas)
Born: 26 Jul 1933 Seattle, King Co WA
Mar: 20 Jul 1957 Bryce Leon MUNGER (Leon Cooley MUNGER, Lina Inman EATON) Seattle WA; Born: 20 May 1933 Everett WA

Donna grew up in Seattle, King Co Washington where she graduated from Ballard High School and the University of Washington with a B.A. and M.A. in history, 1955, and 1956. She began her teaching career at Pleasant Hill High School, Concord CA, 1956/57. After marrying a Washington University in St. Louis medical student, she continued her teaching in St. Louis, MO, 1957/58, then Baltimore MD, 1958/59 while her husband interned at Johns Hopkins. They moved to Silver Spring MD in 1959 and Donna began PhD studies in the history and philosophy of science at the University of Maryland while her husband served his two years in the Air Force. In 1961, they returned to St. Louis and a faculty position at Washington University Medical School for husband Bryce. Donna became archivist for the medical school library, commenced her PhD studies once again, and published articles about the history of the medical school. She returned to high school teaching in 1962, but secured a position at the new community college in 1963.

In 1965, they moved to Chicago where Bryce had taken a position at the University of Chicago, but, in a little over a year, they moved to Hershey PA where Bryce became the first Chairman of Anatomy at Hershey Medical Center, the newly established medical faculty and teaching hospital of Penn State University. For the third time, Donna returned to PhD studies, this time at Penn State.

About 1975, her aunt Genevieve Bingham McPherson (1.10a.2b.2.2a.1b.3.1.), sent her an undocumented list of Bingham ancestors. Desirous of ascertaining the accuracy of the list, Donna applied her historical techniques to learning genealogy by studying the Bingham family. Along the way, she rediscovered the Susquehanna Land Company Account Books and the large role that Binghams played in that venture. This precipitated her interest in the study of Pennsylvania history and prepared her for a position as historian with the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission commencing in 1982. She established a statewide internship program for university students and directed the National History Day program for high school students while studying land records and doing genealogy. In 1986, she was appointed chief of the division of land records which led to her writing and publishing the first and only book about the history and use of Pennsylvania land records: Pennsylvania Land Records: A History and Guide to Research. She frequently speaks at local and national historical and genealogical meetings.

In 1991, Donna transferred to the Pennsylvania Dept of Education and served as history advisor for two years before retiring from state employment in 1993. Taking advantage of an early retirement option, her husband also retired after twenty-five years with Penn

State. Combining extensive foreign travel with research and writing, the time and circumstances were opportune for Donna to computerize the Bingham family archives, her Bingham research, and the contributions of many other Bingham researchers and prepare a new, corrected, and updated version of the 1927-1930 family history.

Born: 9 Jul 1928 Exeland, Sawyer Co WI
Mar: 22 Jan 1949 Mary Helen SCOTT (Robert, Helen SCOTT) Muscoda, Grant Co WI; Born: 4 Nov 1927 Frederick, Polk Co WI

As the oldest brother, Clarence seemed to grow up as the man of the family since his father worked away from home most of the time. In particular, Clarence remembered helping his mother with huge gardens. When he was eight, the family moved to Ladysmith and when he was old enough, Clarence began his work experience at the local hardware store and the Wisconsin Conservation Department.

Clarence attended the University of Wisconsin and was in the Marine Corp, and in 1949 went to work for the U.S. Customs Service. Thus began a thirty-one year tour of the U.S. as he worked in Pembina ND, 1949-60; Duluth MN, 1961-70; Annadale VA, 1971-72; Arlington Heights IL, 1973-76; Kingwood TX, 1976-77; Danville CA, 1978-90. In 1990, he and wife, "Scottie," retired and settled in Stayton OR. They are contributors to this volume.

Mar (1): 16 May 1941 Betty Jane FERGUSON (Prentiss FERGUSON, Mae MOORE) Edinburg, Portage Co OH; Born: 30 Jan 1918 Lakewood, Cuyahoga Co OH; Died: 23 Nov 1959 Lancaster, Lancaster Co PA; Bur: Edinburg, Portage Co OH
Mar (2): 6 Aug 1960 Mary Jane SONES REESE (Raymond A. SONES, Florence BEST) Lancaster, Lancaster Co PA; Born: 23 Mar 1922 Williamsport, Lycoming Co PA; Mar (1): Frederick REESE

Howard attended college in the late 1930s, but in 1947 completed his graduate program at Ohio State University in agricultural engineering. In the meantime, he had married Betty Jane Ferguson, a graduate of Kent State University, and they had had two children. Howard went to work for Penn State University in their farm extension program and worked with county agents for five years. During this time they had two more children. He then switched to distributor and later product manager for New Holland Machine Company and settled in Lancaster PA. With four children in the family ages six to sixteen, wife Betty died in 1959.

Howard married, second, in 1960 Mary Jane Sones Reese. She had two sons then ages eight and twelve from her previous marriage. Howard and Jane adopted each other's children. Howard took a job with Ford Tractor and they moved to Bloomfield Hills, Oakland Co MI. Jane earned a PhD in 1979 from Michigan State University in social studies education and has worked in many professional capacities. In 1995, they were retired and living in Leesburg FL. Claude contributed to this volume (see CHdB).

Arthur Walker, the third in his line to carry that name, was the only son of Arthur Walker and Mary Dunwody. Born in New York City, he graduated St. Paul's School, 1947, Harvard College, 1951, and Harvard Law School, 1958.
The Korean war broke out during his undergraduate days at Harvard and he joined the U.S. Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps at Harvard. He served principally as communications officer in the Atlantic Fleet during his three years of obligated duty. He returned to law school, then joined the Wall Street firm of Milbank Tweed Hadley & McCloy. His specialization was corporation law with major emphasis in securities work, mergers, and acquisitions.
While with the firm, Walker worked for Nelson Rockefeller, a major client, on the legal aspects of Rockefeller's three tries for the Republican nomination for President. This included attendance at the inner workings of three national conventions.
After ten years on Wall Street, Walker moved to Abex Corporation, a large diversified manufacturer in heavy industry, as general attorney. Abex was a successful and profitable company producing automobile, railroad. and aerospace products, but nevertheless fell prey to technical obsolescence and severe foreign competition. Walker left the company and ceased the practice of law in 1986 when it merged with a corporation headquartered in Boston.
At the same time, Walker underwent similar problems with Boorum & Pease. He had become secretary in 1967 when his father died and chairman of the board in 1974. He oversaw acquisitions and modernization, but technological advances in record keeping meant extensive changes were needed. He sold the company, advantageously, in 1985 to a Swedish conglomerate, Esselte-Pendaflex.
After retirement, Walker served as Master of Holland Lodge, F. & A. M., and compiled its history in a published form. He also served as a commander of Knights Templar and earned the thirty-second degree Scottish Rite. As his father, he was a vestryman at St. James Church, New York City.
Over the years, Walker created a small museum of quack remedies and 19th century apothecaryana in an old building on the West Cornwall farm which he inherited. This led to research and acquisition of the advertising materials used to sell these products and the publication, in 1994, of an illustrated book on the subject entitled The Snake-Oil Syndrome.®323
